SHUTDOWN OF U. S. SEAPORTS LOOMS TODAY

May's Report Is Inadequate, Probers State

New Statement Rejected; Lawmaker Is Again Asked To Testify

APPEARANCE MAY BE DELAYED BY ELECTION

Truman Turns Down Mead's Proposal That Adm. King Be Called

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The Senate War Investigating Committee late today rejected as "not satisfactory" a new statement by Rep. May (D-Ky.) on his association with the Garsson munitions combine.

It asked May to return to Washington to testify.

May had offered to do that later, when his physician permits, or to let a subcommittee question him at his home at Prestonsburg, Ky., where he is recuperating from a heart ailment. In an accompanying statement he repeated he made no profits from his association with the combine.

Chairman Mead (D-NY), of the investigating committee, wrote the congressman in reply:

"This unsworn statement does not give adequate information concerning your activities in connection with the war contract operations of Henry M. Garsson and his associates and is not satisfactory to the committee.

Election May Delay Appearance

"It would, therefore, be appreciated if you, or your physician, would promptly advise me when it may be expected that your physical condition will be such as to allow you to appear and testify before the committee in Washington."

May's appearance may be delayed until after the November election, regardless of his health, because of Mead's possible resignation as chairman and a resultant reorganization of the committee.

May's new offer to testify came in a letter delivered by his attorneys as the Mead committee figured in these other developments:

1. President Truman virtually turned thumbs down Mead's proposal that Adm. Ernest J. King, wartime navy chieftain, appear before the committee to disclose why the joint chiefs of staff ordered completion of the controversial Canol pipeline project which the committee criticized. The President told his news conference it is a dead horse now and there is no point in King's testifying.

Garsson Companies Cleared

2. The War Department made public a report blaming defective fuses, and not the 4.2-inch mortar shells which one of the Garsson companies and other firms manufactured, for accidents in which 38 soldiers were killed and 127 injured during the war. The report thus cleared the Garsson companies, which did not make any of the fuses.

Mead told a reporter on a recent visit here that in event of his nomination for governor he intended to call the committee together to consider a new chairman.

Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) in Paris at the peace conference, is the only Democrat among committee members not now making an active campaign for re-election. Committee aides said that because of this it is unlikely any major hearings can be attempted before the November election.

Inquest To Be Reopened

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Coroner A. L. Brodie said he would reopen an inquest tomorrow into the death of James M. Ragen, 66, racing news magnate, whose body was removed today from its cemetery vault to determine the cause of his death.

Special Congressional Session Not Necessary, President Truman Says

CHEAP ATOM POWER?—Vice president of a machinery company in Buffalo, N. Y., F. Alden Miller has offered to demonstrate to scientists a device which he says will produce inexpensive atomic power. He is shown as he prepares to boil a pot of cofee with it. His company has applied for a patent on the rectifier which produces combustible gas from a commercial type of atomic C uranium. It will not explode.

Chief Executive Endorses New York State Democratic Ticket

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Demands of labor and other groups for a special session of Congress to act further on price control and housing were virtually rejected today by President Truman.

The Chief Executive told his news conference that there is no emergency which warrants a special session and that he has no thought of calling one.

Moreover, he remarked, the congressmen are entitled to campaign up to election day without interruption.

Mr. Truman himself had raised the prospect of a special session originally. Upon signing the new price control act in July, he told Congress he would summon one if anti - inflation curbs proved inadequate.

No Announcements

Mr. Truman had no announcements for his first news conference since his 18-day vacation and the session moved to questions and answers on these topics:

Politics—The President endorsed the New York state Democratic ticket of Sen. James M. Mead for governor and former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for Senator, saying it suits him all right and he thinks it will win in November. He had nothing to say about any plans to take the stump in New York or elsewhere.

Mead Committee—In connection with the controversy between Mead as chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee and Adm. Ernest J. King, former chief of naval operations, over the Canol pipeline project in Canada, and Mead's plan to invite King to testify at a public hearing, Mr. Truman was asked: Is it not a rule that no member of the joint chiefs of staffs may disclose what takes place in its sessions without presidential approval. Mr. Truman's reply was that the Canol project is a dead horse—it was completely investigated and disposed of by the senate committee when Mr. Truman was its chairman. "Then there is no point in King's testifying now?" he was asked. None at all, he answered.

The Palestine Question

Palestine—The Chief Executive said he still is trying to get the British to admit 100,000 European Jews.

Labor—The AFL maritime strike is in the hands of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and has not been put up to the President. If it comes to him, he will act.

Taxes—The President acknowledged that he was mistaken entirely in a comment on a proposal of Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), of the House Ways and Means Committee, for an income tax reduction next year. Mr. Truman had told an off-the-record session with reporters that Knutson, during a White House call, had been unable to specify how this might be done. Subsequently the Republican National Committee issued a statement from Knutson denying that he ever had discussed the matter with Mr. Truman. The latter acknowledged the mistake, remarked that the President makes them the same as anybody else, but said he still had not heard how taxes could be reduced.

Airliner Crash Takes 21 Lives; Baby Is Spared

Ship Plows Into Low Hill Two Miles West Of Elko, Nev., Airport

ELKO, Nev., Sept. 5 (AP)—A westbound Trans-Luxury airliner from New York crashed to earth in hilly Northeastern Nevada country during thick fog today, killing 21 persons and sparing one passenger, a blue-eyed blond boy of two.

The youngster, Peter Link, Brooklyn, N. Y., was found sitting on the ground, crying dazedly, about 100 feet from the wrecked plane, ripped apart when it plowed into a low hill two miles west of the Elko airport.

Other passengers' bodies were described as "terribly mangled," but the boy apparently escaped with only slight injuries of the chest and arm.

17 Bodies Taken To Elko

The bodies of three women and a baby boy about six months old were among 17 brought to Elko. Newspapermen counted four other bodies in the smashed nose of the plane.

The baby apparently was a brother of the surviving boy. Their parents, Paul Edward Link, of the United States Navy, and Ann Link, were among the identified dead.

Airline officials said the pilot was Kenneth Campbell, Bottineau, N. D., the co-pilot, Harry Leatherman, of Florida, and the stewardess, Marjorie Cox, San Francisco.

Fire swept the front section of the plane and smoke still wreathed from the wreckage hours after the crash, which occurred about 2 a. m., Pacific Standard Time.

The plane was due to land at San Francisco at 3:45 a. m., PST, after leaving New York yesterday morning.

Bodies Are Mangled

Chris H. Sheerin, Elko newspaper editor, said the plane crashed into a 250-foot sagebrush-covered hill about three fourths of a mile north of United States Highway 40.

"The plane's momentum was enough to send it sliding about 200 feet up the face of the hill and out

Wedemeyer To Head Second Army With Headquarters At Baltimore

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Appointment of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer as commander of the Second Army with headquarters at Baltimore was announced today by the War Department.

Wedemeyer, former wartime commander of the China theater, succeeds Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson, who is awaiting retirement.

Maj. Gen. Matton S. Eddy will continue as deputy army commander.

Wedemeyer was the youngest United State wartime theater commander. He has been on duty at the War Department since his return from China earlier this year. A native of Omaha, Neb., he is a 1918 graduate of West Point.

Gen. Simpson, who led the victorious Ninth Army into Germany, has been under hospital treatment. His home is Fort Worth, Tex.

Gen. Wedemeyer's latest overseas assignment before his transfer to the War Department was as commander of the Nanking headquar-

U. N. Atom Group Reaches Accord

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP) — Complete agreement by all 12 members of the Scientific and Technical Committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission on a report on scientific aspects of atomic safeguards was reported authoritatively today.

It was said to be the first time since the atomic energy question had come before the United Nations commission that such unanimous agreement had been achieved.

The same 12 nations which hold seats on the commission are represented on the scientific committee —the 11 members of the Security Council plus Canada.

While the details of the report were not divulged pending its publication, possibly next week, it was said that the scientists commented at length on safeguards necessary to harness atomic energy but made no recommendations. The report was described as a "doctor's diagnosis" rather than a prescription for atomic control.

The report explains the processes of atomic energy and tells where in these processes diversion can take place for military purposes unless safeguards are applied. It does not advocate any safeguards, merely telling where they can be placed, if desired, and where they would be easier or harder to apply.

"Miss Atlanta" Favored To Win Beauty Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 5. (AP)—Dark-blonde, green-eyed Janey Miller, representing Atlanta, Ga., won the talent contest tonight in her quest for the 1946 "Miss America" title.

The victory, together with her tie for the lead when she appeared last night in a bathing suit, made her a favorite to win the beauty crown. She is to appear in an evening gown tomorrow night.

Molotov Goes Back To Paris Peace Parley

Reds Support Trieste Pact Because Of "Political Consideration"

PARIS, Sept. 5 (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov returned late today to the European peace conference a few hours after his deputy, Andrei Vishinsky, had declared that Russia was supporting the Big Four agreement to internationalize Trieste only because of "political consideration."

Vishinsky, who asked the conference to "reject emphatically" all Italian claims to the Istrian peninsula and the strategic Adriatic port city, was not at the opening of the afternoon session, and it was believed he might be conferring with Molotov.

Molotov Stops In Berlin

The Soviet Embassy said that Molotov on his return from conferences in the Kremlin stopped in Berlin to meet with Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor of Germany. Speculation arose that the Foreign Ministers Council might be preparing to discuss the German situation.

Meanwhile, the Political and Territorial Commission for Romania voted 10 to 2 to uphold the Big Four decision to award Transylvania to Romania, dispelling hopes that Hungary's plea for 1,544 square miles of the area on the western border of Hungary would be heeded.

Australian Delegate F. K. Officer called upon the Big Four to justify the decision to give all of Transylvania to Romania while thousands of Hungarian nationals remained in the area. Soviet Delegate Alexander Bogomolov replied that the sole question was to nullify the Hitler award at Vienna which gave Transylvania to Hungary.

"Minimum Of Justice"

Vishinsky, appearing before the Italian Political and Territorial Commission, made it plain that Russia would support the Big Four agreement to create a free territory of Trieste but he added:

"Yugoslavia has an unquestionable right to the port and town of Trieste. The decision of the foreign ministers contains a minimum of justice. In our opinion it should contain a maximum of justice.

"But sometimes it is not possible to have a maximum of justice in dealing with political considerations. Sometimes when we are dealing with politics two and two don't make four — sometimes they add up to five."

Associated Press Editor Is Beaten

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 5. (AP)—Paul H. Gocke, an editor in the Annapolis Bureau of the Associated Press, was found in a semi-conscious condition in a dimly-lit street tonight and hospitalized for treatment of serious injuries resulting from what police termed "a severe beating" after being robbed.

Gocke's wallet and watch were missing.

Patrolman J. W. Moreland reported he was proceeding on College avenue in a cruise car when he was stopped by two sailors who told him that they had found a man lying on the pavement.

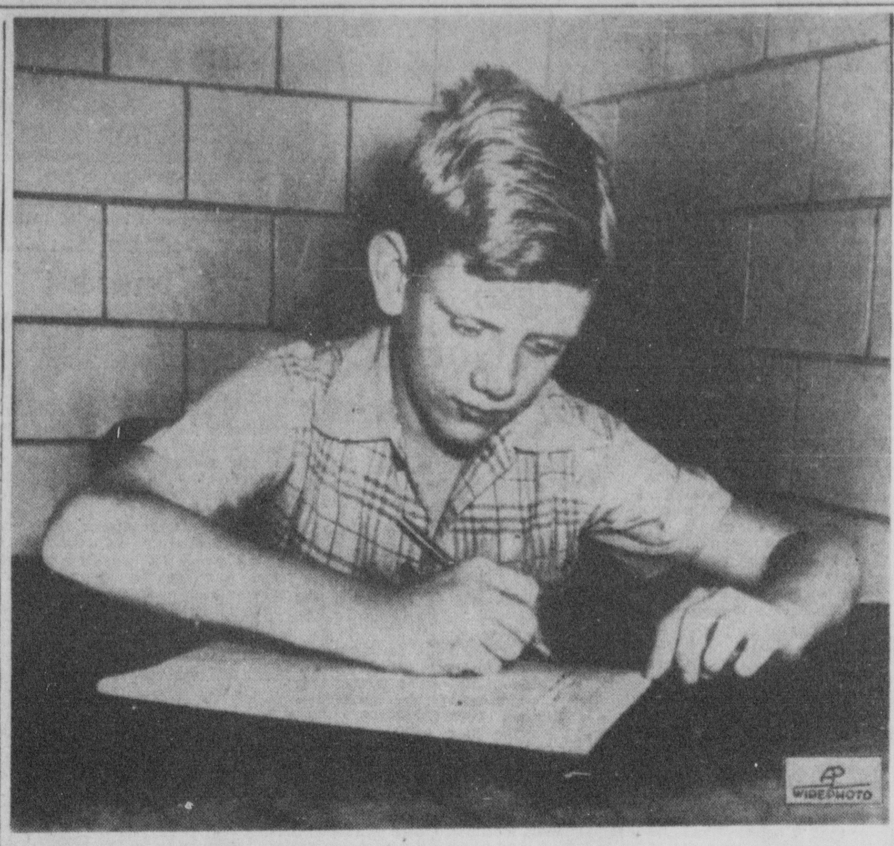

They told the policeman, Moreland said, that as they approached the victim, another man, in a sailor's uniform, ran away.

Yugoslavia Frees Three U. S. Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Relations between the United States and Yugoslavia eased another notch today with the disclosure that three American army sergeants stranded in the American Embassy in Belgrade will be permitted to leave unmolested.

A State Department spokesman said Yugoslav authorities have granted the Americans permission to leave. The sergeants have been given the freedom of the city, he reported, and presumably will get visas soon enabling them to leave the country.

The trio had remained under protective custody of the embassy for nearly seven months to avoid possible arrest by Yugoslav officials on charges of complicity in the shooting of a Russian soldier.

LONESOME—Charles Hazlett, Jr., 13, held in Erie county jail at Buffalo, N. Y., since his arrest August 28 on a first degree murder charge which followed discovery of a playmate's skeleton in a Pittsburgh, Pa., cellar, in his first letter to his parents in Pittsburgh, wrote: "I am very lonesome without you."

Va. Democrats Pick Robertson For Senate Race

Congressman Is Nominated To Succeed Late Sen. Carter Glass

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 5 (AP) — Rep. A. Willis Robertson, of the Seventh District, tonight won the Virginia state Democratic convention nomination to succeed the late United States Sen. Carter Glass.

The nomination came on the third ballot after former Gov. Colgate W. Darden, Jr., Norfolk, withdrew after leading in the first ballot, and after a general shift of votes, especially those of the Ninth District, swung into the Robertson column, upon completion of the roll call.

Before the actual count was tabulated, Rep. Howard W. Smith, of the Eighth District, who ran second to Darden in the first ballot, came to the stage to move "cheerfully" that the convention cast a unanimous vote for Robertson.

"A man who cannot drink the dregs of defeat," he said, should not have the right to drink the "elixir of victory." Rep. Smith said the convention had been conducted "without friction and without animosity."

Smith's motion to make the nomination unanimous was seconded by each of the other candidates, and the nomination then was acclaimed unanimously.

Voting in the second ballot—without the name of Darden—swung heavily to the two congressmen Robertson received 358 and Smith 318.

C. S. Carter, Bristol banker, was third with 181; State Sen. Morton G. Goode, Dinwiddie, and State Conservation Commission Chairman William A. Wright were separated by only one vote—Goode 103 and Wright 102. Harvey B. Apperson, of the State Corporation Commission, received 64 votes.

Sawmill Operator Stabbed To Death

SHARPTOWN, Md., Sept. 5 (AP)—State's Attorney Rex A. Taylor, of Wicomico county, reported that Hobart Rogers, about 50, a sawmill operator, was stabbed to death tonight with an Army bayonet and that a 25-year-old war veteran was taken into custody in connection with the case.

Taylor said the stabbing took place in a Sharptown service station and that Rogers died about 15 minutes later from a wound in the left side, about five inches below the armpit.

Heirens Wins Gamble To Escape Death Chair

German And Allied Leaders Will Hear Byrnes' Speech Today

STUTTGART, Germany, Sept. 5. (AP)—Hundreds of German and Allied leaders converged tonight on this German seat of culture and industry to hear the speech tomorrow by United States Secretary of State James T. Byrnes on the American policy toward occupied Germany.

German leaders hailed the visit as momentous. One said he hoped the Secretary would "clear the air" on the Allied policy for the future of German local government.

The State Department made elaborate arrangements to transmit Byrnes' message throughout the world. Copies of the speech were prepared for simultaneous release in Germany, France, New York and Washington.

Judge Imposes Consecutive Life Sentences In Three Murders

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 (AP)—William Heirens, a mild-mannered student whose perverted sex desires made him the most savage killer in the city's history, won his gamble today to escape the death chair for his crimes.

On recommendation of the state, Chief Justice Harold G. Ward sentenced him to a series of consecutive terms which will assure his serving a minimum of 61 years in the Illinois State Penitentiary for the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan, the fatal stabbing of two women and more than a score of robberies, burglaries and assaults.

The 17-year-old youth with the Jekyll-Hyde personality stood before Judge Ward with bowed head after sentence was passed and murmured in a low voice:

"I want to express to the court my deepest sorrow for what I have done . . ." His voice trailed off.

State Lacked Evidence

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy, in making the recommendation, told the court the state did not possess sufficient evidence to assure Heiren's conviction in the murder of the two women and had only a fragment of a fingerprint and a handwriting comparison in the Degnan case.

Judge Ward, who was not necessarily bound to follow the state's recommendations, made no comment before passing sentence.

He imposed consecutive life sentences in the three murder cases—each of which requires 20 years being served before the defendant becomes eligible for parole. These assure a minimum of 60 years imprisonment. Judge Ward also imposed concurrent sentences of one to 20 years or one year to life in 26 cases of robbery, burglary and assault. The latter sentences, however, were made to run consecutive to the life sentencs and added the minimum of another year before the possibility of parole.

Mother Faints

As Heirens was sentenced, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heirens, jumped to their feet in the back of the courtroom. His mother, Margaret, then slumped back in a faint and was caught and revived by spectators.

The youth, however, seemed unperturbed and sat calmly in criminal court as the presentation of

Britain Attacks Soviet Ukraine's Complaint To U. N.

Cadogan Strikes Twice At Moscow In Denouncing Accusations

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 5. (AP)—Great Britain today denounced the Soviet Ukraine's complaint to the United Nations Security Council against Greece and the United Kingdom as "unbridled propaganda" in a six-hour meeting climaxed by a decision to go into secret session at 3 p. m. E. D. T. tomorrow in New York.

The next public hearing of the Ukraine case was set for 3 p. m. Monday.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, said the "Ukraine has failed entirely to make a case" and added that if the council was used to air such complaints it would be brought "into disrepute and the purpose of the Charter of the United Nations will be defeated."

Strikes Twice At Moscow

Taking the floor for the first time since the complaint was filed, Cadogan twice struck at Moscow in assailing the charges.

"Conditions in Greece would be better than they are if it were not for Communist pressure and propaganda inside her territory and along her borders," he said, and then added:

"While Greece is exposed to incessant attacks from the press and radio of her northern neighbors and from Moscow and while former enemy states are encouraged to make baseless claims for Greek territory, Greece cannot enjoy freedom from fear."

Cadogan said he would not claim that the situation in Greece was perfect and tranquil "by Soviet standards or even by British democratic standards."

He contended however, that "conditions in Greece are not nearly in such a sorry plight as in certain other European countries whose situations have not as yet been investigated by this council."

Unprecedented Question Arises

Meanwhile the United Nations announced that Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar, of India, president of the

Picket Lines To Be Formed This Morning

SPOILAGE OF TONS OF FOOD THREATENS

90,000 Members Of AFL Unions Quit Ships; Rail Embargo Begins

[By The Associated Press]

The threat of spoilage of thousands of tons of perishable foodstuffs, indefinite delay of relief shipments to the world's needy and a blow to American industry descended last night (Thursday) on the nation's waterfronts, numbed by the greatest maritime strike in history.

Union leaders claimed a half million workers were aligned in the couse of AFL seamen—including the rival CIO National Maritime Union—to protect a Wage Stabilization Board order denying AFL sailors the full wage increase won in recent contract negotiations.

AFL leaders said more than 90,000 members of the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific already had quit their ships on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

Another 400,000 workers, including dock employes, tugboat operators and CIO seaman, declared they would honor picket lines to be formed at 7 a. m. today (EDT).

On the West Coast, where the walkout began a day early, picketing, too, started prematurely. CIO seamen as well as AFL workers quit their jobs.

Personal Plea To AFL Boss

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach last night dispatched an assistant, Philip Hannah, to San Francisco to make a personal plea to Harry Lundeberg, West Coast AFL boss, to call off the strike.

Should Hannah, an Ohio AFL official, fail in his mission Schwellenbach said he would urge Lundeberg to go to Washington for a conference—possibly with President Truman.

In New York last night, 3,500 strikers unanimously adopted a resolution demanding that the WSB "unconditionally reverve its anti-union decision to nullify the seamen's wage increases obtained by negotiations."

The strike, which went into full swing at noon yesterday, brought immediate repercussions.

Most railroads shipments to coastal ports were embargoed in an effort to prevent congestion and spoilage of perishables.

Three passenger ships in New York harbor cancelled sailings, leaving nearly 2,000 travelers stranded.

"We are going to tie up everything that floats, including the Queen Mary if she is here tomorrow," Max Korenblatt, SIU strike committee chairman, told a mass meeting of strikers last night.

The mammoth ocean liner, however, slid out of her berth and headed for England at 6:31 p. m. (EDT) with 1,015 passengers.

600 Ships Reported Tied Up

Of 334 ships in New York harbor, 14 were being loaded with relief supplies for UNRRA. Many vessels had refrigerator loads and perishable foods.

Adm. W. W. Smith, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, dispatched a telegram to John Hawk, vice president of the Seafarers International Union, and to Lundeberg stressing the "potential loss" in failure to keep in operation machinery "necessary to prevent the spoilage of thousands of tons of perishable foodstuffs now stored on the ships."

Union leaders already had served notice that troopships and relief cargoes, as well as all commercial vessels would be tied up in the strike.

Meanwhile various sources, mostly union, reported more than 600 vessels tied up at United States ports.

Local SIU-SUP leaders said the figure included 300 to 400 ships and

Mighty U.S. Carrier Reaches Athens; Plans For Giant Air Show Cancelled

ATHENS, Sept. 5 (AP)—The mighty aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived in Greece today with escorting vessels from a United States naval task force, but plans to send 120 airplanes to write "FDR" into the skies over Athens suddenly were cancelled.

The warships arrived as the Press Ministry announced that King George II had accepted the resignation of Archbishop Damaskinos prior to his imminent return to the Greek throne, in accord with the outcome of Sunday's plebiscite.

Thousands of Greeks watched as the Franklin D. Roosevelt anchored outside Piraeus harbor.

Plans had been announced for sending the carrier's planes over the city in a giant air show.

But an informant aboard the vessel said the show was called off after the American Embassy in Athens had sent word that any martial display would be ill advised at this time.

The Communist newspaper Rizospastis declared it viewed the visit with "exasperated bitterness," and said it was by "an irony of history that the huge carrier visits Greece bearing the name of Roosevelt, a great liberal idealist."

Meanwhile Acting Foreign Minister Stephanos Stephanopoulos supported a statement in London by Premier Constantin Tsaldaris that flying rockets had been seen in Northern Greece. He said Greek divisional commanders and British officers had seen them both east and west of Salonika.

He said that rockets, estimated to be flying at a height of 5,000 to 10,000 yards, had been seen specifically at Drama, 120 miles northeast of Salonika, and just below the Bulgarian border. He added that an investigation was under way.

May's Report Is Inadequate, Probers State

New Statement Rejected; Lawmaker Is Again Asked To Testify

Truman Turns Down Mead's Proposal That Adm. King Be Called

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The Senate War Investigating Committee late today rejected as "not satisfactory" a new statement by Rep. May (D-Ky.) on his association with the Garsson munitions combine.

It asked May to return to Washington to testify.

May had offered to do that later, when his physician permits, or to let a subcommittee question him at his home at Prestonsburg, Ky., where he is recuperating from a heart ailment. In an accompanying statement he repeated he made no profits from his association with the combine.

Chairman Mead (D-NY), of the investigating committee, wrote the congressman in reply:

"This unsworn statement does not give adequate information concerning your activities in connection with the war contract operations of Henry M. Garsson and his associates and is not satisfactory to the committee.

Election May Delay Appearance

"It would, therefore, be appreciated if you, or your physician, would promptly advise me when it may be expected that your physical condition will be such as to allow you to appear and testify before the committee in Washington."

May's appearance may be delayed until after the November election, regardless of his health, because of Mead's possible resignation as chairman and a resultant reorganization of the committee.

May's new offer to testify came in a letter delivered by his attorneys as the Mead committee figured in these other developments:

1. President Truman virtually turned thumbs down Mead's proposal that Adm. Ernest J. King, wartime navy chieftain, appear before the committee to disclose why the joint chiefs of staff ordered completion of the controversial Canol pipeline project which the committee criticized. The President told his news conference it is a dead horse now and there is no point in King's testifying.

Garsson Companies Cleared

2. The War Department made public a report blaming defective fuses, and not the 4.2-inch mortar shells which one of the Garsson companies and other firms manufactured, for accidents in which 38 soldiers were killed and 127 injured during the war. The report thus cleared the Garsson companies, which did not make any of the fuses.

Mead told a reporter on a recent visit here that in event of his nomination for governor he intended to call the committee together to consider a new chairman.

Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) in Paris at the peace conference, is the only Democrat among committee members not now making an active campaign for re-election. Committee aides said that because of this it is unlikely any major hearings can be attempted before the November election.

Inquest To Be Reopened

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Coroner A. L. Brodie said he would reopen an inquest tomorrow into the death of James M. Ragen, 66, racing news magnate, whose body was removed today from its cemetery vault to determine the cause of his death.

Chief Executive Endorses New York State Democratic Ticket

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Demands of labor and other groups for a special session of Congress to act further on price control and housing were virtually rejected today by President Truman.

The Chief Executive told his news conference that there is no emergency which warrants a special session and that he has no thought of calling one.

Moreover, he remarked, the congressmen are entitled to campaign up to election day without interruption.

Mr. Truman himself had raised the prospect of a special session originally. Upon signing the new price control act in July, he told Congress he would summon one if anti - inflation curbs proved inadequate.

No Announcements

Mr. Truman had no announcements for his first news conference since his 18-day vacation and the session moved to questions and answers on these topics:

Politics—The President endorsed the New York state Democratic ticket of Sen. James M. Mead for governor and former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for Senator, saying it suits him all right and he thinks it will win in November. He had nothing to say about any plans to take the stump in New York or elsewhere.

Mead Committee—In connection with the controversy between Mead as chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee and Adm. Ernest J. King, former chief of naval operations, over the Canol pipeline project in Canada, and Mead's plan to invite King to testify at a public hearing, Mr. Truman was asked: Is it not a rule that no member of the joint chiefs of staffs may disclose what takes place in its sessions without presidential approval, Mr. Truman's reply was that the Canol project is a dead horse—it was completely investigated and disposed of by the senate committee when Mr. Truman was its chairman. "Then there is no point in King's testifying now?" he was asked. None at all, he answered.

Palestine—The Chief Executive said he still is trying to get the British to admit 100,000 European Jews.

Labor—The AFL maritime strike is in the hands of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and has not been put up to the President. If it comes to him, he will act.

Taxes—The President acknowledged that he was mistaken entirely in a comment on a proposal of Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), of the House Ways and Means Committee, for an income tax reduction next year. Mr. Truman had told an off-the-record session with reporters that Knutson, during a White House call, had been unable to specify how this might be done. Subsequently the Republican National Committee issued a statement from Knutson denying that he ever had discussed the matter with Mr. Truman. The latter acknowledged the mistake, remarked that the President makes them the same as anybody else, but said he still had not heard how taxes could be reduced.

Airliner Crash Takes 21 Lives; Baby Is Spared

Ship Plows Into Low Hill Two Miles West Of Elko, Nev., Airport

ELKO, Nev., Sept. 5 (AP)—A westbound Trans-Luxury airliner from New York crashed to earth in hilly Northeastern Nevada country during thick fog today, killing 21 persons and sparing one passenger, a blue-eyed blond boy of two.

The youngster, Peter Link, Brooklyn, N. Y., was found sitting on the ground, crying dazedly, about 100 feet from the wrecked plane, ripped apart when it plowed into a low hill two miles west of the Elko airport.

Other passengers' bodies were described as "terribly mangled," but the boy apparently escaped with only slight injuries of the chest and arm.

17 Bodies Taken To Elko

The bodies of three women and a baby boy about six months old were among 17 brought to Elko. Newspapermen counted four other bodies in the smashed nose of the plane.

The baby apparently was a brother of the surviving boy. Their parents, Paul Edward Link, of the United States Navy, and Ann Link, were among the identified dead.

Airline officials said the pilot was Kenneth Campbell, Bottineau, N. D., the co-pilot, Harry Leatherman, of Florida, and the stewardess, Marjorie Cox, San Francisco.

Fire swept the front section of the plane and smoke still wreathed from the wreckage hours after the crash, which occurred about 2 a. m., Pacific Standard Time.

The plane was due to land at San Francisco at 3:45 a. m., PST, after leaving New York yesterday morning.

Bodies Are Mangled

Chris H. Sheerin, Elko newspaper editor, said the plane crashed into a 250-foot sagebrush-covered hill about three fourths of a mile north of United States Highway 40.

"The plane's momentum was enough to send it sliding about 200 feet up the face of the hill and out

U. N. Atom Group Reaches Accord

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP) — Complete agreement by all 12 members of the Scientific and Technical Committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission on a report on scientific aspects of atomic safeguards was reported authoritatively today.

It was said to be the first time since the atomic energy question had come before the United Nations commission that such unanimous agreement had been achieved.

The same 12 nations which hold seats on the commission are represented on the scientific committee—the 11 members of the Security Council plus Canada.

While the details of the report were not divulged pending its publication, possibly next week, it was said that the scientists commented at length on safeguards necessary to harness atomic energy but made no recommendations. The report was described as a "doctor's diagnosis" rather than a prescription for atomic control.

The report explains the processes of atomic energy and tells where in these processes diversion can take place for military purposes unless safeguards are applied. It does not advocate any safeguards, merely telling where they can be placed, if desired, and where they would be easier or harder to apply.

"Miss Atlanta" Favored To Win Beauty Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 5 (AP)—Dark-blonde, green-eyed Janey Miller, representing Atlanta, Ga., won the talent contest tonight in her quest for the 1946 "Miss America" title.

The victory, together with her tie for the lead when she appeared last night in a bathing suit, made her a favorite to win the beauty crown. She is to appear in an evening gown tomorrow night.

Molotov Goes Back To Paris Peace Parley

Reds Support Trieste Pact Because Of "Political Consideration"

PARIS, Sept. 5 (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov returned late today to the European peace conference a few hours after his deputy, Andrei Vishinsky, had declared that Russia was supporting the Big Four agreement to internationalize Trieste only because of "political consideration."

Vishinsky, who asked the conference to "reject emphatically" all Italian claims to the Istrian peninsula and the strategic Adriatic port city, was not at the opening of the afternoon session, and it was believed he might be conferring with Molotov.

Molotov Stops In Berlin

The Soviet Embassy said that Molotov on his return from conferences in the Kremlin stopped in Berlin to meet with Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor of Germany. Speculation arose that the Foreign Ministers Council might be preparing to discuss the German situation.

Meanwhile, the Political and Territorial Commission for Romania voted 10 to 2 to uphold the Big Four decision to award Transylvania to Romania, dispelling hopes that Hungary's plea for 1,544 square miles of the area on the western border of Hungary would be heeded.

Australian Delegate F. K. Officer called upon the Big Four to justify the decision to give all of Transylvania to Romania while thousands of Hungarian nationals remained in the area. Soviet Delegate Alexander Bogomolov replied that the sole question was to nullify the Hitler award at Vienna which gave Transylvania to Hungary.

"Minimum Of Justice"

Vishinsky, appearing before the Italian Political and Territorial Commission, made it plain that Russia would support the Big Four agreement to create a free territory of Trieste but he added:

"Yugoslavia has an unquestionable right to the port and town of Trieste. The decision of the foreign ministers contains a minimum of justice. In our opinion it should contain a maximum of justice.

"But sometimes it is not possible to have a maximum of justice in dealing with political considerations. Sometimes when we are dealing with politics two and two don't make four — sometimes they add up to five."

Associated Press Editor Is Beaten

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 5. (AP)—Paul H. Gocke, an editor in the Annapolis Bureau of the Associated Press, was found in a semi-conscious condition in a dimly-lit street tonight and hospitalized for treatment of serious injuries resulting from what police termed "a severe beating" after being robbed.

Gocke's wallet and watch were missing.

Patrolman J. W. Moreland reported he was proceeding on College avenue in a cruise car when he was stopped by two sailors who told him that they had found a man lying on the pavement.

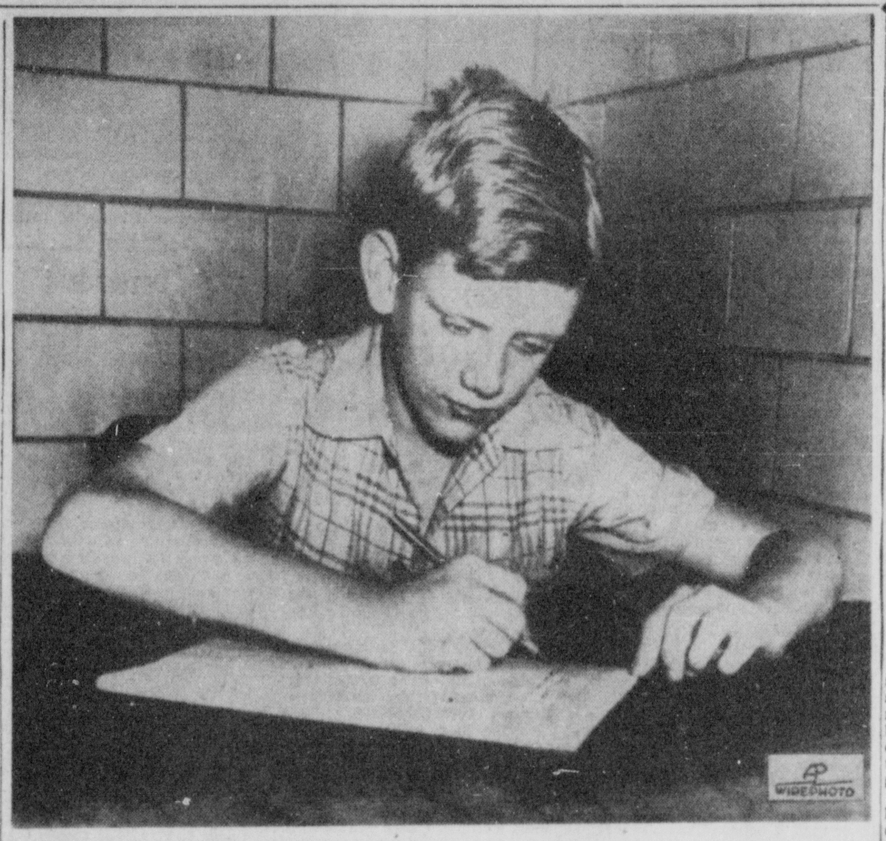

They told the policeman, Moreland said, that as they approached the victim, another man, in a sailor's uniform, ran away.

Yugoslavia Frees Three U. S. Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Relations between the United States and Yugoslavia eased another notch today with the disclosure that three American army sergeants stranded in the American Embassy in Belgrade will be permitted to leave unmolested.

A State Department spokesman said Yugoslav authorities have granted the Americans permission to leave. The sergeants have been given the freedom of the city, he reported, and presumably will get visas soon enabling them to leave the country.

The trio had remained under protective custody of the embassy for nearly seven months to avoid possible arrest by Yugoslav officials on charges of complicity in the shooting of a Russian soldier.

LONESOME—Charles Hazlett, Jr., 13, held in Erie county jail at Buffalo, N. Y., since his arrest August 28 on a first degree murder charge which followed discovery of a playmate's skeleton in a Pittsburgh, Pa., cellar, in his first letter to his parents in Pittsburgh, wrote: "I am very lonesome without you."

Va. Democrats Pick Robertson For Senate Race

Congressman Is Nominated To Succeed Late Sen. Carter Glass

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 5 (AP) — Rep. A. Willis Robertson, of the Seventh District, tonight won the Virginia state Democratic convention nomination to succeed the late United States Sen. Carter Glass.

The nomination came on the third ballot after former Gov. Colgate W. Darden, Jr., Norfolk, withdrew after leading in the first ballot, and after a general shift of votes, especially those of the Ninth District, swung into the Robertson column, upon completion of the roll call.

Before the actual count was tabulated, Rep. Howard W. Smith, of the Eighth District, who ran second to Darden in the first ballot, came to the stage to move "cheerfully" that the convention cast a unanimous vote for Robertson.

"A man who cannot drink the dregs of defeat," he said, should not have the right to drink the "elixir of victory." Rep. Smith said the convention had been conducted "without friction and without animosity."

Smith's motion to make the nomination unanimous was seconded by each of the other candidates, and the nomination then was acclaimed unanimously.

Voting in the second ballot—without the name of Darden—swung heavily to the two congressmen. Robertson received 358 and Smith 318.

C. S. Carter, Bristol banker, was third with 181; State Sen. Morton G. Goode, Dinwiddie, and State Conservation Commission Chairman William A. Wright were separated by only one vote—Goode 103 and Wright 102. Harvey B. Apperson, of the State Corporation Commission, received 64 votes.

Sawmill Operator Stabbed To Death

SHARPTOWN, Md., Sept. 5 (AP)—State's Attorney Rex A. Taylor, of Wicomico county, reported that Hobart Rogers, about 50, a sawmill operator, was stabbed to death tonight with an Army bayonet and that a 25-year-old war veteran was taken into custody in connection with the case.

Taylor said the stabbing took place in a Sharptown service station and that Rogers died about 15 minutes later from a wound in the left side, about five inches below the armpit.

Heirens Wins Gamble To Escape Death Chair

German And Allied Leaders Will Hear Byrnes' Speech Today

STUTTGART, Germany, Sept. 5. (AP)—Hundreds of German and Allied leaders converged tonight on this German seat of culture and industry to hear the speech tomorrow by United States Secretary of State James T. Byrnes on the American policy toward occupied Germany.

German leaders hailed the visit as momentous. One said he hoped the Secretary would "clear the air" on the Allied policy for the future of German local government.

The State Department made elaborate arrangements to transmit Byrnes' message throughout the world. Copies of the speech were prepared for simultaneous release in Germany, France, New York and Washington.

Judge Imposes Consecutive Life Sentences In Three Murders

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 (AP)—William Heirens, a mild-mannered student whose perverted sex desires made him the most savage killer in the city's history, won his gamble today to escape the death chair for his crimes.

On recommendation of the state, Chief Justice Harold G. Ward sentenced him to a series of consecutive terms which will assure his serving a minimum of 61 years in the Illinois State Penitentiary for the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan, the fatal stabbing of two women and more than a score of robberies, burglaries and assaults.

The 17-year-old youth with the Jekyll-Hyde personality stood before Judge Ward with bowed head after sentence was passed and murmured in a low voice:

"I want to express to the court my deepest sorrow for what I have done . . ." His voice trailed off.

State Lacked Evidence

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy, in making the recommendation, told the court the state did not possess sufficient evidence to assure Heiren's conviction in the murder of the two women and had only a fragment of a fingerprint and a handwriting comparison in the Degnan case.

Judge Ward, who was not necessarily bound to follow the state's recommendations, made no comment before passing sentence.

He imposed consecutive life sentences in the three murder cases—each of which requires 20 years being served before the defendant becomes eligible for parole. These assure a minimum of 60 years imprisonment. Judge Ward also imposed concurrent sentences of one to 20 years or one year to life in 26 cases of robbery, burglary and assault. The latter sentences, however, were made to run consecutive to the life sentencs and added the minimum of another year before the possibility of parole.

Mother Faints

As Heirens was sentenced, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heirens, jumped to their feet in the back of the courtroom. His mother, Margaret, then slumped back in a faint and was caught and revived by spectators.

The youth, however, seemed unperturbed and sat calmly in criminal court as the presentation of

Britain Attacks Soviet Ukraine's Complaint To U. N.

Cadogan Strikes Twice At Moscow In Denouncing Accusations

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 5. (AP)—Great Britain today denounced the Soviet Ukraine's complaint to the United Nations Security Council against Greece and the United Kingdom as "unbridled propaganda" in a six-hour meeting climaxed by a decision to go into secret session at 3 p. m. E. D. T. tomorrow in New York.

The next public hearing of the Ukraine case was set for 3 p. m. Monday.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, said the "Ukraine has failed entirely to make a case" and added that if the council was used to air such complaints it would be brought "into disrepute and the purpose of the Charter of the United Nations will be defeated."

Strikes Twice At Moscow

Taking the floor for the first time since the complaint was filed, Cadogan twice struck at Moscow in assailing the charges.

"Conditions in Greece would be better than they are if it were not for Communist pressure and propaganda inside her territory and along her borders," he said, and then added:

"While Greece is exposed to incessant attacks from the press and radio of her northern neighbors and from Moscow and while former enemy states are encouraged to make baseless claims for Greek territory, Greece cannot enjoy freedom from fear."

Cadogan said he would not claim that the situation in Greece was perfect and tranquil "by Soviet standards or even by British democratic standards."

He contended however, that "conditions in Greece are not nearly in such a sorry plight as in certain other European countries whose situations have not as yet been investigated by this council."

Unprecedented Question Arises

90,000 Members Of AFL Unions Quit Ships; Rail Embargo Begins

[By The Associated Press]

The threat of spoilage of thousands of tons of perishable foodstuffs, indefinite delay of relief shipments to the world's needy and a blow to American industry descended last night (Thursday) on the nation's waterfronts, numbed by the greatest maritime strike in history.

Union leaders claimed a half million workers were aligned in the couse of AFL seamen—including the rival CIO National Maritime Union—to protect a Wage Stabilization Board order denying AFL sailors the full wage increase won in recent contract negotiations.

AFL leaders said more than 90,000 members of the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific already had quit their ships on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

Another 400,000 workers, including dock employes, tugboat operators and CIO seaman, declared they would honor picket lines to be formed at 7 a. m. today (EDT).

On the West Coast, where the walkout began a day early, picketing, too, started prematurely. CIO seamen as well as AFL workers quit their jobs.

Personal Plea To AFL Boss

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach last night dispatched an assistant, Philip Hannah, to San Francisco to make a personal plea to Harry Lundeberg, West Coast AFL boss, to call off the strike.

Should Hannah, an Ohio AFL official, fail in his mission Schwellenbach said he would urge Lundeberg to go to Washington for a conference—possibly with President Truman.

In New York last night, 3,500 strikers unanimously adopted a resolution demanding that the WSB "unconditionally reverve its anti-union decision to nullify the seamen's wage increases obtained by negotiations."

The strike, which went into full swing at noon yesterday, brought immediate repercussions.

Most railroads shipments to coastal ports were embargoed in an effort to prevent congestion and spoilage of perishables.

Three passenger ships in New York harbor cancelled sailings, leaving nearly 2,000 travelers stranded.

"We are going to tie up everything that floats, including the Queen Mary if she is here tomorrow," Max Korenblatt, SIU strike committee chairman, told a mass meeting of strikers last night.

The mammoth ocean liner, however, slid out of her berth and headed for England at 6:31 p. m. (EDT) with 1,015 passengers.

600 Ships Reported Tied Up

Of 334 ships in New York harbor, 14 were being loaded with relief supplies for UNRRA. Many vessels had refrigerator loads and perishable foods.

Adm. W. W. Smith, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, dispatched a telegram to John Hawk, vice president of the Seafarers International Union, and to Lundeberg stressing the "potential loss" in failure to keep in operation machinery "necessary to prevent the spoilage of thousands of tons of perishable foodstuffs now stored on the ships."

Union leaders already had served notice that troopships and relief cargoes, as well as all commercial vessels would be tied up in the strike.

Meanwhile various sources, mostly union, reported more than 600 vessels tied up at United States ports.

Mighty U.S. Carrier Reaches Athens; Plans For Giant Air Show Cancelled

ATHENS, Sept. 5 (AP)—The mighty aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived in Greece today with escorting vessels from a United States naval task force, but plans to send 120 airplanes to write "FDR" into the skies over Athens suddenly were cancelled.

The warships arrived as the Press Ministry announced that King George II had accepted the resignation of Archbishop Damaskinos prior to his imminent return to the Greek throne, in accord with the outcome of Sunday's plebiscite.

Thousands of Greeks watched as the Franklin D. Roosevelt anchored outside Piraeus harbor.

Plans had been announced for sending the carrier's planes over the city in a giant air show.

But an informant aboard the vessel said the show was called off after the American Embassy in Athens had sent word that any martial display would be ill advised at this time.

The Communist newspaper Rizospastis declared it viewed the visit with "exasperated bitterness," and said it was by "an irony of history that the huge carrier visits Greece bearing the name of Roosevelt, a great liberal idealist."

Meanwhile Acting Foreign Minister Stephanos Stephanopoulos supported a statement in London by Premier Constantin Tsaldaris that flying rockets had been seen in Northern Greece. He said Greek divisional commanders and British officers had seen them both east and west of Salonika.

He said that rockets, estimated to be flying at a height of 8,000 to 10,000 yards, had been seen specifically at Drama, 120 miles northeast of Salonika, and just below the Bulgarian border. He added that an investigation was under way.

Savage Fighting Flares in Bombay; Death Toll Rises

200 Killed Since Sunday; Ten Persons Are Slain in Calcutta

BOMBAY, Sept. 5 (AP)—Savage Hindu-Moslem battles flared again in Bombay today, boosting the officially - announced casualty toll since Sunday to 200 killed and 600 injured, including six men and a woman massacred with knives in a mob attack on a shrine.

In Calcutta, stabbings and beatings claimed 10 victims, while three persons were killed by police who fired into a crowd of railway workers at Trichinopoly, in Southern Madras.

A communique said 14 persons were killed and 78 injured today in Bombay. (Reuters said a later announcement gave the day's toll as 27 killed and 88 injured.)

An official announcement said 200 persons had been killed and 600 hurt in communal rioting since Sunday. Police and troops fired at crowds several times today.

Police said the six men and the woman were slain when a mob of 300 persons raided a shrine and set it afire. Another woman was seriously injured, and a year-old child was reported missing.

The railway workers at Trichinopoly stoned the police station in protest against the arrest of a labor union leader. They dispersed after the police opened fire.

In Calcutta, where more than 2,000 persons died in mid-August rioting between Moslems and Hindus, two persons were killed and at least eight wounded by stabbings. Transportation was virtually halted after a bus driver and conductor were stabbed early in the morning.

The government declared it would impose a 24 hour curfew if necessary in trouble areas of Bombay. The information director's office said "a certain degree of panic prevails in some sections," but tension had eased in others.

Markey Sets Up His Campaign Headquarters

BALTIMORE, Sept. 5 (AP) — D. John Markey, Republican candidate for United States senator, set up campaign headquarters here today, voicing "complete assurance of a great victory for the entire Republican ticket in November."

This confidence he attributed to "the widespread, almost universal desire for a change in the national aspect of our government."

Charles S. Jackson, former president of the Federal Land Bank and a director of the Savings Bank of Baltimore, is headquarters treasurer., and of Col. William C. Purnell, former commander of the 175th regiment, is his Baltimore headquarters manager.

"Our campaign now begins in earnest," Markey said, "and I appeal for the support of all who feel that the time has come for a change in our national government."

Heirens, himself, told reporters later that "I believe I received a fair trial and my lawyers did right in having me plead guilty. x x x I felt all along that I would get the death penalty up to the very minute the judge pronounced sentence."

Asked about the mythical "George Murman," whom psychiatrists have described as his alter-ego, the youth said "George is still with me. x x x I still think George exists and I would like the doctors to help me get this fellow out of my head."

Sugar Prices AreGoingUp, OPA Reports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Sugar prices are going up, officials said tonight, as OPA raised or removed price ceilings on a list of other items.

Ceilings will have to be increased on sugar and many products made from it because of higher prices that must be paid to Cuba, a reporter was told by spokesmen for the OPA and the Commodity Credit Corporation.

They declined to forecast how much the increase would be. But if it goes up one cent a pound, they reported, it would raise the bill for consumers about $80,000,000 a year.

OPA increased ceilings on redwood lumber, white and Norway pine lumber imported from Canada, all domestic and imported woodpulp, and Venetian blinds.

It yanked ceilings from low-priced lipstick, toothpaste, face powder and cream and a long list of cosmetics providing the prices go no higher than 25 cents an item.

Price lids also were removed from wheat and rice starches used largely by commercial laundries and textile mills, syrups made from wheat and rice and used by baking, confectionery and other industries as a sugar substitute, and wheat gluten sold for pharmaceutical use.

Price ceilings also were suspended on tire reliners made from new and scrap materials, tire patches and boots made from scrap materials, and tire values.

LaFayette Descendant Says Old Law Gives Him State Citizenship

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 5 (AP)—Gov. O'Conor said today he had received a letter from a self-styled descendant of the Marquis De La Fayette seeking to avail himself of a 1784 law granting Maryland citizenship to the famed Frenchman's male heirs.

Viscount Albert Augier De Moussac, in the nation on a non-immigration visa, told the Governor his time was running short and he needed assistance soon.

His letter said, "As a direct descendant of Maj. Gen. Marquis De LaFayette, I often heard of the kind dispositions of the laws of the State of Marylander our eligibility to citizenship of this state. I am enclosing herein a photostatic copy of my genealogical tree as established in Paris x x x The Marquis De LaFayette having had no children, I happen to be his next of kin."

He said a 1787 edition of the Book of Maryland Laws declared that November 1, 1784, "the General Assembly made Maj. Gen. Marquis De LaFayette and his male heirs for all time citizens of the State of Maryland."

Mayor's Suicide Blamed On Drive Against Gambling

Chamber Of Commerce Official At New Albany, Ind., Is Stabbed

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Sept. 5 (AP)—An anti-gambling drive in New Albany, across the Ohio river from Louisville, Ky., was blamed for the suicide of the city's mayor and the stabbing of a Chamber of Commerce official today.

Mayor Raymond L. Jaegers, 41, was found shot to death at his desk about 45 minutes after he arrived at his office and Coroner F. T. Tyler returned a suicide verdict. Police Chief Ben Wolfe said one shot from a .38 caliber pistol had entered Jaeger's head near the right ear.

A short time later Dudley Jewell, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was stabbed by a man who entered his office. A man who gave his name as James Stocksdale was taken into custody on a charge of malicious cutting. Jewell was taken to a hospital with deep facial wounds and his condition was described as critical.

Mayor Jeagers had been the center of a drive against gambling in recent weeks. After the New Albany Better Government Committee had complained to Jaegers the mayor issued an ultimatum to Wolfe to halt all forms of gambling in the city or the entire police force would be dismissed.

Jewell was a member of the Better Government Committee. Wolfe said Jewell told him that the man who stabbed him with a knife had told him he came to "get him" for his part in the anti-gambling drive.

Friends said Mayor Jaegers had had a nervous breakdown a month ago after the crusade began. He had been ill the last week but returned to his office Tuesday.

"I have had enough to worry the heart out of any man," the police chief said Jaegers told him in the presence of the Better Government Committee "Slot machines in clubhouses, bingo parties and punch boards, and games of chance in private homes must be stopped."

Two Gls Captured After Forcing Girl To Drive Them From Texas To Virginia

FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 5 (AP) — An attractive 18-year-old Texas blonde who called on Farmville police for protection against two soldiers she said forced her to drive them at gunpoint from Sulphur Springs, Texas, to Virginia was held as a material witness today against a pair of youthful servicemen whom state troopers caught after a wild chase near Richmond.

The girl, Ruth Teague, Sulphur Springs, apparently none the worse for her experiences, had regained her composure as she awaited questioning by FBI agents at the jail.

"I was scared to death yesterday, though," she admitted.

Meanwhile, in Richmond, a hearing for the soldiers was continued to September 10 after police said they wished to make further investigations and await the arrival of detainers from Texarkana. The soldiers were listed as Frank Valentine Famular, 20, Jersey City, N. J., and Clarence F. Kummert, 19, Pittsburgh. The men were charged with armed holdup, theft of an automobile, and kidnaping of four persons in Richmond.

Their capture came last night on United States Route 1 near Richmond a few hours after Miss Teague had driven to Farmville. She reported she had escaped in the car when the men got out at a filling station.

Her account was that she, another girl, and a man picked up the hitchhiking soldiers near Sulphur Springs and drove them as far as Texarkana, Tex., where they refused to get out. She said the men hit the driver of the car over the head with the butt of a gun and forced both the driver and the other girl to get out of the automobile, then making her drive the car out of the state at the point of a gun.

State troopers caught the two after they had thumbed a ride in Richmond with another party of four, forced two of the party out of the car and made one of the two drive them out on the Washington road. One of the troopers shot out a tire of the fleeing car.

Savage Fighting Flares in Bombay; Death Toll Rises

200 Killed Since Sunday; Ten Persons Are Slain in Calcutta

BOMBAY, Sept. 5 (AP) — Savage Hindu-Moslem battles flared again in Bombay today, boosting the officially - announced casualty toll since Sunday to 200 killed and 600 injured, including six men and a woman massacred with knives in a mob attack on a shrine.

In Calcutta, stabbings and beatings claimed 10 victims, while three persons were killed by police who fired into a crowd of railway workers at Trichinopoly, in Southern Madras.

A communique said 14 persons were killed and 78 injured today in Bombay. (Reuters said a later announcement gave the day's toll as 27 killed and 83 injured.)

An official announcement said 200 persons had been killed and 600 hurt in communal rioting since Sunday. Police and troops fired at crowds several times today.

Police said the six men and the woman were slain when a mob of 300 persons raided a shrine and set it afire. Another woman was seriously injured, and a year-old child was reported missing.

The railway workers at Trichinopoly stoned the police station in protest against the arrest of a labor union leader. They dispersed after the police opened fire.

In Calcutta, where more than 2,000 persons died in mid-August rioting between Moslems and Hindus, two persons were killed and at least eight wounded by stabbings. Transportation was virtually halted after a bus driver and conductor were stabbed early in the morning.

The government declared it would impose a 24 hour curfew if necessary in trouble areas of Bombay. The information director's office said "a certain degree of panic prevails in some sections," but tension had eased in others.

Heirens, himself, told reporters later that "I believe I received a fair trial and my lawyers did right in having me plead guilty. x x x I felt all along that I would get the death penalty up to the very minute the judge pronounced sentence."

Asked about the mythical "George Murman," whom psychiatrists have described as his alter-ego, the youth said "George is still with me. x x x I still think George exists and I would like the doctors to help me get this fellow out of my head."

Sugar Prices AreGoingUp, OPA Reports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Sugar prices are going up, officials said tonight, as OPA raised or removed price ceilings on a list of other items.

Ceilings will have to be increased on sugar and many products made from it because of higher prices that must be paid to Cuba, a reporter was told by spokesmen for the OPA and the Commodity Credit Corporation.

They declined to forecast how much the increase would be. But if it goes up one cent a pound, they reported, it would raise the bill for consumers about $80,000,000 a year.

OPA increased ceilings on redwood lumber, white and Norway pine lumber imported from Canada, all domestic and imported woodpulp, and Venetian blinds.

It yanked ceilings from low-priced lipstick, toothpaste, face powder and cream and a long list of cosmetics providing the prices go no higher than 25 cents an item.

Price lids also were removed from wheat and rice starches used largely by commercial laundries and textile mills, syrups made from wheat and rice and used by baking, confectionery and other industries as a sugar substitute, and wheat gluten sold for pharmaceutical use.

Price ceilings also were suspended on tire reliners made from new and scrap materials, tire patches and boots made from scrap materials, and tire values.

LaFayette Descendant Says Old Law Gives Him State Citizenship

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 5 (AP)—Gov. O'Conor said today he had received a letter from a self-styled descendant of the Marquis De La Fayette seeking to avail himself of a 1784 law granting Maryland citizenship to the famed Frenchman's male heirs.

Viscount Albert Augier De Moussac, in the nation on a non-immigration visa, told the Governor his time was running short and he needed assistance soon.

His letter said, "As a direct descendant of Maj. Gen. Marquis De LaFayette, I often heard of the kind dispositions of the laws of the State of Marylander our eligibility to citizenship of this state. I am enclosing herein a photostatic copy of my genealogical tree as established in Paris x x x The Marquis De LaFayette having had no children, I happen to be his next of kin."

He said a 1787 edition of the Book of Maryland Laws declared that November 1, 1784, "the General Assembly made Maj. Gen. Marquis De LaFayette and his male heirs for all time citizens of the State of Maryland."

Mayor's Suicide Blamed On Drive Against Gambling

Chamber Of Commerce Official At New Albany, Ind., Is Stabbed

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Sept. 5 (AP)—An anti-gambling drive in New Albany, across the Ohio river from Louisville, Ky., was blamed for the suicide of the city's mayor and the stabbing of a Chamber of Commerce official today.

Mayor Raymond L. Jaegers, 41, was found shot to death at his desk about 45 minutes after he arrived at his office and Coroner F. T. Tyler returned a suicide verdict. Police Chief Ben Wolfe said one shot from a .38 caliber pistol had entered Jaeger's head near the right ear.

A short time later Dudley Jewell, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was stabbed by a man who entered his office. A man who gave his name as James Stocksdale was taken into custody on a charge of malicious cutting. Jewell was taken to a hospital with deep facial wounds and his condition was described as critical.

Mayor Jeagers had been the center of a drive against gambling in recent weeks. After the New Albany Better Government Committee had complained to Jaegers the mayor issued an ultimatum to Wolfe to halt all forms of gambling in the city or the entire police force would be dismissed.

Jewell was a member of the Better Government Committee. Wolfe said Jewell told him that the man who stabbed him with a knife had told him he came to "get him" for his part in the anti-gambling drive.

Friends said Mayor Jaegers had had a nervous breakdown a month ago after the crusade began. He had been ill the last week but returned to his office Tuesday.

"I have had enough to worry the heart out of any man," the police chief said Jaegers told him in the presence of the Better Government Committee "Slot machines in clubhouses, bingo parties and punch boards, and games of chance in private homes must be stopped."

Advice To The Lovelorn

Girl Involved With Married Man Is Urged To Break Off Illicit Affair

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love And Marriage

It is hard to understand how a girl of 23 can be sincerely puzzled about whether or not she should give up a married man who obviously intends to give up nothing for her. Yet, here is the astonishing story of a girl who has been carrying on an affair with such a man since she was 14.

Here is what she says:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I have been going with a married man for nine years. I started going with him when I was 14. He is 10 or 12 years older than I am. I have never really gone out with anybody else but him, because he never wanted me to. I like him a lot, he is so good to me. He gave me a car and has also given me a big diamond ring, and gets me anything in the world I want.

"For the last three or four years I have been after him to get his divorce, but he always has some excuse. He has a nice wife and three children and is living with them. He told me it was because of the children and that he didn't like his wife, but people who know them say that he is good to her and gets her everything she wants and denies seeing me to her.

"I met a boy some time ago and have been out with him several times. I like this boy. He is nearer my own age and all that. Now he wants to buy me a ring. What should I do? Should I tell him about this married man or should I give him up and keep on going with the married man? My parents are against my going with the married man and have tried everything to break it up. I have to slip out to see him all the time. I have to give one of them up and I can't decide which one.

"G. D. M."

For a girl to say that she can't decide whether to continue an illicit affair, or to break it off and accept the friendship of an apparently respectable boy whose intentions seem honorable, makes about as much sense as if she said that she had a choice between eating a good apple or a rotten one and didn't know which to choose. There certainly can be no doubt in this girl's mind that she is doing the wrong thing, but she has evidently been so dazzled by the expensive gifts this faithless husband has given her, that she has been willing, not only to ruin herself, but to help him betray his wife.

If she is lucky enough, after carrying on this disgraceful affair for years, to have a decent boy want to go out with her, I should think she would be glad and thankful, but probably, this boy is not in a position to offer her the presents she is accustomed to receiving. If he were wealthy, I am sure she would lose no time getting away from the married man and taking on the boy who seems to want to marry her.

Nothing good is going to come of your relationship with your married friend, G. D. M. Any man who would take advantage of a 14-year-old girl, as this man did with you, is a very low character indeed. And any man who would double-cross his wife, in the way he has been doing for years, is not likely to give you any better deal than he has given her. The sooner you pull yourself together and decide to see no more of him, the better off you will be.

Girl Involved With Married Man Is Urged To Break Off Illicit Affair

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love And Marriage

It is hard to understand how a girl of 23 can be sincerely puzzled about whether or not she should give up a married man who obviously intends to give up nothing for her. Yet, here is the astonishing story of a girl who has been carrying on an affair with such a man since she was 14.

Here is what she says:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I have been going with a married man for nine years. I started going with him when I was 14. He is 10 or 12 years older than I am. I have never really gone out with anybody else but him, because he never wanted me to. I like him a lot. He is so good to me. He gave me a car and has also given me a big diamond ring, and gets me anything in the world I want.

"For the last three or four years I have been after him to get his divorce, but he always has some excuse. He has a nice wife and three children and is living with them. He told me it was because of the children and that he didn't like his wife, but people who know them say that he is good to her and gets her everything she wants and denies seeing me to her.

"I met a boy some time ago and have been out with him several times. I like this boy. He is nearer my own age and all that. Now he wants to buy me a ring. What should I do? Should I tell him about this married man or should I give him up and keep on going with the married man? My parents are against my going with the married man and have tried everything to break it up. I have to slip out to see him all the time. I have to give one of them up and I can't decide which one.

"G. D. M."

For a girl to say that she can't decide whether to continue an illicit affair, or to break it off and accept the friendship of an apparently respectable boy whose intentions seem honorable, makes about as much sense as if she said that she had a choice between eating a good apple or a rotten one and didn't know which to choose. There certainly can be no doubt in this girl's mind that she is doing the wrong thing, but she has evidently been so dazzled by the expensive gifts this faithless husband has given her, that she has been willing, not only to ruin herself, but to help him betray his wife.

If she is lucky enough, after carrying on this disgraceful affair for years, to have a decent boy want to go out with her, I should think she would be glad and thankful, but probably, this boy is not in a position to offer her the presents she is accustomed to receiving. If he were wealthy, I am sure she would lose no time getting away from the married man and taking on the boy who seems to want to marry her.

Nothing good is going to come of your relationship with your married friend, G. D. M. Any man who would take advantage of a 14-year-old girl, as this man did with you, is a very low character indeed. And any man who would double-cross his wife, in the way he has been doing for years, is not likely to give you any better deal than he has given her. The sooner you pull yourself together and decide to see no more of him, the better off you will be.

Rep. Beall Protests Cut In Flood Control Funds

Representative J. Glenn Beall, of the Sixth congressional district, ever alert to the needs of his Maryland constituents, as well as to those of the entire nation, has, as might have been expected, expressed his disapproval over President Truman's action in ordering the deletion of $300,000,000 from the $945,000,000 Omnibus Flood Control bill, which had been approved by Congress. Rep. Beall is endeavoring to arrange his affairs here and in Washington to permit him to attend a joint Senate-House committee meeting in New Orleans this month to further protest Mr. Truman's action.

A serious situation has developed with respect to maintaining and improving the nation's waterways for navigation, as well as for protecting life and property from floods, by the President's act, and the chance that the Cumberland flood control and the Savage River Dam projects might be unduly delayed is prompting Mr. Beall to exert every effort in behalf of them.

It is the contention of those who are protesting the President's action that he has no right to nullify the will of Congress, which appropriated for such projects. It is pointed out that Congress appropriated for such projects about $300,000,000 more than would be spent in this fiscal year under the presidential order. It is contended it involves the safety and welfare of the people of the sections to be given either relief from floods or improve waterways, and has, if any, only the remotest effect on economy and none on inflation. The amount for flood control alone has been reduced by Mr. Truman's action from $190,000,000 to $95,000,000.

Is Congressional judgment and authority for making appropriations being flouted? Existing contract obligations amount to about $3,000,000 for rivers and harbors and $123,000,000 for flood control. Thus, nothing is left for additional flood control work, a position in which Cumberland finds itself as a result of Mr. Truman's money-pruning knife.

It is difficult to understand the logic and practicability of an executive order which results so disastrously, The Marine News says, in a discussion of the slashing of the funds. It is certain that comparable savings can be made in other directions without bringing hardship to so many, and without neglecting essential work such as was planned under the aforementioned appropriations.

It is reported that in the old-line federal agencies the number of persons on the pay roll increased 845,111 from 957,683 during the ten months beginning in August, 1945. Why can't they be released? Much of private industry needs more help. We venture a guess that this new federal obligation won't miss three-fourths of a $1,000,000,000 by much. Is there genuine need for it?

Of course, to avert inflation, costs must be kept down. There is no better way to help do this than to improve facilities for low cost water transportation. And can it be called economy to permit rivers to desolate business houses and homes and cripple industries in the Cumberland flood area; destroy those properties' values; and carry away fertile soil from numberless acres bordering the Potomac river, rather than permit the construction of barriers against such devastation.

Literally hundreds of Government expenditures could be cut with more effect on economy than in denying those communities the right to proceed with protective measures against rampant rivers and streams. Cumberland is in that category, and it is indeed gratifying to know Representative Beall has not lost sight of that but is exercising his ever-progressive talents in the hope of correcting the situation.

Navy Met Deadline On Demobilization

Demobilization, about which a hot controversy raged not many months ago, is no longer an issue now. Nearly all of the men who bore the brunt of the fighting for the United States in World War II have been returned to this country and mustered out. But it is worth noting, as a matter of record, that the Navy has kept faith with the three and a half million service men who made up its forces in the Pacific area.

The deadline originally set by the Navy for sending the last of these men to separation centers for discharge was August 20, 1946. When that date arrived the Navy checked its records and found that the pledge it made had been kept. It reported that the men had been brought back to meet the date and that "personnel now on duty in the Pacific are regulars or reserves who volunteered for longer duty."

For the Navy demobilization has never presented as formidable a problem as it did to the Army. The Navy had fewer men to handle. It was under no obligation to supply the occupation forces which have been the Army's toughest problem. But it deserves credit for what it has accomplished. The Navy has kept faith with its men.

September, Month Of Mellowness, Drowsiness

There is a mellowness about September, a kind of drowsiness, as the season's harvest is evaluated and the books balanced for the year. Vegetation has climbed to the peak and retrogression sets in, the metamorphosis being first noticeable with the coloring of leaves.

September is the month of grapes, apples, pears, quinces and plums, which bring to an end the harvest of summer fruits. The month also brings cool nights and early sunsets, football, good golfing weather, resumption of school days, bird migrations and the odor of burning leaves.

Toward the end of September the majority of hibernating mammals have gone underground for a long winter sleep. The fat which they have accumulated during summer will keep them alive until spring, when they awaken and saunter forth coaxed by warm sunshine.

Most of the migratory birds have exchanged their bright summer coats for duller traveling raiment in which they are winging their way to tropical winter homes. They are being replaced by hardier birds which nest in the Far North and seek more temperate climes for the winter.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

FOOD FOR THE SPROUTS

BY the time boys and girls reach the ripe old age of twelve, the cost of their upkeep takes a sudden jump. This is not inflation, just the beginning of the "eat me out of house and home" period. If we except them to sprout, adequate nourishment must be provided.

Prior to adolescence, youngsters take on between 5 and 6 pounds a year, on the average. The figure is higher with tall children and less in the shorties. For the next three or four years the scale usually shows an additional 9 to 16 pounds at each birthday. Girls start gaining a little ahead of the boys but the net result seldom reaches the same proportions. Both sexes shoot upward on an average of 3 inches per year. Some boys do better and 4 and 5 inches are not unusual. The chubbies and the amazons are the exceptions.

Besides growing, which is work in itself, the teen-agers are extremely active. Consequently more food is required than for adults for a corresponding size. Furthermore, a diet affording the best possible development is essential, which means balanced meals plus sufficient minerals and vitamins.

A quart of milk per day is a must—part as a beverage and the remainder on cereals, puddings, and in cooking. A large bowl of whole grain or enriched cereal, six slices of bread with butter, one egg, four or five ounces of meat, poultry or fish, three helpings of vegetables, a serving of citrus fruits, and desserts are recommended. To boost the calories, more potatoes, peas, etc., fruits, cereals, crackers, and milk may be taken.

Regularity is important. "Meals at all hours" may be fine for restaurants but not at home. Nibbling in between is not harmful if it does not interfere with the regular lunch and dinner. For this purpose, bread and butter, jam, crackers, and milk are suitable. Too often the snacks consist of highly seasoned and flavored items or the most delicious delicacy that the soda fountain can produce.

Occasionally appetite is lacking, especially in girls. It can be stimulated by fresh air, sunlight, and adequate rest. The underweight need more sleep and less exertion and excitement. Extracurricular activities rather than studying is usually responsible. There is so much to see and do that little time is left for eating and sleeping.

The habit of liking simple and wholesome dishes should be acquired early. Too many cakes, pies, and fancy concoctions and overindulgence in candy are not good for the complexion, hair, or teeth. Boys are less likely to be a problem as hunger is chronic and quantity is the main concern. The young ladies, on the other hand, are prone to select what appeals to the eye. Moreover, the relationship of calories to the poundage dawns on them; as a result, a slim figure rather than physical perfection becomes the goal. They forget that health is the foundation for beauty.

PECULIAR BREATHING

R.T. writes: What is hyperventilation?

REPLY

Rapid, deep breathing which interferes with the elimination carbon dioxide. Alkalosis develops, resulting in a variety of symptoms. Many individuals do this unconsciously when excited or upset.

DON'T BLAME SPICES

S. S. writes: Would excessive spicy foods contribute to the expansion of growth?

REPLY

Condiments are not fattening. The same cannot be said of the food which is seasoned. By curbing the calories you should be able to stop expanding.

REACTION TO DRAFT

E. R. T. writes: What causes my face to pain whenever I am in a draft?

REPLY

This is not unusual in those suffering from neuralgia.

BITTER HEADACHE

J. E. S. writes: I am suffering from sour headaches. How can I overcome them?

REPLY

Perhaps you need some sweets. If the head pain is associated with a sour taste you may be experiencing some form of indigestion.

WHOOPING COUGH VACCINE

Mrs. R. writes: Will whooping cough vaccine do any good after the whoop appears?

REPLY

Many pediatricians do not find it of value. Others believe that concentrated serums or antigens are helpful, particularly in children who are seriously ill.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By JOHN EDGAR HOOVER

(Ed Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by several distinguished guest columnists—today's by John Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. — The great majority of the American public has considered the FBI as a purely domestic force, utilized to enforce Federal Criminal Laws and to safeguard the internal security of the nation. With the end of the war, it can now be stated that the FBI, under the direction of the President, was responsible during World War II for gathering intelligence and subversive information throughout the entire Western Hemisphere and for coordinating efforts to combat sabotage and espionage in all the countries of the Caribbean, Central and South America.

As a result of the cooperation between the FBI and local law enforcement agencies in these countries, no foreign-inspired sabotage occurred and enemy espionage efforts were completely curbed throughout all the Americas.

The Germans were amply supplied with funds for their work. These were received in part from the sale of Rueckwander marks in the Americas. During the war FBI Agents located a secret cache of Nazi funds in the German Embassy in Washington. This fund totaled more than $3,000,000. Most of it was earmarked for use in espionage activities.

Early Nazi penetration in the western half of the Globe took on a deadly significance with each incoming report. German troops in Dakar awaited orders to launch an attack on Brazil with direct attacks on American defenses in the Caribbean. German and Jap airplanes were expected to launch an all-out smash attack on the Panama Canal.

Nazis Plotted

The German diplomatic staff figured in plots designed to promote revolutions in several South American countries. German propagandists worked overtime to drive a wedge between the haters of Nazism and Fascism in the Americas. One propaganda campaign line charged that Italian submarines were sinking Brazilian ships while Brazilian troops were fighting with the Allies in Italy. The old theme of "Yankee Imperialism" in South America was ground out by the Nazi propaganda machine with little success.

Stemming the tide of Nazi penetration in the Western Hemisphere was no less important than halting Hitler's armies in Europe. The task was accomplished not only in the United States but the confidential records of the FBI contain thrilling exploits that bear tribute to the splendid work of South American law enforcement officers working side by side with FBI Agents throughout the Southern continent. For example, when espionage rings were uncovered by the FBI in Brazil and Chile, local authorities moved with dispatch rivaling the alien round-ups in the United States following the Pearl Harbor disaster.

From July 1, 1940, through June 30, 1946, 879 espionage agents were identified in South America, together with 281 propaganda agents, 30 sabotage agents, and 222 smugglers of strategic war materials. A total of 15,047 alien enemies in South America were moved from strategic areas, interned or expelled, while an additional 16,000 potentially dangerous enemy aliens were arrested in the United States and territorial possessions.

"Micro-Dot" Ring

The biggest and most baffling espionage case handled by the FBI during the war centered in one of our neighboring countries. This ring introduced the "Micro-dot" as a means of communication to the Western Hemisphere.

The Germans succeeded in photographing a typed page of spy reports and reducing it to film no larger than a pencil point. The film was embedded in a comma or period on an envelope addressed to Germany.

FBI technicians discovered this method of communication very early in the war and caught hundreds of micro-dot messages. If the contents of one was innocuous it was permitted to go on to Germany; if not, it was condemned. Conveniently, the spies numbered each message so that we were able to keep them in sequence. This particular ring has now been broken up. Only recently a large number of members were deported to Germany.

As a matter of strategy many spy rings were permitted to operate under surveillance which often presented baffling problems. In one instance a resourceful FBI Agent secured a soft-drink peddler's wagon and sold drinks in the street, meanwhile keeping an observant eye on the meeting place of the espionage agents.

Good Neighbors

German spies operating in South American countries were often linked with espionage cases in the United States. By exchanging information developed in this country with police agencies of our Southern neighbors, German spy successes were stymied. During the war FBI Intelligence Agents were stationed in all South American countries. In addition to exchanging the information they served as police instructors for the South American law enforcement agencies. In innumerable cases FBI Agents furnished information to South American police which resulted in prompt raids on Nazi spy hideouts.

One agent wormed his way into the confidence of a group of subversives to such an extent that on the death of one of the leaders of the group which was endeavoring to foment a revolution, he was assigned as a member of the guard of honor. Before a photographer was permitted to take pictures of the funeral bier surrounded by the guard of honor, our Agent was removed with the admonition that he was too valuable to the group to be "spotted" should the picture fall into the hands of the FBI.

A local official in one country frequently boasted of his knowledge of world-wide police work. He claimed that he had studied Scotland Yard, the French Surete, the FBI and the world's other leading investigative agencies. He frequently ridiculed the FBI and other American institutions and boasted that he could "spot any FBI undercover agent on sight." The man he was intimately friendly with for four months was an FBI Agent posing as a visitor. The braggart imparted considerable confidential information to the "visitor."

Caught Spies

For months the FBI operated a secret radio station for the German network of spies in the United States. The funds for building it were supplied by the German Government. FBI Agents manned it completely and through it established contact with other clandestine radio stations operated by the Germans in South America. Eventually, the trap was sprung and all members of the Nazi group were apprehended.

An example of our good-neighbor policy in effective intelligence work is the case of August Lunning, who was endeavoring to furnish data to Germany by shortwave radio from Cuba. He kept a singing canary to conceal the sound of the radio

Molotov's Actions, Views Through Years Of Conflict

By SAMUEL R. PETTENGILL

"Fascism is a matter of taste" Molotov shrugged when Mussolini was building guns. It is this some Molotov and his chocolate soldier, Tito, who now demand that Italy be stripped to rags.

When Matteotti and other Italian patriots were being butchered, the present purists in Moscow were wining and dining the fascist consuls in Russia and giving them prestige. When Mussolini attacked Ethiopia, it was not the present leaders of Italy who supported that brutal venture. No, it was Molotov's government which supplied Il Duce with oil and wheat.

No Protest On Stab In Back

When Mussolini stabbed France in the back in 1940—one year before Hitler stabbed Russia—was there any faint word of protest from Moscow? No, it was then that Stalin gave Hitler a free hand and supplies. It was then that Molotov's master gave Japan's militarists the go-sign.

It was then that this Molotov person said (October 31, 1939), "It is not only senseless but criminal to wage a war for the 'destruction of Hitlerism' camouflaged as a fight for 'democracy'" It was then that Congressman Marcantonio was voting against all appropriations for the defense of America.

Yet, it is this same Molotov, this pure angel of peace from the Red paradise, who now lectures the western world on ethics, morals, and manners as he demands his pound of flesh from beaten foes—beaten, not by the Red Army but by England and the United States, aided by forces of resistance on the inside who risked their lives or spent years in jail in exile while Stalin and Molotov gave aid and comfort to those ravaging their liberty.

Roosevelt Was "Taken In"

As the secret record unfolds our people will read with increasing amazement how President Roosevelt was "taken in" by "Marshal Stalin" of the "peace-loving democracy" of the Kremlin; how he helped build up the treacherous masters of the great Russian people to a position where they can threaten the peace of five continents.

For, Roosevelt once denounced Russia as a dictatorship as absolute as any in the world. That was in 1939, when Stalin attacked Finland, and "Finland forever" was popular in these States. It was not long after, however, that Roosevelt dismissed Finland's minister in Washington for resisting Stalin with the help of Hitler, and England declared war on Finland.

Principles may be heavy burdens when armies march and ships are stripped for action. But American ideals and prestige throughout the world were tossed overboard at a heavy price.

Pan-Slavism Destructive

Even Karl Marx, the planter of the weed now come to crimson bloom, warned that "Pan-slavism is not a movement which merely strives after a national independence; it is a movement which, acting on Europe, would undo what a thousand years of history have created . . . Pan-slavism is now, from a creed, turned into a political program, or rather a vast political menace."

It is too bad that American young men, with their life blood, must pay tuition for the education of statesmen. But so it is! We abandoned the shrewd insight of Washington and Jefferson and plunged blindly into age-old European rivalries for power. In a jolly, big-hearted manner, when vodka flowed like beer, our leaders offered Uncle Sam's legs to be pulled. But now that we survey the cemeteries in the cold gray light of the morning after, we may recall Kipling's lines: "Over and over the story ending as he began, 'Put ye no faith in Adam-Zad, the Bear who walks like a Man'."

Break In The Stock Market May Foreshadow Depression In America

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The break in the stock market may foreshadow the coming depression in America. As usual, nobody can tell why a market suddenly goes to pieces, and sometimes the factor that touches off a decline is not the main reason but merely tends to collapse an already bad situation. Selling by foreign investors may have furnished the spark but the situation as a whole has been weak anyway.

Today the most obvious fact about the industrial situation is that America isn't getting the necessary production. This is because labor politicians have abused their collective bargaining power and have bludgeoned the employers into granting wage increases which cannot be absorbed by price increases.

Instead of increased production so as to justify wage increases, the American manufacturers of today, particularly in the durable goods field, are face to face with a serious exploition of shortages in skilled labor. Whenever any group in our economic system has a monopoly encouraged by law and by the administration, other groups are bound to suffer.

Truth About Earnings Awaited

The truth about corporation earnings has not yet come out. Some companies, especially in the field of consumer products, have done well but in the heavy goods industries there are already on record some startling losses due to strikes or indirectly to work stoppages among suppliers of good needed to make finished products.

Many corporation statements, because they can this year apply carrybacks on excess profits, do not reveal the large losses in actual operations. Many persons in the business community have hoped against hope that labor politicians would get down to business and give America a chance to produce and that the second half of the year would show a marked improvement.

But the third quarter—July, August and September—is well under way and there is relatively little improvement in the outlook. The year 1946 not only will be worse than 1945 but prospects are that unless something is done to encourage production and keep costs from rising, 1947 will be much worse for many businesses on the earning side than 1946. There will be no carrybacks of losses affording tax credits in 1947 because the law ends these credits on December 31, 1946.

Earning Tending Downward

Under such circumstances, with earnings tending downward, it was inevitable that the public would find the prices of stocks too high and begin to sell. Also with the tendency turning to more instead of less strikes and with the administration openly in alliance now with the CIO-PAC, there can be little hope of an improved psychological situation in industry until the effects of the Truman policies are fully understood. It may take a depression of major proportions before the people will see the truth.

The president's statement on Labor Day openly praising labor's record, and stating that he favored participation by unions in "political action," indicated clearly that Mr. Truman knows little about what is happening in industrial America and that he has, for the sake of politics, taken a stand which cannot but be discouraging to all industry.

The entire economic situation is inevitably out of balance due to the necessary of reconversion from wartime to peacetime production. If ever there was a time for statesmanship in the White House, it was in the last several months. But Mr. Truman missed his opportunity and failed to furnish leadership. As a consequence, his weakness has been taken advantage of by labor union politicians who have assumed that "more pay for less work" can bring prosperity.

Increased Output Held Key

In the face of a heavy war debt of $260,000,000,000 and an unbalanced budget, it is the consensus of all sound economists that increased output per man can save the American economic system from collapse. But the administration has ignored that approach altogether and Mr. Truman himself has insisted that take-home pay must equal wartime pay, notwithstanding the drop in business volume.

The best way in free America to readjust or correct any situation is to get the facts to the public. The American economic system cannot stand the wage demands already granted or about to be insisted upon in another series of strikes. The American consumer cannot pay some of the prices that these same wages have now forced. While demand is high, it will be shortlived because cheaper substitutes will be bought, or buying will be deferred.

The simple fact is that "more pay for less work" means depression and industrial chaos. This has always been true. It was known the very day the strikes began. It takes time for all the people to find out what has been happening, and usually the stock market finds out ahead of time what earnings are going to be like. The holders of stocks apparently have lost confidence in the willingness of the Truman administration to bring about a tightening of the belt in America and the encouragement of hard work. A political administration in Washington has frittered away its opportunity this summer and the further consequences will be apparent in the next several months.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

I see the Russian government doesn't like our musical play, "Oklahoma!" As part of the campaign against "dangerous foreign ideas," the official magazine, "Culture and Life," recently published an article by Konstantine Simonov, panning the American theatre, and specifically taking a pot-shot at "Oklahoma!" Simonov labels it a "very poor effort." It's common knowledge such pronouncements don't get printed in the Soviet Union without first being cleared by the Front Office. In other words, it's official — the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics doesn't like our favorite lollipop.

Billy Rose

Well, aint' that too bad? At the risk of being tagged a reactionary, may I ask Konstantine what's wrong with "Oklahoma!"? I've seen it four times, and my only beef if I didn't get to produce it. I grant you its happy patrons don't walk out of the theatre resolved to catch twenty more rivets the next day. On the other hand, they don't exit determined to kick somebody's face in. You say this evening of gay music, pretty music and spirited dancing "has no purpose." Well, neither has a Strauss waltz, a glass of wine, good tobacco, or a buttercup. In this country, Tovarich, we figure a sunrise is something more than the signal to go to work. We're silly enough to suppose there's more to romance than population statistics. All the pretty things you say are "purposeless" are what make it possible for us to go on living in a punch-drunk world where diplomats still consider people expendable.

I'll bet you a quart of uranium that nothing your subsidized theatre has produced is as popular with your people as "Oklahoma!" is with ours. And, besides, instead of being backed by the government, this show is practically vice versa. Out of the ten-million-or-so it will net, something like seven million will go to our Treasury. Judging by your loan requests, that kind of dough would come in handy, eh Comrade?

Considering that the financial set-up of our theatre doesn't make it very profitable to preach, I think we do pretty well in the social significance department. In fact, we have several left-of-center playwrights whose yearly income would keep the Kremlin in caviar.

It's a good thing your Commissar of Entertainment wasn't around when Rodgers and Hammerstein were writing "Oklahoma!" Strange things might have happened to this gay little valentine. The song titles might have been: "Oh, What a Beautiful Magneto," "People Will Say We're In Trouble," "The Farmer and the Cowboy Should Unite to Build a Better World." The delightful song about the Surrey with the Fringe on Top might have come out as:

"Please don't think that love is a factor
When I take you out in my tractor,
In my lend-lease Michigan tractor
With the hinge on top.
We've no time for cooin' and billin'
There's a quota we must be fillin'
Simonov says that Cupid's a villain
And a bourgeois sop.

Oh, the man in the Kremlin will forget to frown
As we make hay for the nation,
And that picture of Stalin we can roll right down
Whenever we need inspiration.

Don't sing love songs from 'Oklahoma!'
Ain't you heard it's in bad aroma?
If you want that crimson diploma
You must never stop
Perspiring in that tractor with the hinge on the top!"

For two years now, Mr. Simonov, I've been trying to get a visa to go to Russia. I wanted to catch your shows, your orchestras, your ballet. Averill Harriman tried to get me one when he was our Ambassador in Moscow. Last November our embassy in London tried. Both times no dice. Why does your government make it so difficult, Konstantine? When I have a good show, I'm glad to invite the critics.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I was one of the many excited spectators at the Metropolitan Airport to watch the twenty-three entrants and their souped-up planes take off in the famous cross-country Bendix Trophy Race. I should've been excited. . . . I was parked on the runway!

It was a thrilling sight to see those powerful planes zoom off that field. . . it was a sort of Bay Meadows with oxygen. The planes entered were all army surplus models, and just to make sure everything would be "above board" the officials removed the machine guns.

There was a bit of confusion on the runway. Rex Mays, the midget auto racer, refused to take off without a banked turn, and William Lear, Jr., the youngest pilot entered, kept strafing the runway with spitballs.

Too bad I couldn't have gone on to Cleveland to watch them compete in the National Air Races there. When I was a kid in Cleveland, I had an experience at the Pylon Races I'll never forget. . . Everytime I looked up, a plane flew around my nose! I was only twelve at the time, but I can still remember shaking hands with all the famous fliers . . . especially, the Wright brothers.

Rep. Beall Protests Cut In Flood Control Funds

Representative J. Glenn Beall, of the Sixth congressional district, ever alert to the needs of his Maryland constituents, as well as to those of the entire nation, has, as might have been expected, expressed his disapproval over President Truman's action in ordering the deletion of $300,000,000 from the $945,000,000 Omnibus Flood Control bill, which had been approved by Congress. Rep. Beall is endeavoring to arrange his affairs here and in Washington to permit him to attend a joint Senate-House committee meeting in New Orleans this month to further protest Mr. Truman's action.

A serious situation has developed with respect to maintaining and improving the nation's waterways for navigation, as well as for protecting life and property from floods, by the President's act, and the chance that the Cumberland flood control and the Savage River Dam projects might be unduly delayed is prompting Mr. Beall to exert every effort in behalf of them.

It is the contention of those who are protesting the President's action that he has no right to nullify the will of Congress, which appropriated for such projects. It is pointed out that Congress appropriated for such projects about $300,000,000 more than would be spent in this fiscal year under the presidential order. It is contended it involves the safety and welfare of the people of the sections to be given either relief from floods or improve waterways, and has, if any, only the remotest effect on economy and none on inflation. The amount for flood control alone has been reduced by Mr. Truman's action from $190,000,000 to $95,000,000.

Is Congressional judgment and authority for making appropriations being flouted? Existing contract obligations amount to about $3,000,000 for rivers and harbors and $123,000,000 for flood control. Thus, nothing is left for additional flood control work, a position in which Cumberland finds itself as a result of Mr. Truman's money-pruning knife.

It is difficult to understand the logic and practicability of an executive order which results so disastrously, The Marine News says, in a discussion of the slashing of the funds. It is certain that comparable savings can be made in other directions without bringing hardship to so many, and without neglecting essential work such as was planned under the aforementioned appropriations.

It is reported that in the old-line federal agencies the number of persons on the pay roll increased 345,111 from 957,683 during the ten months beginning in August, 1945. Why can't they be released? Much of private industry needs more help. We venture a guess that this new federal obligation won't miss three-fourths of a $1,000,000,000 by much. Is there genuine need for it?

Of course, to avert inflation, costs must be kept down. There is no better way to help do this than to improve facilities for low cost water transportation. And can it be called economy to permit rivers to desolate business houses and homes and cripple industries in the Cumberland flood area; destroy those properties' values; and carry away fertile soil from numberless acres bordering the Potomac river, rather than permit the construction of barriers against such devastation.

Literally hundreds of Government expenditures could be cut with more effect on economy than in denying those communities the right to proceed with protective measures against rampant rivers and streams. Cumberland is in that category, and it is indeed gratifying to know Representative Beall has not lost sight of that but is exercising his ever-progressive talents in the hope of correcting the situation.

Navy Met Deadline On Demobilization

Demobilization, about which a hot controversy raged not many months ago, is no longer an issue now. Nearly all of the men who bore the brunt of the fighting for the United States in World War II have been returned to this country and mustered out. But it is worth noting, as a matter of record, that the Navy has kept faith with the three and a half million service men who made up its forces in the Pacific area.

The deadline originally set by the Navy for sending the last of these men to separation centers for discharge was August 20, 1946. When that date arrived the Navy checked its records and found that the pledge it made had been kept. It reported that the men had been brought back to meet the date and that "personnel now on duty in the Pacific are regulars or reserves who volunteered for longer duty."

For the Navy demobilization has never presented as formidable a problem as it did to the Army. The Navy had fewer men to handle. It was under no obligation to supply the occupation forces which have been the Army's toughest problem. But it deserves credit for what it has accomplished. The Navy has kept faith with its men.

September, Month Of Mellowness, Drowsiness

There is a mellowness about September, a kind of drowsiness, as the season's harvest is evaluated and the books balanced for the year. Vegetation has climbed to the peak and retrogression sets in, the metamorphosis being first noticeable with the coloring of leaves.

September is the month of grapes, apples, pears, quinces and plums, which bring to an end the harvest of summer fruits. The month also brings cool nights and early sunsets, football, good golfing weather, resumption of school days, bird migrations and the odor of burning leaves.

Toward the end of September the majority of hibernating mammals have gone underground for a long winter sleep. The fat which they have accumulated during summer will keep them alive until spring, when they awaken and saunter forth coaxed by warm sunshine.

Most of the migratory birds have exchanged their bright summer coats for duller traveling raiment in which they are winging their way to tropical winter homes. They are being replaced by hardier birds which nest in the Far North and seek more temperate climes for the winter.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

FOOD FOR THE SPROUTS

BY the time boys and girls reach the ripe old age of twelve, the cost of their upkeep takes a sudden jump. This is not inflation, just the beginning of the "eat me out of house and home" period. If we except them to sprout, adequate nourishment must be provided.

Prior to adolescence, youngsters take on between 5 and 6 pounds a year, on the average. The figure is higher with tall children and less in the shorties. For the next three or four years the scale usually shows an additional 9 to 16 pounds at each birthday. Girls start gaining a little ahead of the boys but the net result seldom reaches the same proportions. Both sexes shoot upward on an average of 3 inches per year. Some boys do better and 4 and 5 inches are not unusual. The chubbies and the amazons are the exceptions.

Besides growing, which is work in itself, the teen-agers are extremely active. Consequently more food is required than for adults for a corresponding size. Furthermore, a diet affording the best possible development is essential, which means balanced meals plus sufficient minerals and vitamins.

A quart of milk per day is a must—part as a beverage and the remainder on cereals, puddings, and in cooking. A large bowl of whole grain or enriched cereal, six slices of bread with butter, one egg, four or five ounces of meat, poultry or fish, three helpings of vegetables, a serving of citrus fruits, and desserts are recommended. To boost the calories, more potatoes, peas, etc., fruits, cereals, crackers, and milk may be taken.

Regularity is important. "Meals at all hours" may be fine for restaurants but not at home. Nibbling in between is not harmful if it does not interfere with the regular lunch and dinner. For this purpose, bread and butter, jam, crackers, and milk are suitable. Too often the snacks consist of highly seasoned and flavored items or the most delicious delicacy that the soda fountain can produce.

Occasionally appetite is lacking, especially in girls. It can be stimulated by fresh air, sunlight, and adequate rest. The underweight need more sleep and less exertion and excitement. Extracurricular activities rather than studying is usually responsible. There is so much to see and do that little time is left for eating and sleeping.

The habit of liking simple and wholesome dishes should be acquired early. Too many cakes, pies, and fancy concoctions and overindulgence in candy are not good for the complexion, hair, or teeth. Boys are less likely to be a problem as hunger is chronic and quantity is the main concern. The young ladies, on the other hand, are prone to select what appeals to the eye. Moreover, the relationship of calories to the poundage dawns on them; as a result, a slim figure rather than physical perfection becomes the goal. They forget that health is the foundation for beauty.

Rapid, deep breathing which interferes with the elimination carbon dioxide. Alkalosis develops, resulting in a variety of symptoms. Many individuals do this unconsciously when excited or upset.

Perhaps you need some sweets. If the head pain is associated with a sour taste you may be experiencing some form of indigestion.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By JOHN EDGAR HOOVER

(Ed Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by several distinguished guest columnists—today's by John Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. — The great majority of the American public has considered the FBI as a purely domestic force, utilized to enforce Federal Criminal Laws and to safeguard the internal security of the nation. With the end of the war, it can now be stated that the FBI, under the direction of the President, was responsible during World War II for gathering intelligence and subversive information throughout the entire Western Hemisphere and for coordinating efforts to combat sabotage and espionage in all the countries of the Caribbean, Central and South America.

As a result of the cooperation between the FBI and local law enforcement agencies in these countries, no foreign-inspired sabotage occurred and enemy espionage efforts were completely curbed throughout all the Americas.

The Germans were amply supplied with funds for their work. These were received in part from the sale of Rueckwander marks in the Americas. During the war FBI Agents located a secret cache of Nazi funds in the German Embassy in Washington. This fund totaled more than $3,000,000. Most of it was earmarked for use in espionage activities.

Early Nazi penetration in the western half of the Globe took on a deadly significance with each incoming report. German troops in Dakar awaited orders to launch an attack on Brazil with direct attacks on American defenses in the Caribbean. German and Jap airplanes were expected to launch an all-out smash attack on the Panama Canal.

Nazis Plotted

The German diplomatic staff figured in plots designed to promote revolutions in several South American countries. German propagandists worked overtime to drive a wedge between the haters of Nazism and Fascism in the Americas. One propaganda campaign line charged that Italian submarines were sinking Brazilian ships while Brazilian troops were fighting with the Allies in Italy. The old theme of "Yankee Imperialism" in South America was ground out by the Nazi propaganda machine with little success.

Stemming the tide of Nazi penetration in the Western Hemisphere was no less important than halting Hitler's armies in Europe. The task was accomplished not only in the United States but the confidential records of the FBI contain thrilling exploits that bear tribute to the splendid work of South American law enforcement officers working side by side with FBI Agents throughout the Southern continent. For example, when espionage rings were uncovered by the FBI in Brazil and Chile, local authorities moved with dispatch rivaling the alien round-ups in the United States following the Pearl Harbor disaster.

From July 1, 1940, through June 30, 1946, 879 espionage agents were identified in South America, together with 281 propaganda agents, 30 sabotage agents, and 222 smugglers of strategic war materials. A total of 15,047 alien enemies in South America were moved from strategic areas, interned or expelled, while an additional 16,000 potentially dangerous enemy aliens were arrested in the United States and territorial possessions.

"Micro-Dot" Ring

The biggest and most baffling espionage case handled by the FBI during the war centered in one of our neighboring countries. This ring introduced the "Micro-dot" as a means of communication to the Western Hemisphere.

The Germans succeeded in photographing a typed page of spy reports and reducing it to film no larger than a pencil point. The film was embedded in a comma or period on an envelope addressed to Germany.

FBI technicians discovered this method of communication very early in the war and caught hundreds of micro-dot messages. If the contents of one was innocuous it was permitted to go on to Germany; if not, it was condemned. Conveniently, the spies numbered each message so that we were able to keep them in sequence. This particular ring has now been broken up. Only recently a large number of members were deported to Germany.

As a matter of strategy many spy rings were permitted to operate under surveillance which often presented baffling problems. In one instance a resourceful FBI Agent secured a soft-drink peddler's wagon and sold drinks in the street, meanwhile keeping an observant eye on the meeting place of the espionage agents.

Good Neighbors

German spies operating in South American countries were often linked with espionage cases in the United States. By exchanging information developed in this country with police agencies of our Southern neighbors, German spy successes were stymied. During the war FBI Intelligence Agents were stationed in all South American countries. In addition to exchanging the information they served as police instructors for the South American law enforcement agencies. In innumerable cases FBI Agents furnished information to South American police which resulted in prompt raids on Nazi spy hideouts.

One agent wormed his way into the confidence of a group of subversives to such an extent that on the death of one of the leaders of the group which was endeavoring to foment a revolution, he was assigned as a member of the guard of honor. Before a photographer was permitted to take pictures of the funeral bier surrounded by the guard of honor, our Agent was removed with the admonition that he was too valuable to the group to be "spotted" should the picture fall into the hands of the FBI.

A local official in one country frequently boasted of his knowledge of world-wide police work. He claimed that he had studied Scotland Yard, the French Surete, the FBI and the world's other leading investigative agencies. He frequently ridiculed the FBI and other American institutions and boasted that he could "spot any FBI undercover agent on sight." The man he was intimately friendly with for four months was an FBI Agent posing as a visitor. The braggart imparted considerable confidential information to the "visitor."

Caught Spies

For months the FBI operated a secret radio station for the German network of spies in the United States. The funds for building it were supplied by the German Government. FBI Agents manned it completely and through it established contact with other clandestine radio stations operated by the Germans in South America. Eventually, the trap was sprung and all members of the Nazi group were apprehended.

An example of our good-neighbor policy in effective intelligence work is the case of August Lunning, who was endeavoring to furnish data to Germany by shortwave radio from Cuba. He kept a singing canary to conceal the sound of the radio

Molotov's Actions, Views Through Years Of Conflict

By SAMUEL R. PETTENGILL

"Fascism is a matter of taste" Molotov shrugged when Mussolini was building guns. It is this some Molotov and his chocolate soldier, Tito, who now demand that Italy be stripped to rags.

When Matteotti and other Italian patriots were being butchered, the present purists in Moscow were wining and dining the fascist consuls in Russia and giving them prestige. When Mussolini attacked Ethiopia, it was not the present leaders of Italy who supported that brutal venture. No, it was Molotov's government which supplied Il Duce with oil and wheat.

No Protest On Stab In Back

When Mussolini stabbed France in the back in 1940—one year before Hitler stabbed Russia—was there any faint word of protest from Moscow? No, it was then that Stalin gave Hitler a free hand and supplies. It was then that Molotov's master gave Japan's militarists the go-sign.

It was then that this Molotov person said (October 31, 1939), "It is not only senseless but criminal to wage a war for the 'destruction of Hitlerism' camouflaged as a fight for 'democracy'." It was then that Congressman Marcantonio was voting against all appropriations for the defense of America.

Yet, it is this same Molotov, this pure angel of peace from the Red paradise, who now lectures the western world on ethics, morals, and manners as he demands his pound of flesh from beaten foes—beaten, not by the Red Army but by England and the United States, aided by forces of resistance on the inside who risked their lives or spent years in jail in exile while Stalin and Molotov gave aid and comfort to those ravaging their liberty.

Roosevelt Was "Taken In"

As the secret record unfolds our people will read with increasing amazement how President Roosevelt was "taken in" by "Marshal Stalin" of the "peace-loving democracy" of the Kremlin; how he helped build up the treacherous masters of the great Russian people to a position where they can threaten the peace of five continents.

For, Roosevelt once denounced Russia as a dictatorship as absolute as any in the world. That was in 1939, when Stalin attacked Finland, and "Finland forever" was popular in these States. It was not long after, however, that Roosevelt dismissed Finland's minister in Washington for resisting Stalin with the help of Hitler, and England declared war on Finland.

Principles may be heavy burdens when armies march and ships are stripped for action. But American ideals and prestige throughout the world were tossed overboard at a heavy price.

Pan-Slavism Destructive

Even Karl Marx, the planter of the weed now come to crimson bloom, warned that "Pan-slavism is not a movement which merely strives after a national independence; it is a movement which, acting on Europe, would undo what a thousand years of history have created . . . Pan-slavism is now, from a creed, turned into a political program, or rather a vast political menace."

It is too bad that American young men, with their life blood, must pay tuition for the education of statesmen. But so it is! We abandoned the shrewd insight of Washington and Jefferson and plunged blindly into age-old European rivalries for power. In a jolly, big-hearted manner, when vodka flowed like beer, our leaders offered Uncle Sam's legs to be pulled. But now that we survey the cemeteries in the cold gray light of the morning after, we may recall Kipling's lines: "Over and over the story ending as he began, 'Put ye no faith in Adam-Zad, the Bear who walks like a Man'."

Break In The Stock Market May Foreshadow Depression In America

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The break in the stock market may foreshadow the coming depression in America. As usual, nobody can tell why a market suddenly goes to pieces, and sometimes the factor that touches off a decline is not the main reason but merely tends to collapse an already bad situation. Selling by foreign investors may have furnished the spark but the situation as a whole has been weak anyway.

Today the most obvious fact about the industrial situation is that America isn't getting the necessary production. This is because labor politicians have abused their collective bargaining power and have bludgeoned the employers into granting wage increases which cannot be absorbed by price increases.

Instead of increased production so as to justify wage increases, the American manufacturers of today, particularly in the durable goods field, are face to face with a serious exploition of shortages in skilled labor. Whenever any group in our economic system has a monopoly encouraged by law and by the administration, other groups are bound to suffer.

Truth About Earnings Awaited

The truth about corporation earnings has not yet come out. Some companies, especially in the field of consumer products, have done well but in the heavy goods industries there are already on record some startling losses due to strikes or indirectly to work stoppages among suppliers of good needed to make finished products.

Many corporation statements, because they can this year apply carrybacks on excess profits, do not reveal the large losses in actual operations. Many persons in the business community have hoped against hope that labor politicians would get down to business and give America a chance to produce and that the second half of the year would show a marked improvement.

But the third quarter—July, August and September—is well under way and there is relatively little improvement in the outlook. The year 1946 not only will be worse than 1945 but prospects are that unless something is done to encourage production and keep costs from rising, 1947 will be much worse for many businesses on the earning side than 1946. There will be no carrybacks of losses affording tax credits in 1947 because the law ends these credits on December 31, 1946.

Earning Tending Downward

Under such circumstances, with earnings tending downward, it was inevitable that the public would find the prices of stocks too high and begin to sell. Also with the tendency turning to more instead of less strikes and with the administration openly in alliance now with the CIO-PAC, there can be little hope of an improved psychological situation in industry until the effects of the Truman policies are fully understood. It may take a depression of major proportions before the people will see the truth.

The president's statement on Labor Day openly praising labor's record, and stating that he favored participation by unions in "political action," indicated clearly that Mr. Truman knows little about what is happening in industrial America and that he has, for the sake of politics, taken a stand which cannot but be discouraging to all industry.

The entire economic situation is inevitably out of balance due to the necessary of reconversion from wartime to peacetime production. If ever there was a time for statesmanship in the White House, it was in the last several months. But Mr. Truman missed his opportunity and failed to furnish leadership. As a consequence, his weakness has been taken advantage of by labor union politicians who have assumed that "more pay for less work" can bring prosperity.

Increased Output Held Key

In the face of a heavy war debt of $260,000,000,000 and an unbalanced budget, it is the consensus of all sound economists that increased output per man can save the American economic system from collapse. But the administration has ignored that approach altogether and Mr. Truman himself has insisted that take-home pay must equal wartime pay, notwithstanding the drop in business volume.

The best way in free America to readjust or correct any situation is to get the facts to the public. The American economic system cannot stand the wage demands already granted or about to be insisted upon in another series of strikes. The American consumer cannot pay some of the prices that these same wages have now forced. While demand is high, it will be shortlived because cheaper substitutes will be bought, or buying will be deferred.

The simple fact is that "more pay for less work" means depression and industrial chaos. This has always been true. It was known the very day the strikes began. It takes time for all the people to find out what has been happening, and usually the stock market finds out ahead of time what earnings are going to be like. The holders of stocks apparently have lost confidence in the willingness of the Truman administration to bring about a tightening of the belt in America and the encouragement of hard work. A political administration in Washington has frittered away its opportunity this summer and the further consequences will be apparent in the next several months.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

I see the Russian government doesn't like our musical play, "Oklahoma!" As part of the campaign against "dangerous foreign ideas," the official magazine, "Culture and Life," recently published an article by Konstantine Simonov, panning the American theatre, and specifically taking a pot-shot at "Oklahoma!" Simonov labels it a "very poor effort." It's common knowledge such pronouncements don't get printed in the Soviet Union without first being cleared by the Front Office. In other words, it's official — the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics doesn't like our favorite lollipop.

Billy Rose

Well, aint' that too bad? At the risk of being tagged a reactionary, may I ask Konstantine what's wrong with "Oklahoma!"? I've seen it four times, and my only beef if I didn't get to produce it. I grant you its happy patrons don't walk out of the theatre resolved to catch twenty more rivets the next day. On the other hand, they don't exit determined to kick somebody's face in. You say this evening of gay music, pretty music and spirited dancing "has no purpose." Well, neither has a Strauss waltz, a glass of wine, good tobacco, or a buttercup. In this country, Tovarich, we figure a sunrise is something more than the signal to go to work. We're silly enough to suppose there's more to romance than population statistics. All the pretty things you say are "purposeless" are what make it possible for us to go on living in a punch-drunk world where diplomats still consider people expendable.

I'll bet you a quart of uranium that nothing your subsidized theatre has produced is as popular with your people as "Oklahoma!" is with ours. And, besides, instead of being backed by the government, this show is practically vice versa. Out of the ten-million-or-so it will net, something like seven million will go to our Treasury. Judging by your loan requests, that kind of dough would come in handy, eh Comrade?

Considering that the financial set-up of our theatre doesn't make it very profitable to preach, I think we do pretty well in the social significance department. In fact, we have several left-of-center playwrights whose yearly income would keep the Kremlin in caviar.

It's a good thing your Commissar of Entertainment wasn't around when Rodgers and Hammerstein were writing "Oklahoma!" Strange things might have happened to this gay little valentine. The song titles might have been: "Oh, What a Beautiful Magneto," "People Will Say We're In Trouble," "The Farmer and the Cowboy Should Unite to Build a Better World." The delightful song about the Surrey with the Fringe on Top might have come out as:

"Please don't think that love is a factor
When I take you out in my tractor,
In my lend-lease Michigan tractor
With the hinge on top.
We've no time for cooin' and billin'
There's a quota we must be fillin'
Simonov says that Cupid's a villain
And a bourgeois sop.

Oh, the man in the Kremlin will forget to frown
As we make hay for the nation,
And that picture of Stalin we can roll right down
Whenever we need inspiration.

Don't sing love songs from 'Oklahoma!'
Ain't you heard it's in bad aroma?
If you want that crimson diploma
You must never stop
Perspiring in that tractor with the hinge on the top!"

For two years now, Mr. Simonov, I've been trying to get a visa to go to Russia. I wanted to catch your shows, your orchestras, your ballet. Averill Harriman tried to get me one when he was our Ambassador in Moscow. Last November our embassy in London tried. Both times no dice. Why does your government make it so difficult, Konstantine? When I have a good show, I'm glad to invite the critics.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I was one of the many excited spectators at the Metropolitan Airport to watch the twenty-three entrants and their souped-up planes take off in the famous cross-country Bendix Trophy Race. I should've been excited. . . . I was parked on the runway!

It was a thrilling sight to see those powerful planes zoom off that field. . . it was a sort of Bay Meadows with oxygen. The planes entered were all army surplus models, and just to make sure everything would be "above board" the officials removed the machine guns.

There was a bit of confusion on the runway. Rex Mays, the midget auto racer, refused to take off without a banked turn, and William Lear, Jr., the youngest pilot entered, kept strafing the runway with spitballs.

Too bad I couldn't have gone on to Cleveland to watch them compete in the National Air Races there. When I was a kid in Cleveland, I had an experience at the Pylon Races I'll never forget. . . Everytime I looked up, a plane flew around my nose! I was only twelve at the time, but I can still remember shaking hands with all the famous fliers . . . especially, the Wright brothers.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

No matter what may be said to the contrary, none of use can live but one day at a time. There are those who think that they live several days at a time, or at least that they accomplish several days work in one, but that is only a measurement of work—it isn't living. A day is twenty-four hours, no more, no less. No matter how great or little one's ability, each day to each is measured out exactly alike.

So, to us all, we have this day—that's all. We can speculate, dream, and even worry about the days ahead, but we have no definite assurance that they will be ours. This day we do have, and the greatest opportunity before us is to do the thing at hand, the thing nearest, and which we believe we can do best.

Thus is the valuable habit of useful work acquired, as well as the love for work. By placing a value upon every minute of the day, we greatly increase the sum total of our day's achievement. We give quality to it.

That line in the Lord's Prayer, "Give us this day our daily bread," is significant. It was never meant that we should live more than one day at a time. It is true, however, that many a one can do more in one day than a dozen others, but he can't stretch the hours.

All history is studded with notable days. Days in which some great achievement finally flowered. Can any of us tell the particular day the we may finally flower in some manner or other? It shouldn't be a worry. By conscientious daily application, days take upon themselves stature and enlargement. We grow day by day—but only in one at a time.

What happened yesterday cannot now be recalled and done over again. Here is today! And every minute it is shrinking in length. This day we can partially make up for many a lost day, and set a pattern for many a new one to follow. But we must be deady serious about this one, for never again will it appear. What can we do to make it notable? At least one kind act, or noble thought can make it so!

Kitzmiller Veteran Re-enlists In Navy

William Harold Paugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Paugh, Kitzmiller, re-enlisted in the U. S. Navy as a seaman 1-c, at the local recruiting office, Chief Boatswain Mate Bradford Smith said yesterday.

Chief Smith also reminded those men who are planning to enlist in the navy that the deadline for receiving the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights is October 5. All those who enlist after that date will not be eligible for the provisions of the bill.

Four Men Enlist In Armed Forces

Three men re-enlisted in the army and one joined the Marine Corps at local recruiting stations Wednesday.

James W. Adams, 20, 40 Sharpless street, Keyser, rejoined the army for three years with the infantry in the Pacific. He served previously for two years with the 77th Infantry Division during the battles of the Philippines and Okinawa.

Irvin Richard Van Meter, 24, 520 Virginia avenue, enlisted for three years with the quartermaster corps. He has three years and nine months previous service. Sgt. Frederick James Neff, 26, 402 Pratt street, Luke, rejoined the army air forces for three years. He served in the ETO and has two years and nine months previous service.

William John McBride, 19, Painesville, Ohio, formerly of this city, enlisted in the Marine Corps for two years service. A star football player at Fort Hill High School, he made the All-City football team two years.

key in his room. Highly trained and clever, Lunning's career was, nevertheless, short. Detected by the FBI and arrested by the Cuban National Police he was tried, found guilty and sentenced to face a firing squad. The execution of the six saboteurs who landed on the Eastern coast of the United States brought the total executions of enemy agents in the Western Hemisphere to seven.

Blocked Espionage

We were reasonably sure from the very outbreak of war that espionage was under control not only within the United States but in the entire Western Hemisphere as well. Partial proof lay in the fact that during the war no single enemy-directed act of sabotage occurred. Complete confirmation came when the war was over and we had an opportunity to inspect German espionage records and interview their leaders.

Herman Goering paid us our highest compliment when he said that German Intelligence in the Americas had been poor as the "American FBI had been too observant in uncovering efforts at espionage so that a spy network could not be developed."

I cannot praise too vigorously the loyal, conscientious officials in the Western Hemisphere who cooperated with the FBI to make the Americas secure from enemy sabotage and espionage. The results obtained bring definite proof of what can be accomplished when a united front is presented against a common enemy.

Trooper McElfish Arrests Two Men In Odd Motor Case

What was termed by police as a "complicated situation" in LaVale at an early hour yesterday morning, resulted in the arrest and arraignment in Trial Magistrates' Court here of Thomas B. Lantz, Wiley Ford, W. Va. and Frank Metz, 211 Pear street.

State Trooper William O. McElfish preferred charges of reckless driving and operating a car without a license against Metz, and a charge of being intoxicated on a public highway against Lantz.

The officer said he found Lantz walking along the highway near LaVale sub-station of the Maryland State Police, with a gash above his left eye. Lantz was accompanied by a woman. The man told Trooper McElfish, "I fell from an auto."

While en route to Allegany hospital where Lantz was given treatment for the injury, McElfish saw a car being pushed toward Lovers' Leap Service station. Metz was operating or attempting to operate the vehicle, the officer declared. Before reaching the gas station the car struck an embankment. On investigating, the State Trooper learned the two men had been involved in an altercation at LaVale.

Both were held in the city jail until yesterday morning when Lantz was fined $5 and costs for intoxication and Metz was fined $15 and costs on the two motor law charges.

B. F. Shobe, 508 North Centre street, was fined $5.75 on a charge of failure to keep to right of highway on Route 220. The charge was preferred by State Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch.

John C. Flinn, of 628 Baker street, forfeited $11.45 for driving with an expired instructor's permit on Route 220 Tuesday, and George Leydig, of Hyndman, Pa., forfeited the same amount for speeding on Route 40 at LaVale last Friday. Both were arrested by State Trooper G. M. Rotruck.

Eugene W. Hansel, of Corriganville, forfeited $11.45 for reckless driving on Route 40 at LaVale on Tuesday, and Dudley Edwin Warner, of Greensboro, N. C., forfeited $6.45 for passing on a curve when the way ahead was not clear. Hansel was appreheaded by Trooper Thomas G. Barton and the latter was taken into custody on Route 40 east of Martin's mountain, by Trooper William O. McElfish.

jectives of serving balanced meals. He termed the program "one of health and not a lunch plan."

Kopp said the cafeteria program is self supporting, and no tax money has been used to carry it, that is why the increase is necessary, he added. Should the five cent raise prove insufficient to maintain the cost of the cafeterias, he said, an additional increase will be necessary. However, it is expected that the present 20 cents cost will be ample.

Despite the increase in price, Kopp said, Allegany County will continue to be one of the systems serving meals at low costs. He said in some counties as much as 30 cents per meal is charged.

Children who are unable to pay for the hot lunches will still be provided for, as in the past, the superintendent said. The principals of the schools will determine when a family's economic status prevents the child from paying for his meals, Kopp explained.

Milberg Predicts Early End To Garment Strike

Lester Milberg, president of the Cumberland Undergarment Company, said yesterday he was "more than optimistic" that operations at the local garment plant will resume soon, asserting he was "pretty certain" employes would return to work as soon as they understand conditions.

At a meeting in Allegany Trades Council Hall Wednesday night, workers who struck July 18 for increases in the starting and piece rates at the plant, rejected an ILGWU bid to return to work at the Gay street plant on the basis of increases negotiated by the international union.

Milberg said he felt certain 125 workers would report for work if no pickets were on duty at the plant and said work could be resumed upon an hour's notice.

The plant Milberg added, is equipped to employ 400 persons by December and said the yearly payroll would exceed $600,000 on that basis.

C. E. Stutzman, president of the Allegany Trades Council, did not comment on the vote of the workers to continue the strike which the ILGWU says is still unauthorized, but said the council will discuss the results at its next meeting September 10.

Holiday Question Will Be Discussed Monday

The Mayor and Council decided yesterday that the summer practice of giving City Hall employes a Saturday holiday will be continued tomorrow, and that a decision will be made Monday as to whether the practice will be continued through September 21, when summer officially ends.

The matter was brought up by Commissioner Clifton E. Fuller at the request of City Hall employes.

BAKING TRICK—Using a homemade biscuit mix described by Edalene Stohr, cooking expert, baked products like those in the picture can be achieved with little trouble. Housewives can make their own mix by blending lard with the dry ingredients. With this handy in the refrigerator, it is only a matter of minutes to whisk up some hot biscuits, muffins, coffee cake or current turns.

Cooking Expert Describes Homemade Biscuit Mix For Quick, Easy Baking

By EDALENE STOHR

(Who will conduct the Times-News cooking school Sept. 10-13 at the Strand Theater.)

BREAKFAST MENU

Orange and Grapefruit Juice

Corn Flakes with Top Milk

Crisp Bacon Slices

Marmalade Muffins

Butter or Margarine

Coffee

If you pride yourself on being a modern homemaker, then you like to do things the easy way! You're constantly learning new "tricks of the trade," to make the preparation of family meals easier and more fun.

Making your own quick mixes is one trick that is well worth learning. It saves you time at critical moments — such as when you get home late before dinner, or have unexpected guests. What's even more important to the rest of the family, quick mixes mean more of those delicious hot breads and other bakings that are always such a treat!

An Inspiration To The Cook

Homemade biscuit mix in the refrigerator is a real source of inspiration, when you're short on ideas. It makes no difference whether the meal is breakfast, lunch, dinner or supper—if you just remember the biscuit mix, you'll think of some exciting dish that you can prepare in a jiffy.

For breakfast, it may be hot muffins, perhaps with raisins in them, or a bit of jam or jelly nestling in the top. Then again, you might decide on waffles for a Sunday morning brunch; or a quick coffee cake with a topping of sugar and spice.

If a hurry-up dinner is on your mind, why not make use of the left-over meat and vegetables in the refriegerator? Combine them in a baking dish, with gravy or a sauce and cover them with a biscuit crust. In no time at all, you can serve a meat pie that will make the men folks exclaim in admiration.

Or maybe it's the dessert that's worrying you. In that case, how about a fruit shortcake, or a luscious, juicy cobbler? Perhaps apple dumplings are a family favorite, served in bowls with plenty of rich cream. They're all so easy when you have biscuit mix on hand!

What's In The Mix

When you make up a batch of biscuit mix, you're simply mixing the dry ingredients and shortening for standard baking powder bisuits. The dry ingredients include flour, salt and baking powder. These are measured and sifted, then blended with lard.

You do this ahead of time, and store the mix in a covered container in the refrigerator. Then, later, you stir in the liquid, roll or pat out the dough, and use it in any way you choose. Of course, other ingredients may be added in the final mixing, if resired.

Here are your tested recipes for the biscuit mix and instructions for making biscuits and muffins. There are good reasons for using lard for the shortening. Lard is economical, and easy to handle at almost any temperature. It also gives richness and tenderness to your finished bakings.

Homemade Biscuit Mix

8 cups sifted flour
⅓ cup baking powder
4 teaspoons salt
1½ cups lard (or 1 cup, if soft wheat flour is used)

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in lard until the mixture has a fine, even crumb. Place in closed container and keep in refrigerator, using as desired. Makes 5 batches biscuits, with 2 cups of mix to the match.

Biscuits And Variations

To make biscuits: Add ½ cup milk to 2 cups homemade biscuit mix, or enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface and knead gently for ½ minute. Pat or roll out ½-inch thick. Cut with floured biscuit cutter, or in squares or diamonds with a sharp knife. Place on baking sheet and bake in hot oven (450° F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

To make pinwheels. Mix biscuit dough the same as for biscuits. Roll out in a rectangle ¼-inch thick. Spread with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon; or spread with any desired filling. Roll like a jelly roll and cut in ½-inch slices. Bake, cut side down, on baking sheet for 12 to 15 minutes in hot oven (450° F.).

Plain Muffins

2 cups homemade biscuit mix
½ cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup milk

Add sugar to biscuit mix. Add eggs and milk, stirring only until flour is all moistened. Fill greased muffin tins ⅔ full. Bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) for 15 to 20 minutes.

Variation: Place teaspoonful of jam, jelly or marmalade in the center of each muffin, after filling muffin tins and before baking.

Engine Trouble Forces Plane Down At Hyndman

HYNDMAN, Pa.—Engine trouble forced a twin-engine Cessna Bobcat to make an emergency landing in a field at Hyndman at 9 a. m. yesterday.

The pilot, Robert S. Adams said one engine was ready to "conk" out so he came down. He made temporary repairs, had a sandwich, bought some gasoline and then took off for Cumberland Municipal Airport where repairs were completed.

Shortly after noon Adams took off for Virginia Beach.

The Prince Albert coat was named not for the consort of Queen Victoria but for their oldest son, later King Edward VII.

BAKING TRICK— Using a homemade biscuit mix described by Edalene Stohr, cooking expert, baked products like those in the picture can be achieved with little trouble. Housewives can make their own mix by blending lard with the dry ingredients. With this handy in the refrigerator, it is only a matter of minutes to whisk up some hot biscuits, muffins, coffee cake or current turns.

If you pride yourself on being a modern homemaker, then you like to do things the easy way! You're constantly learning new "tricks of the trade," to make the preparation of family meals easier and more fun.

Making your own quick mixes is one trick that is well worth learning. It saves you time at critical moments — such as when you get home late before dinner, or have unexpected guests. What's even more important to the rest of the family, quick mixes mean more of those delicious hot breads and other bakings that are always such a treat!

An Inspiration To The Cook

Homemade biscuit mix in the refrigerator is a real source of inspiration, when you're short on ideas. It makes no difference whether the meal is breakfast, lunch, dinner or supper—if you just remember the biscuit mix, you'll think of some exciting dish that you can prepare in a jiffy.

For breakfast, it may be hot muffins, perhaps with raisins in them, or a bit of jam or jelly nestling in the top. Then again, you might decide on waffles for a Sunday morning brunch; or a quick coffee cake with a topping of sugar and spice.

If a hurry-up dinner is on your mind, why not make use of the left-over meat and vegetables in the refriegerator? Combine them in a baking dish, with gravy or a sauce and cover them with a biscuit crust. In no time at all, you can serve a meat pie that will make the men folks exclaim in admiration.

Or maybe it's the dessert that's worrying you. In that case, how about a fruit shortcake, or a luscious, juicy cobbler? Perhaps apple dumplings are a family favorite, served in bowls with plenty of rich cream. They're all so easy when you have biscuit mix on hand!

What's In The Mix

When you make up a batch of biscuit mix, you're simply mixing the dry ingredients and shortening for standard baking powder biscuits. The dry ingredients include flour, salt and baking powder. These are measured and sifted, then blended with lard.

Westernport Men Build Minature Railroad Train

LeRoy Shaw, 30, and John R. Zais, 47, formerly of Westernport, are gaining considerable publicity in and around Baltimore with a miniature stream-lined railroad train and complete railroad system, which they built in their spare time at their homes near Westport, Baltimore, last winter.

The train, now installed at the Timonium Fair, is hauling hundreds of passengers daily, and is a popular novelty-ride with adults as well as youngsters.

Operated with a gasoline motor the miniature engine resembles a stream-lined Deisel, and pulls three miniature passenger coaches, where the "customers" ride. Traveling on a large circle or narrow-gauge track, the system has switches, crossing signals and all the things that make up a full-sized railroad.

The train has been exhibited and used as a novelty ride at several places in and around Baltimore and has received wide publicity in Baltimore and nearby newspapers.

Zais is a brother of Howard Zais, contractor of 901 Yale street, here, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. S. Zais, 51 Greene street. He was formerly employed in the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Mill at Luke as a foreman, but went to Baltimore in 1941 to engage in war work. He is still employed there.

Shaw is also well known in this section and formerly operated a tire repair shop in Westernport. He sold his shop and moved to Baltimore to engage in war work during the war.

Washington hears that Stalin recently rejected an offer from President Truman to meet him personally half way, somewhere at sea, giving "ill health" as his reason. . . Sweden has been unofficially tipped off that her proposed trade deal with Russia and Russia's satellities could in time be considered a breach of neutrality. . . The American Federation of Labor has bluntly informed President Truman, by letter, that he must choose which team he wants to play on—the AFL or the CIO. . . . STRAWS IN THE WIND

BROADWAY

By DANTON WALKER

Washington hears that Stalin recently rejected an offer from President Truman to meet him personally half way, somewhere at sea, giving "ill health" as his reason. . . Some people believe Stalin is no longer in the land of the living and hasn't been since his "vacation" nearly a year ago . . . Sweden has been unofficially tipped off that her proposed trade deal with Russia and Russia's satellities could in time be considered a breach of neutrality. . . Dr. Lise Meitner, the German scientist who aided in developing the atom bomb, is said to be experimenting in Sweden, where there are sizable uranium deposits . . . The impasse between Russia and her erstwhile allies due to come to a head within 90 days.

Lana Turner

The American Federation of Labor has bluntly informed President Truman, by letter, that he must choose which team he wants to play on—the AFL or the CIO. . . . The split between Henry Wallace and the CIO-PAC, which has been kept very quiet up to now, will flare into the headlines as the November elections approach. . . China will furnish the next dateline for irregularities in war surplus sales. . . Britain won't renew her synthetic rubber agreement with us at the end of the year. Starting next month, the United Kingdom will take nothing but the real thing. . . . Winston Churchill liked Miami Beach so well that he'll spend of next winter there strictly as a private citizen. The steel industry's New Year gift to the U. S. will be another strike.

The Internal Revenue Department is sending a special tax unit to New York to probe the income tax returns of everybody during the lush years. Several hundred nite club employes made more than $100,000 per annum, eleven hit the six figure mark. . . Harlow Shapley and a dozen other professors will put in a bid this week for radio stations in Connecticut to serve UN members exclusively. The outlet will be a new type FM radio and sets will be distributed by manufacturers to UN delegation, which is expected to raise a public clamor. . Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughn, President Truman's military aid, wouldn't be averse to succeeding Gen. Bradley as head of the Veterans' Administration.

Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson, Byrnes' present right hand man, due to resign as soon as a satisfactory replacement can be found, with his deadline the first week in December. . . . Maybe it's a bum steer but the AFL is rumored to be rounding up the cowboys for a new union. . . Saratoga Springs says it would welcome the United Nations organization as a permanent fixture. . . The Luces, Harry and Clare, are reported to have acquired another 80-acre estate near Ridgefield, Conn. . . The Interstate Commerce Commission due for an internal housecleaning. . . The new William Z. Foster policy for parlor pinks and fellow travelers is either to publicly announce their affiliations with the Communist Party or to drop out altogether. . . Look for Joe Louis to take some cracks at the Commies of his own race as soon as the Mauriello fight is out of the way.

Pola Negri says it isn't so; her trip to England resulted in a co-producing, co-starring deal, due next May. . . Joan Crawford's two weeks' walkout at Warners the result of a feud over a camera man who was replaced by one of her choice. . . . Garbo's expected comeback to be in the role of the Divine Sarah (Bernhardt). . . The Johnston office has laid down the law to movie starlets; no more phony "engagements," subsequently broken off, for publicity purposes. . . M.-G.-M., a little late, is to give Lana Turner a "good girl" buildup. . . Boston town quietly preparing to turn over the entire city to the Red Sox when they win the pennant . . Fireworks going on behind the scenes at "The Temporary Mrs. Smith" over a member of the cast who insists on being permanent. The comedy fighting team of Maxies, Baer and Rosenbloom, often rumored to be feuding, due to split up with a bang around Jan. 1.

I DO NOT LIKE SMUT

I do not like smut.

There is no high moral code about this remark. The simple fact is—I don't care for smut because it bores me.

It doesn't matter in what form it comes—bound as a best seller, printed on a French postcard, or snickered over a bridge table—my reaction is the same.

I resent smut because it insults my intelligence.

Despite our drooling appreciation of it, sex is neither a very complicated or sophisticated subject. A toad knows as much about it as a man, and nine-tenths of our sex agitation is strictly on the toad level. Having crawled a few inches above the toad level, I am now amused by the reproductive processes of mud puddles.

Personally I doubt if our present epidemic of obscene literature will damage anyone mentally for I am sure that no one with even rudimentary intelligence would read the stuff. The plots are all nauseatingly similar. Chapter One opens with our heroine leaping from bed to bed and Chapter Sixty closes with her still leaping. Maybe I lack the spark of something but the only reaction I get from such calisthenics is lumbago.

There is one effect of the situation, however, which leaves me with a distinctly bad taste in my mouth, namely, the fact that women are undoubtedly the hottest fans for this sort of garbage. By the nature of my various jobs, I spent most of my life working with men. But I have heard more dirty stories in one hour from women — swank dames too — than I have ever heard in five years from men. That is the truth. Women are the ones who besiege the lending libraries for the latest stinko and spend hours devouring it and phoning Mabel the spicy details.

I don't know whether the girls are frustrated or studious, but reading dirty books is no way to remedy either condition.

There is another angle which does really rouse my ire. I refer to the effect of obscene literature on the younger generation. I do not mean that it shocks them or tells them anything they do not already know. It is very difficult to shock or enlighten any young modern. But it does give them an entirely false idea of the fundamental values of life. It deludes them into thinking that sex, per se, will provide a lasting and exciting bond between the sexes. Than which there could be no greater fallacy.

Sex is a vitally important function in the human program. When it is accompanied by love, esteem, respect or devoted companionship it can lift man to sublime heights of devotion and sacrifice. But when it is on a purely animal plane it does nothing of the sort and soon becomes one of the most tiresome and unreliable of human functions.

That is why I intensely resent the dirty books which are now so freely circulating or being made into movies. I can stand my personal boredom when filth is introduced because I am quite able to rise from my chair and go out of the room. But I cannot go out of the room when a whole generation of plastic, highly emotional youngsters is being sold filthy and vicious lies by their dirty minded elders.

We talk a lot about the progress and culture of our American blood. But to judge by the best sellers, the goats have nothing on us.

P. S. And I'm not for censors either. I am merely for decent, self respecting adults who can keep their thoughts above the waist line.

(Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The heat necessary to melt one gallon of ice would, if converted into pumping power, lift more than 200 gallons of water to a height of 100 feet.

Esther W. Copeland Vs. Ozzie Ray Copeland.
No. 19503 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII.

The Bill states that the Complainant is an adult resident of Allegany County, and on March 5, 1932, was married to the defendant at Cumberland, Maryland; that two children were born of said marriage; that, although the conduct of the Complainant was above reproach, the defendant deserted and abandoned her more than eighteen months prior to the filing of the Bill of Complaint, and there is no reasonable hope of a reconciliation; that the said defendant, Ozzie Ray Copeland, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon this 14th day of August, 1946, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, that the Complainant cause a copy of this Order, with the object of said Bill of Complaint to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 15th. day of September, 1946, giving notice to the said Ozzie Ray Copeland to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 1st. day of October, 1946, to show cause, if any he have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

The plots are all nauseatingly similar. Chapter One opens with our heroine leaping from bed to bed and Chapter Sixty closes with her still leaping. Maybe I lack the spark of something but the only reaction I get from such calisthenics is lumbago.

There is one effect of the situation, however, which leaves me with a distinctly bad taste in my mouth, namely, the fact that women are undoubtedly the hottest fans for this sort of garbage. By the nature of my various jobs, I spent most of my life working with men. But I have heard more dirty stories in one hour from women — swank dames too — than I have ever heard in five years from men. That is the truth. Women are the ones who besiege the lending libraries for the latest stinko and spend hours devouring it and phoning Mabel the spicy details.

I don't know whether the girls are frustrated or studious, but reading dirty books is no way to remedy either condition.

There is another angle which does really rouse my ire. I refer to the effect of obscene literature on the younger generation. I do not mean that it shocks them or tells them anything they do not already know. It is very difficult to shock or enlighten any young modern. But it does give them an entirely false idea of the fundamental values of life. It deludes them into thinking that sex, per se, will provide a lasting and exciting bond between the sexes. Than which there could be no greater fallacy.

Sex is a vitally important function in the human program. When it is accompanied by love, esteem, respect or devoted companionship it can lift man to sublime heights of devotion and sacrifice. But when it is on a purely animal plane it does nothing of the sort and soon becomes one of the most tiresome and unreliable of human functions.

That is why I intensely resent the dirty books which are now so freely circulating or being made into movies. I can stand my personal boredom when filth is introduced because I am quite able to rise from my chair and go out of the room. But I cannot go out of the room when a whole generation of plastic, highly emotional youngsters is being sold filthy and vicious lies by their dirty minded elders.

We talk a lot about the progress and culture of our American blood. But to judge by the best sellers, the goats have nothing on us.

P. S. And I'm not for censors either. I am merely for decent, self respecting adults who can keep their thoughts above the waist line

Leo Jason Named Language Head At State College

Former Colorado Professor Will Direct Newly Formed Classes At Frostburg

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Sept. 5 — Leo Jason, for the past 10 years assistant professor in the Department of Modern Languages at the Colorado School of Mines, has been appointed to head the Department of Romance Languages at State Teachers College, Frostburg. This is a new department at the college, as languages are being offered for the first time under the enlarged junior college curriculum.

At the Colorado School of Mines, Jason conducted classes in elementary, advanced, and technical Spanish, and classes in elementary and scientific French. Recently, he has been engaged in the organization and presentation of a special intensive course in English for foreign students. This course has developed effectively many of the most important recent devices for visual and aural language instruction, and its success is attested by the fact that it was recently awarded a grant from the Rockfeller Foundation. It is believed that the techniques developed will prove of inestimable value in all language teaching.

Jason completed his undergraduate training at the University of California at Los Angeles in 1930, and received the degree of Master of Arts from the University of Kansas in 1932. Subsequently, he did additional graduate work toward the doctorate at the University of California. He and his wife, and 2-year-old daughter will arrive in Frostburg from Colorado next week for the opening of the college on Wednesday, September 11.

The morning service was opened with an address of welcome by Rev. Olonzo P. The church, located one mile outside of Accident, has about 115 communicant members and a Sunday School with an average enrollment of 67. There is also a Ladies Aid Society whose members give the church loyal support.

The church building was recently remodeled. The interior is painted cream and buff and the altar is finished in light oak.

W. Va. Man Fined $100 For Carrying Pistol

Russell F. Fetty, Morgantown, W. Va., was fined $100 and costs in Trial Magistrates' Court yesterday on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon without proper permission.

Arraigned before Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., Fetty entered a plea of guilty, saying he had $414 on his person and was carrying a 32 calibre pistol for protection.

Police said Fetty, who stated he was enroute to Florida from Morgantown, went to the Maryland Hotel on North Mechanic street, brandished the weapon in the clerk's face and demanded a room. He was under the influence of alcohol at the time, they added.

Following the gun-waving incident, Fetty entered the adjoining cocktail lounge and Officers Ernest M. Powell and Louis D. Downey apprehended him at the bar after being notified. He was booked at headquarters at 9:50 p. m.

All-Time Coal Loading Record Set By B & O

An all-time high record for coal loading was made on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad yesterday, with a total of 4897 cars. This tops by 608 cars the previous high record of June 4, of this year, when the loading was 4289 cars.

Although the new record reflects the empty cars placed at the mines during the holiday weekend, it is basically due to the fact that the mines are trying to catch up on their huge backlog of orders. These indicate the current high industrial production of the country, the need of building up fuel reserves and the large demand for export coal.

Almost 42,000 of the total of more than 90,000 cars owned and leased by the Baltimore and Ohio are hopper cars used primarily for coal loading. In addition, the B & O expects delivery beginning during the fourth quarter of this year on 2000 additional hoppers and has just asked for bids on another order of 2000.

Jason completed his undergraduate training at the University of California at Los Angeles in 1930 and received the degree of Master of Arts from the University of Kansas in 1932. Subsequently, he did additional graduate work toward the doctorate at the University of California. The church, located one mile outside of Accident, has about 115 communicant members and a Sunday School with an average enrollment of 67. There is also a Ladies Aid Society whose members give the church loyal support.

The church building was recently remodeled. The interior is painted cream and buff and the altar is finished in light oak.

W. Va. Man Fined $100 For Carrying Pistol

Russell F. Petty, Morgantown, W. Va., was fined $100 and costs in Trial Magistrates' Court yesterday on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon without proper permission.

Arraigned before Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., Petty entered a plea of guilty, saying he had $414 on his person and was carrying a .32 calibre pistol for protection.

Police said Petty, who stated he was enroute to Florida from Morgantown, went to the Maryland Hotel on North Mechanic street, brandished the weapon in the clerk's face and demanded a room. He was under the influence of alcohol at the time, they added.

Following the gun-waving incident, Petty entered the adjoining cocktail lounge and Officers Ernest M. Powell and Louis D. Downey apprehended him at the bar after being notified. He was booked at headquarters at 9:50 p. m.

All-Time Coal Loading Record Set By B & O

An all-time high record for coal loading was made on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad yesterday, with a total of 4897 cars. This tops by 608 cars the previous high record of June 4, of this year, when the loading was 4289 cars.

Although the new record reflects the empty cars placed at the mines during the holiday weekend, it is basically due to the fact that the mines are trying to catch up on their huge backlog of orders. These indicate the current high industrial production of the country, the need of building up fuel reserves and the large demand for export coal.

Almost 42,000 of the total of more than 90,000 cars owned and leased by the Baltimore and Ohio are hopper cars used primarily for coal loading. In addition, the B & O expects delivery beginning during the fourth quarter of this year on 2000 additional hoppers and has just asked for bids on another order of 2000.

Monthly Benefits In Social Security Total $31,620.56

Benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program totaling $31,620.56 a month are now in force for 1,876 residents of the area served by the Cumberland field office, William W. Wood, Jr., manager of the Cumberland office of the Social Security Board, reported yesterday.

These figures compare with $28,190.60 monthly benefits in force for 1,692 men, women and children six months ago.

The monthly benefits are distributed as follows:

699 retired workers, age 65 or over, receiving $15,172.07 a month.
229 retired workers' wives, age 65 or over, receiving $2,606.75 a month;
232 young widows with children under 18, receiving $4,376.92 a month; 606 children of retired or deceased workers, receiving $7,446.14 a month; 98 widows, 65 or over, of insured workers, receiving $1,891.82 a month; and 11 aged dependent parents of deceased workers, receiving $136.91 a month.

In addition, more than $10,320.62 in lump sums has been paid in the last six months on the wage records of insured workers who died leaving no one immediately eligible for monthly benefit payments.

Wood is manager of the office that serves the area including Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland and Grant, Hampshire, Hardy, Mineral and Pendleton counties in West Virginia.

He said that although every effort is made to inform persons covered by the Social Security Act of their rights under that act, a number of benefit payments are lost by persons otherwise eligible because they delay filing or fail to file claims for those benefits.

"It is necessary that a claim be filed for benefits," Wood said, "they do not come automatically to otherwise eligible persons. The person who is qualified to receive benefits must apply for them, and the place to do that is the nearest field office of the Social Security Board."

No charge is made for services performed by the Social Security Board offices, and persons desiring information or advice are urged to get in touch with the field office here, Wood stated. He added that when a worker in covered employment is nearing or has reached the age of 65, he should contact the nearest field office, whether or not he intends to continue working.

"When a worker in covered employment dies, a member of the immediate family or nearest relative should contact the field office at once, whether or not they know that the worker was insured. If monthly benefits are payable, and there is a delay of more than three months in filing, the benefits for those additional months will be lost," Wood said.

Rap O' Ram Club Plans Holiday Festivities

The Rap O'Ram Club, made up of members of the class of 1941 of La-Salle, met Wednesday night at the Knights of Columbus hall, North Mechanic street and outlined plans for a banque and dance to be held during the Christmas holidays.

Lino Franchi, 454 Walnut street, president of the club named a committee including Jack McPartland, 807 Maryland avenue, chairman; John Martz, Baltimore Pike; William Smith, 318 Beall street, and Joseph Kenny, 7 Market street.

The committee will meet at Franchi's home at 8 p. m. September 16, to complete arrangements for the dance. It was decided last night that each member of the class could invite two couples as guests to the dance, but the dinner will be for the class only.

Franchi said any members of the class not present last night should contact officers or members of the committee for further details.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5—Over the luncheon table Rosalind Russell told me that she talked to Sister Kenny who is working night and day on 1,800 cases of polio in Minnesota. "Sister" is eager to have the picture based on her life released as soon as possible because she feels some lives could be saved by mothers who would give their children her treatment until the doctors could reach the bedside of the little ones. Roz's characterization of "Sister Kenny" is an Academy performance. She is beautiful, glamorous and intelligent as the young Elizabeth Kenny. As the older woman she is dominant and impressive. She even walks, talks and acts like Sister Kenny.

Rosalind Russell

Roz and I, chatting as women do, also discussed that new Independent Artists Company which she, Freddie Brisson, her husband and Dudley Nichols have formed to make pictures. The idea for their first movie "Happiness of Pursuit," came out of the busy-brained girl friend. She'll star in it but the second picture "Valor II," a sea epic, will have another star. Roz still has commitments at R. K. O. and Columbia.

If Trem Carr had lived we would now be printing a story that Gene Autry had signed a new deal with Monogram. The contracts were all ready for Gene's John Hancock and he was offered $200,000 a picture and a percentage of the profits after the films earned their negative costs. He was to have made four pictures a year—two in color and two in black and white. My arithmetic isn't too good, but I figure that would be about a million a year. I might add, the death of Trem Carr is not canceling the Autry contract, only delaying it and you can expect any day now to hear that the singing, fast-riding cowboy has left Republic for Monogram.

Let the other actresses become producers, Irene Dunne is satisfied to be a motion picture theater owner—and I mean just that! Irene, who has one of the most level heads of any actress I know (she's awfully p-r-e-t-t-y and awfully smart, too) has been quietly buying up theaters in and around Las Vegas. She and her husband, Dr. Francis Griffin, who also is not short on grey matter, are planning to acquire a chain of motion picture theaters. Sounds like a money making project to me. P. S. Irene looks so glamorous with her hair a bit lighter, suggested no doubt by the red tresses she wore in "Life With Father."

Just love that Jimmie Durante. He heard I was on the MGM lot and although he and Esther Williams had finished their dance rehearsal they put on a routine replete with chorus for my entertainment. Wish you could all have seen the number in which Jimmie's schnozola gets in the way. But you will see and hear the snappy lyrics when "This Time for Keeps" is released. Esther says she expects her baby in four months, "and," she added, "I haven't had time to be sick or to worry about myself. My advice to all women who expect babies is to keep busy and you won't have time to think about yourself."

Chatter in Hollywood: There was something poignant and very touching about the Hollywood leave-taking of Harold Russell, the handless veteran who came out here and received so much publicity for a role in "The Best Years of Our Lives." After finishing the picture, Harold and his bride, caught the first train back to Cambridge, Mass., where he resumes his study of advertising at Boston University. But, on the ride to the station, he took one last look around Hollywood and said, philosophically, "Well, anyway—it was fun while it lasted"—and then he gave a boxers' greeting with his artificial hands!

Rory Calhoun, the kid who goes out of his way to look like Clark Gable—at least, in the photographs he has taken—has been borrowed from Selznick to star in "Adventure Island" for Pine and Thomas. The Robert Louis Stevenson thriller, originally titled "Ebbtide" gives Rory his first starring role in the same part Ray Milland played when "Ebbtide" was originally made by Paramount several years ago. And right here I have a little word of advice for young Calhoun: Now that your big break is at hand—don't overdo that resemblance to Gable. There's not a top star in the business who is a carbon copy of another great star. Stick to your own personality and—be yourself.

One of the pictures I saw via my "parlor" was "Caesar and Cleopatra". I can see why it cost $5,000,000 with those stupendius, colossal, terrific (pardon me, Hollywood) sets. I am surprised that the British press gave it bad reviews, because I admit I enjoyed it, although I was heartsick at Vivian Leigh's makeup. What London needs is a Perc Westmore. That lovely enchanting creature who still reigns in our hearts as Scarlet O'Hara suffered from too much eye shadow and too heavily beaded eyelashes. But all of you will want to see the young Cleopatra who is "educated" by the great warrior, the Caesar who once said, "all Gaul is divided into three parts."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Maria Montez and Jean Pierre Aumont, who take off from New York, Thursday for Europe, will attend the International Festival of Pictures at Cannes. Maria's wardrobe is out of this world . . . The young son of Mark Hellinger has a badly bruised head, the result of getting in the way of a fractious horse . . . . Erroll Flynn's sister, Rosemary Elliott, gets her divorce from James Hunter next week. Another divorce quietly granted in Las Vegar was that of the John Sheppards. You'd never have known because his real name is Strudwick . . . . Poor little Susan Peters has been in the hospital again . . . . Don the Beachcomber has created the nearest thing to Hawaii possible at his Encino Ranch. Bamboo and palm trees and lakes complete the illusion, and invitations are much in demand. His guests wore leis, grass skirts and sarongs. While I didn't go quite that far, it was too cold for me, I did enjoy seeing Bing Crosby done up in the brightest red shirt. We went right from our broadcast. Bill Powell in striped blue and white gingham trousers and coat. Sonja Henie in printed silk pajamas, Edgar Bergen wearing a cap covered with magnolia and a lei around his neck. We all sat on the ground to eat the suckling pig roasted in the ground and the fish cooked in leaves. Reggy Gardiner and Nadia's costume were completely native. Franchot Tone's pretty wife also wore a sarong. She's so pretty she can get away with anything. Jennifer Jones arrived with David Selznick, the only guest in fashionable attire. On the way back we stopped at the Bull Pen for ice cream. Eddie Garr, former actor who runs it, recognized me and added hot apple pie and it was so good it didn't even give me indigestion . . . . Norma Shearer will wear Mainbocher gowns in her comeback movie for David Lewis; . . . . Talk about gowns! "The Atom Bomb" shown with Adrian's collection is so lovely that 12 of our beauties bought it. We'll think an atom bomb hit us if all 12 wear it at the same party. Adrian's clothes are yummy this year, better than ever. I like his pleated sleeves with color showing through the black gowns. Howard Greer had some good looking clothes too, Shirley Temple bought a wool number embroidered with Christmas trees. On her it looked adorable. Don't tell me our Hollywood dressmakers have anything to fear from the French designers. That's all today,

Mississippi is the nation's top tung oil producer.

Eddie Garr, former actor who runs it, recognized me and added hot apple pie and it was so good it didn't even give me indigestion . . . Norma Shearer will wear Mainbocher gowns in her comeback movie for David Lewis; . . . Talk about gowns! "The Atom Bomb" shown with Adrian's collection is so lovely that 12 of our beauties bought it. We'll think an atom bomb hit us if all 12 wear it at the same party. Adrian's clothes are yummy this year, better than ever. I like his pleated sleeves with color showing through the black gowns. Howard Greer had some good looking clothes too. Shirley Temple bought a wool number embroidered with Christmas trees. On her it looked adorable. Don't tell me our Hollywood dressmakers have anything to fear from the French designers. That's all today,

Cards Hold Lead Of Two Games By Downing Cubs

Brooklyn Squeezes Out 1 To 0 Victory Over Boston To Stay In Hot Pennant Chase

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals protected their two-game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight by trouncing the Chicago Cubs 10 to 1 on thirteen hits off five pitchers.

What promised to be a southpaw pitchers's duel between Harry (The Cat) Brecheen and Johnny Schmitz faded in the third after five Redbird hits and a wobbly Cubs defense that included two errors resulted in four St. Louis runs.

Beall Football Coach To Meet Players Today

An enthusiastic group of candidates for Beall High's football team is expected to report to Coach Joseph Hoopengardner, when he holds his first meeting this morning at 10 o'clock, Principal Arthur W. Taylor said, last night.

Taylor said actual work will begin Monday at 3:30 o'clock after school. He estimated that well over 100 boys will try out for positions on Beall's first team in many years.

Hoopengardner will devote the first few days to physical exercise and fundamentals of the game, Taylor said. He explained that all of the equipment hadn't arrived yet, and the candidates will train in trunks for the first day or two.

Practice session will be held in front of the school for the present, the principal said but Hoopengardner plans to meet the boys today and get a general idea of what he will have to form a team this fall.

Cavanaugh Heads New Association Grid Officials

Organization Will Replace One That Died Out During World War II

Football officials from Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia met last night to form a new association before the opening of the fall season and elected John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, president and Daniel Staley, secretary-treasurer.

Cavanaugh said the group adopted the by-laws and regulations that were used by the old Western Maryland Association during the late 1930's and made plans to hold a joint official-coach meeting Thursday night, September 12 at 8 o'clock in the Board of Education office.

New football rules and controversal decisions made during the past few years were discussed with a great deal of attention being given to a new rule which permits only two players from the same team to enter the game while the clock is running.

Cavanaugh said the new Western-ern Maryland, Eastern West Virginia Football Officials Association, will replace the Western Maryland Association which ceased to function during the war.

The association will approve officials for high school football games in this section, Cavanaugh explained. He said a second meeting will be held September 12, to complete work before the fall season opens here.

Attending last night's meeting were Arthur Ramey, John Blaugh, William Spangler, John Angellatta, Edward Milbrada, William "Huck" Mires, Judson Hodges, Clifford Fearer, Chuck Collette and Cavanaugh and Staley.

The association members paid particular attention to the new fumble rule when a ball goes out of bounds, Cavanaugh said, and the rule governoring players leaving the field at the nearest point to the sidelines.

Blocking punts behind the line of scrimmage and possession of the ball on partially block punts were also aired, the new president said.

The rule on players entering the game will permit coaches to send in two substitutes without stopping the clock, Cavanaugh said, while formerly they were required to call time for all substitutions.

The new fumble rule permits the team that has possession of the ball when it goes out of bounds to keep it, Cavanaugh explained, instead of the team that touches it last. Previously the team whose player touched the ball as it was going out of bounds was given the ball.

The new association plans to meet once a week during the coming season and will meet twice a week during the first few weeks, Cavanaugh said.

Resumption of the series for the City Softball League championship is scheduled for today when Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion meets the North End Social and Athletic Club at 5:10 p. m. at Stitcher Field.

The first game of a dual bill will be the continuation of Wednesday's tilt which was halted by darkness in the seventh frame with the Legion out in front by the score of 11-10. The Legion had two runners on the hassocks and one batter retired when the game was called in the top half of the final inning.

The second game of the series will follow immediately.

The teams split even in six games during the regular campaign.

Managers "Who Really Teach" Receive Share Loop Prexy's Vote

EASTON, Md., Sept. 5 (AP)—President Thomas J. Kibler, of the stormy little Class D Eastern Shore League, said today he had suggested to several clubs that they hire managers "who will really teach youngsters to play baseball".

Kibler recently handed out a batch of fines and suspensions to club managers and players and stopped selling of soft drinks in bottles. State police had to escort an umpire from a park in one incident and there was a rash of bottle throwing at several games when managers argued with the umps.

"I've watched teams play at the beginning and the end of the season, and sometimes they're no better than when they started," Kibler told the local Rotary Club.

"I say, pay whatever it costs to get a manager who will be a teacher, who will really operate a club as a training school for the big leagues."

Baltimore Teams Win In Tourney

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 5 (AP)—Cowan Fast Freight of Baltimore chalked up two victories today in the annual All-American Amateur Baseball Tournament to top nine survivors with a record of three wins and no losses.

The Baltimore City champions edged the American Legion nine of Valley Stream, Long Island, N. Y., 4 to 3, after winning an overtime battle from Fleetwings of Queens County, N. Y., 5 to 4 in ten innings.

Elkton, champions of Maryland's Susquehanna League, staged a four run rally in the sixth to defeat Waterbury, Conn., 4 to 2, and moved into a deadlock with the idle Naiman Photo nine of Washington, D. C. each with two wins and no losses.

The other six survivors all have one setback on their record, with the two local representatives coming through with victories today. Ensminger Studio, champions of Harrisburg, eliminated Elmira, N. Y. from the tournament, 5 to 2, and Olmsted Field Flyers, champions at Dauphin county, handed a 5 to 1 setback to parade ground Mohawks, of Brooklyn.

Virginia May Have Another Dudley In Former Marine

Coach Rates George Grimes As His Best Kicker And Passer

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Sept. 5 (AP)—The University of Virginia may have another grid star who can romp like Bill Dudley, and as a result, the 1946 edition of the Cavaliers may be the finest in a long time.

This so-called carbon copy of Bluefield Bullet Bill, Virginia's first All-America in 1941, is a 188-pound former Marine lieutenant from Tazewell, Va., named George Grimes, a halfback.

Grimes does everything with that pigskin. He kicks magnificently flips bullet aerials and get along well on the ground.

Head Coach Art Guepe praised Grimes as his best kicker and passer and predicted this Virginia squad boasting 27 lettermen would have a lot that once-beaten 1941 outfit Dudley played on didn't have.

Replacements Plentiful

Guepe said this season, he had sufficient replacements to take the starting team out of action without hurting the team's attack or defense.

The big backfield guns undoubtedly will be Grimes, John Duda, Scarbro, W. Va., whom Guepe described as the "kind of a fellow to have when you need that extra foot for a first down—a sparkplug"; Ray Brown, Falls Church, Va., regular halfback opposite Duda and Virginia's best scorer in 1945; Joe Black, Bluefield, W. Va., transfer from Virginia Military Institute; Samuel Fray, Culpeper, Va., the squad's fastest man; George Neff, Charlottesville, Va., experienced quarterback, who may be the key to Guepe's "T" formation attack; Grover Jones, Wilmington, Del., to name several.

Guepe regards Grimes, Brown, Black and John Ebner, Caldwell, N. J. as his four best passers and those same first three plus Donald Gutman, West Orange, N. J., as his finest kickers.

Ends Are Big Weakness

The Cavaliers' biggest weakness, Guepe said, are the ends.

Guepe rattled off the names of five outstanding guards—Stuart Barbour, Roanoke, Va.; James Dickerson, Memphis, Tenn.; Bruce Wood, Hampton, Va.; Rufus Roberts, Culpeper, Va., and Van Dyke Jones, Belle Mead, N. J. The Cavalier coach figured the guard positions are his "best fortified" slots.

The Cavaliers are apparently well fixed at the tackles, too, because All-State Joe Kirkland is back along with Ed Steckmesser of the 1941 eleven. The center spot may be a tossup between Lockwood Frizzell, Charlottesville, Va., and Leroy Neustedter, Milwaukee, Wis., shifted to the pivot hole from fullback where he was a regular in 1939 and 1940.

Scott Is Reclassified

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 5, (AP)—Clyde (Smackover) Scott, who had been expected to be star wingback of the University of Arkansas football team next fall, was notified by his Union county draft board today that he had been reclassified 1-A.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5 (AP)—Although he needed help in the eighth inning, rookie righthander Randy Gumpert was credited with his 10th victory of the season as the New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-2 today.

The winners piled up a commanding lead in the first three innings at the expense of Dick Fowler in the first inning with a safe bunt and scored on Bill Johnson's double. Two more Yankees crossed the plate on singles by Aaron Robinson and Nick Etten and a walk to Charlie Keller. Box:

Cards Hold Lead Of Two Games By Downing Cubs

Brooklyn Squeezes Out 1 To 0 Victory Over Boston To Stay In Hot Pennant Chase

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals protected their two-game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight by trouncing the Chicago Cubs 10 to 1 on thirteen hits off five pitchers.

What promised to be a southpaw pitchers's duel between Harry (The Cat) Brecheen and Johnny Schmitz faded in the third after five Redbird hits and a wobbly Cubs defense that included two errors resulted in four St. Louis runs.

Cavanaugh Heads New Association Grid Officials

Organization Will Replace One That Died Out During World War II

Football officials from Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia met last night to form a new association before the opening of the fall season and elected John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, president and Daniel Staley, secretary-treasurer.

Cavanaugh said the group adopted the by-laws and regulations that were used by the old Western Maryland Association during the late 1930's and made plans to hold a joint official-coach meeting Thursday night, September 12 at 8 o'clock in the Board of Education office.

New football rules and controversal decisions made during the past few years were discussed with a great deal of attention being given to a new rule which permits only two players from the same team to enter the game while the clock is running.

Cavanaugh said the new Western Maryland, Eastern West Virginia Football Officials Association will replace the Western Maryland Association which ceased to function during the war.

The association will approve officials for high school football games in this section, Cavanaugh explained. He said a second meeting will be held September 12, to complete work before the fall season opens here.

Attending last night's meeting were Arthur Ramey, John Blaugh, William Spangler, John Angellatta, Edward Milbrada, William "Huck" Mires, Judson Hodges, Clifford Fearer, Chuck Collette and Cavanaugh and Staley.

The association members paid particular attention to the new fumble rule when a ball goes out of bounds, Cavanaugh said, and the rule governoring players leaving the field at the nearest point to the sidelines.

Blocking punts behind the line of scrimmage and possession of the ball on partially block punts were also aired, the new president said.

The rule on players entering the game will permit coaches to send in two substitutes without stopping the clock, Cavanaugh said, while formerly they were required to call time for all substitutions.

The new fumble rule permits the team that has possession of the ball when it goes out of bounds to keep it, Cavanaugh explained, instead of the team that touches it last. Previously the team whose player touched the ball as it was going out of bounds was given the ball.

The new association plans to meet once a week during the coming season and will meet twice a week during the first few weeks, Cavanaugh said.

Managers "Who Really Teach" Receive Share Loop Prexy's Vote

EASTON, Md., Sept. 5 (AP)—President Thomas J. Kibler, of the stormy little Class D Eastern Shore League, said today he had suggested to several clubs that they hire managers "who will really teach youngsters to play baseball".

Kibler recently handed out a batch of fines and suspensions to club managers and players and stopped selling of soft drinks in bottles. State police had to escort an umpire from a park in one incident and there was a rash of bottle throwing at several games when managers argued with the umps.

"I've watched teams play at the beginning and the end of the season, and sometimes they're no better than when they started," Kibler told the local Rotary Club.

"I say, pay whatever it costs to get a manager who will be a teacher, who will really operate a club as a training school for the big leagues."

Baltimore Teams Win In Tourney

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 5 (AP)—Cowan Fast Freight of Baltimore chalked up two victories today in the annual All-American Amateur Baseball Tournament to top nine survivors with a record of three wins and no losses.

The Baltimore City champions edged the American Legion nine of Valley Stream, Long Island, N. Y., 4 to 3, after winning an overtime battle from Fleetwings of Queens County, N. Y., 5 to 4 in ten innings.

Elkton, champions of Maryland's Susquehanna League, staged a four run rally in the sixth to defeat Waterbury, Conn., 4 to 2, and moved into a deadlock with the idle Naiman Photo nine of Washington, D. C. each with two wins and no losses.

The other six survivors all have one setback on their record, with the two local representatives coming through with victories today. Ensminger Studio, champions of Harrisburg, eliminated Elmira, N. Y. from the tournament, 5 to 2, and Olmsted Field Flyers, champions at Dauphin county, handed a 5 to 1 setback to parade ground Mohawks, of Brooklyn.

Virginia May Have Another Dudley In Former Marine

Coach Rates George Grimes As His Best Kicker And Passer

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Sept. 5 (AP)—The University of Virginia may have another grid star who can romp like Bill Dudley, and as a result, the 1946 edition of the Cavaliers may be the finest in a long time.

Grimes does everything with that pigskin. He kicks magnificently flips bullet aerials and get along well on the ground.

Head Coach Art Guepe praised Grimes as his best kicker and passer and predicted this Virginia squad boasting 27 lettermen would have a lot that once-beaten 1941 outfit Dudley played on didn't have.

Replacements Plentiful

Guepe said this season, he had sufficient replacements to take the starting team out of action without hurting the team's attack or defense.

The big backfield guns undoubtedly will be Grimes, John Duda, Scarbro, W. Va., whom Guepe described as the "kind of a fellow to have when you need that extra foot for a first down—a sparkplug"; Ray Brown, Falls Church, Va., regular halfback opposite Duda and Virginia's best scorer in 1945; Joe Black Bluefield, W. Va., transfer from Virginia Military Institute; Samuel Fray, Culpeper, Va., the squad's fastest man; George Neff, Charlottesville, Va., experienced quarterback, who may be the key to Guepe's "T" formation attack; Grover Jones, Wilmington, Del., to name several.

Guepe regards Grimes, Brown, Black and John Ebner, Caldwell, N. J. as his four best passers and those same first three plus Donald Gutman, West Orange, N. J., as his finest kickers.

Ends Are Big Weakness

The Cavaliers' biggest weakness, Guepe said, are the ends.

Guepe rattled off the names of five outstanding guards—Stuart Barbour, Roanoke, Va.; James Dickerson, Memphis, Tenn.; Bruce Wood Hampton, Va.; Rufus Roberts, Culpeper, Va., and Van Dyke Jones, Belle Mead, N. J. The Cavalier coach figured the guard positions are his "best fortified" slots.

The Cavaliers are apparently well fixed at the tackles, too, because All-State Joe Kirkland is back along with Ed Steckmesser of the 1941 eleven. The center spot may be a tossup between Lockwood Frizzell Charlottesville, Va., and Leroy Neustedter, Milwaukee, Wis., shifted to the pivot hole from fullback where he was a regular in 1939 and 1940.

Scott Is Reclassified

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 5. (AP)—Clyde (Smackover) Scott, who had been expected to be star wingback of the University of Arkansas football team next fall, was notified by his Union county draft board today that he had been reclassified 1-A.

YANKEES BEAT A's

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5 (AP)—Although he needed help in the eighth inning, rookie righthander Randy Gumpert was credited with his 10th victory of the season as the New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-2 today.

The winners piled up a commanding lead in the first three innings at the expense of Dick Fowler in the first inning with a safe bunt and scored on Bill Johnson's double. Two more Yankees crossed the plate on singles by Aaron Robinson and Nick Etten and a walk to Charlie Keller. Box:

Bob Falkenburg Upsets Talbert In Tennis Tourney

Scores Wild Five - Setter That Kept Crowd Chilled And Bored

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—There probably is no more erratic tennis player in the world than Bob Falkenburg, a gangling 20-year-old from the University of Southern California, but how he can lather that pellet.

The kid brother of Jinx, most beautiful of the Falkenburgs, beat Billy Talbert, the Davis Cup star, today in the weirdest match and the greatest upset the National Championships are likely to produce.

The scores of the wild five-setter that kept a crowd of 5,000 alternately thrilled and bored for nearly two hours were 3-6, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5. In the three sets the collegiate champion won, his service was a shaft of lightning. In the other two he couldn't have got it inside the court with a permit.

Besides planting young Bob in the semi-finals, where he will meet Jack Kramer, the triumph probably assured him a trip to Australia this winter with the American Davis Cup Team. Capt. Walter Pate plans to take along a fifth man, or spare—always providing the United States licks Sweden in the interzone next week—and his choice has narrowed down to either Falkenburg or Tom Brown, Jr., of San Francisco.

In the first and third sets, the crowds young idol couldn't get the range with his shafts, and Talbert won them as he pleased. In the third, Falkenburg made only four earned points, and he looked like a gone goose. But then he came back with a burst of magnificent tennis to overwhelm Talbert in the fourth set, allowing him three earned points, and sustained his form through the long, hard-fought decider until Talbert finally cracked.

Bob will have a couple of days to dream before he tackles Kramer, the tournament favorite. His chances of getting past big John must be considerad very slim. Kramer, his blistered hand completely healed, looked terrific in repelling the challenge of Don McNeill, the 1940 champion, 6-3, 6-2, 1-6, 6-2, in today's other quarter-final.

Postmaster To Aid Red Sox Fans

ATHOL, Mass., Sept. 5. (AP)—Postmaster Richard P. Mullen is offering a helping hand to those red hot Red Sox fans who want to get their reserved seat requests in as early as possible Sept. 10.

The Boston Americans management has announced that letters—including of course the necesary certified check, money order or similar—must be postmarked Sept. 10 or later to be considered when it distributes available reserved seats.

So Mullen states he will receive such letters any time and hold them until the first Boston-bound train on the proper date.

Scores Wild Five - Setter That Kept Crowd Chilled And Bored

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—There probably is no more erratic tennis player in the world than Bob Falkenburg, a gangling 20-year-old from the University of Southern California, but how he can lather that pellet.

The kid brother of Jinx, most beautiful of the Falkenburgs, beat Billy Talbert, the Davis Cup star, today in the weirdest match and the greatest upset the National Championships are likely to produce.

The scores of the wild five-setter that kept a crowd of 5,000 alternately thrilled and bored for nearly two hours were 3-6, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5. In the three sets the collegiate champion won, his service was a shaft of lightning. In the other two he couldn't have got it inside the court with a permit.

Besides planting young Bob in the semi-finals, where he will meet Jack Kramer, the triumph probably assured him a trip to Australia this winter with the American Davis Cup Team. Capt. Walter Pate plans to take along a fifth man, or spare—always providing the United States licks Sweden in the interzone next week—and his choice has narrowed down to either Falkenburg or Tom Brown, Jr., of San Francisco.

In the first and third sets, the crowds young idol couldn't get the range with his shafts, and Talbert won them as he pleased. In the third, Falkenburg made only four earned points, and he looked like a gone goose. But then he came back with a burst of magnificent tennis to overwhelm Talbert in the fourth set, allowing him three earned points, and sustained his form through the long, hard-fought decider until Talbert finally cracked.

Bob will have a couple of days to dream before he tackles Kramer, the tournament favorite. His chances of getting past big John must be considerad very slim. Kramer, his blistered hand completely healed, looked terrific in repelling the challenge of Don McNeill, the 1940 champion, 6-3, 6-2, 1-6, 6-2, in today's other quarter-final.

Postmaster To Aid Red Sox Fans

ATHOL, Mass., Sept. 5. (AP)—Postmaster Richard P. Mullen is offering a helping hand to those red hot Red Sox fans who want to get their reserved seat requests in as early as possible Sept. 10.

The Boston Americans management has announced that letters—including of course the necesary certified check, money order or similar—must be postmarked Sept. 10 or later to be considered when it distributes available reserved seats.

So Mullen states he will receive such letters any time and hold them until the first Boston-bound train on the proper date.

Welterweight Champion Bout Tonight Is Off

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 —Fight fans who had expected to tune in tonight at 9 on ABC to listen to the month's first of three championship bouts, won't. Instead they will hear description—or so it is announced—of an eight-rounder in the welterweight division between Bernard Docusen and Norman Rubie, rushed in almost at the last minute as subs.

The considerably-hailed welterweight title affair between Marty Servo and Ray Robinson was called off.

Back comes Fanny Brice and her Baby Snooks after a summer-long vacation. She still will be on CBS, but at the Friday night time of 7 instead of Sundays. Also returning after a briefer vacation is the music endorsed by Dorsey. It too gets a new MBS time at 7:30. This will mean that the Voice in the Night, Singing Sleuth, moves up to 7 and that Passport to Romance, a "musical comedy" is no more.

Three finales also are on the slate. Two on MBS will end the Matinee drama at 2 and Lady Be Beautiful on at 2:30. One on CBS is Wayne King's music at 8:30, summer replacement for Moore and Durante.

Postponed from last week, Sen. James M. Mead, chairman of the senate war investigating committee, again is listed as the answering guest for Meet the Press of MBS at 9:30.

Paul Lavalle back directing the Friday Night Melodies on MBS at 7 will have Ray Middleton and his songs as guest . . . MBS says that it's news period at 6:15 is to include a pickup from London for the three words a "talking" dog can say.

Shop Federation Objects To Anti Smoke Ordinance

Union Heads Say Measure Discriminates Against Railroads Here

Federation No. 7, representing seven shop crafts at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops here, yesterday pledged to the Mayor and City Council their full support in preventing unnecessary noise in this city but demanded, in the name of some 2,500 railroad employes, that the body reject a proposed smoke control ordinance.

The group, headed by Henry A. Dayton, president of the federation met with the city fathers yesterday at 1 p. m. to protest the passage of the anti-smoke ordinance.

Dayton said the group requested the protest hearing in behalf of their employer. If pressure is put upon the railroads, he said, they will do away with steam locomotives and purchase Diesels.

Since the oil burning locomotive is used on a 24-hour basis and requires less maintenance, Dayton asserted work in the shops here would be cut to one-third of the present figure. He also pointed out that the B. and O. is "up to its neck" in smoke elimination.

Angelo Muscatell, of Machinists Local 212, Bolt and Forge shop, pointed out that the railroads are not the only industries in this city which are causing smoke and said the ordinance, as it stands, would hurt the railroads and so injure everyone in Cumberland since all depend to a great extent upon the revenue from railroads here.

All Want Progress

We all want progress, Muscatell asserted, but we believe the railroads should have some say in the matter.

W. J. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the Boilermakers union, took sharp exception to the assertion that 70 per cent of smoke here is caused by locomotives and declared that other business firms and homes are the chief offenders.

Jones also took exception to words in the preamble saying smoke has affected the health of the citizens of this city, declaring he has lived to a ripe old age in spite of the fact he has eaten smoke all his life.

The boilermaker official also objected to the expense the railroads would have to incur in installing jets in all locomotives and said the estimated $300 for each installation would prove an unnecessary burden on the roads.

R. J. Beck, Boilermakers, asked if he were correct in assuming that the ordinance singles out steam locomotives alone for control and was assured by Charles Z. Meskett, city solicitor, that his assumption was correct. Beck insisted that voters should have a voice in the matter and called for a referendum on the ordinance.

Declaring the ordinance would eventually eliminate 25 to 30 yard engines here, C. J. McKay, a Machinists local official, said the measure would eliminate hundreds of jobs here.

Objects To River

McKay said the council wants to force the railroads to place steam jets on locomotives. We who live in the South End, he said, want some smoke jets put on the river which, he declared, is taking paint from people's homes.

He also asked why a railroad engineer was not consulted when the ordinance was drawn up. Meskett explained that the Celanese engineer was consulted because of his special training as a combustion engineer.

Another veteran worker, J. R. Graise, Blacksmiths Union, said he had eaten smoke for 29 years and did not consider his health impaired. Anyway, he said, if you want to protect health do it everywhere and not just on the railroads.

McKay came into the discussion later to point out that most of the residents of South Cumberland would rather have the smoke than lose their livelihood.

Earl W. Conn, a pipefitter who has worked for the B. and O. here to eliminate smoke, said various methods have been tried to light fires in engines without smoke but declared he doubted if 100 pounds of steam could be raised on a locomotive without some smoke.

He admitted some of the dense smoke can be eliminated but said it was unfair to single out the railroads.

All of us are opposed to unnecessary smoke, S. M. Goggin, Boilermakers Union, said, but declared the ordinance, as written, seems to be only against the railroads and called for wise consideration before any ordinance which would put men out of work were passed.

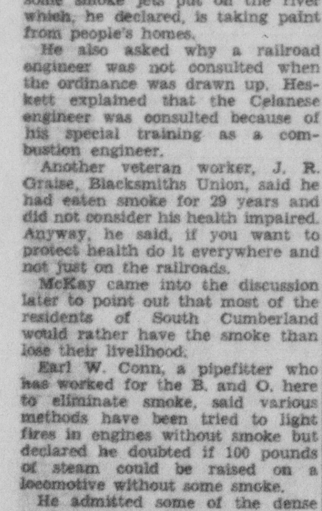

The lone voice for the ordinance was that of Sirbaugh, a retired B. and O. machinist, but his remarks were ruled out of order since the meeting was called to allow the shop crafts to protest the passage of the measure.

Meeting Is Planned

Members of the City Council, most of whom are former railroad employes, all said it was not the intention of the body to do anything which might be detrimental to the railroads.

Mayor Thomas S. Post, at the conclusion of the meeting, said that if the council thought the ordinance would throw one worker out of a job it would not pass the ordinance

County 4-H Team Wins First Place At Timonium Fair

Robert Heavener And Harry Johnson Win $20 For Dairy Demonstration

The dairy demonstration team of the Allegany County 4-H Dairy Calf Club defeated all comers to win first place in dairy demonstrations at the Timonium Fair, Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent, said yesterday.

The team, composed of Robert Heavener, Union Grove, and Harry Johnson, Cumberland, won $20 in prize money.

Steger said the team's topic, "Growing Out Healthy Dairy Calves," was a demonstration of how a calf's growth is measured in the Allegany County 4-H Dairy Calf Club.

Second prize in the farm safety and mechanics demonstration class went to William Heavener and Floyd Ryan, both of Union Grove, whose subject was "What Kind of Electric Motor Should You Buy."

The county dairy judging team was less successful, however, placing eleventh in the state. Members of the team were Robert Miller, Midland, Fred Miltenberger, Cumberland, and Clyde Warnick, Rawlings.

Judging and announcement of winners took place Wednesday, Steger said.

Harry Johnson also is represented at Timonium with three Ayrshire cattle, two heifers and a bull, according to Steger. Judging will take place today.

Weicht Files Petition For A New Trial

WESTMINSTER, Md., Sept. 5 (AP)—Attorneys for James E. Weicht, of Westernport, former Springfield State Hospital attendant convicted of manslaughter in the death of an elderly patient, filed a petition in the Carroll County Circuit Court today for a new trial.

Chief Judge James E. Boylan, Jr., scheduled a hearing on the petition for (10 a. m.) September 11.

Judge Boylan, in ruling Weicht guilty Tuesday, said the 24-year-old ex-serviceman "had exercised more force than was necessary," in subduing the patient, J. Franklin Miller, Sr., 88, of Hagerstown.

He ruled that "the use of such force mounts up to criminal negligence."

Weicht testified he hit Miller with his open hand in a scuffle over a safety pin.

Terminal To Be Discussed

Discussion of the location of a proposed new bus terminal here will be held today at 3 p. m. at City Hall. The Mayor and Council, the Municipal Planning Commission, City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, Chief of Police Oscar A. Eyerman and bus company representatives will attend.

Labor Unity Group Opposes Smoke Law

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference last night voted unanimously to oppose the proposed smoke control ordinance now under consideration by the Mayor and City Council, Paul Burley, secretary, announced.

Burley said the group, representing all labor groups of Allegany County, agreed to go along 100 per cent with Federation No. 7, representing Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shop crafts here, and the Allegany Trades Council in eliminating all unnecessary smoke but opposes the ordinance since it discriminates against the railroads but does not mention other industries.

The legislative committee of the group will meet Thursday, September 12, at Textile hall, to prepare for the coming election, Burley said. The group will select candidates to be recommended for support of organized labor of this county and will present their recommendations for action of the next meeting of the conference, September 19.

School Cafeterias Will Increase Cost Of Hot Lunches

Pupils Will Pay 20 Cents For Meals, Beginning Monday, Kopp Says

Allegany County school cafeterias will increase the price of lunches five cents, effective Monday, raising the cost to 20 cents, Charles L. Kopp, superintendent, said yesterday.

The increase, according to Kopp, is necessary because of the rapidly increasing prices of staple food such as meat and milk. He estimated that meat has increased about 40 per cent and milk about 39 per cent since the close of school in June.

Use 5,000 Pounds of Meat Per Week

Kopp explained that the county cafeterias use approximately 5,000 pounds of meat a week, and 10,000 half-pint bottles of milk per day. Other commodities used in preparing the school lunches have shown a big increase also, Kopp said.

Adding to the increase of items used, the superintendent said, the nine-cent subsidy that the school has been receiving in recent years, has also been "greatly reduced." Last year the pupils paid 15 cents for the lunches and the federal government paid a nine cent subsidy, Kopp asserted. Now that the program has been placed under state control the subsidy has taken a sizeable drop.

Usually the students purchase weekly meal tickets, Kopp said. Last year they sold for 75 cents but with the increase they will sell for 90 cents, he said. The meal ticket will reduce the cost of each lunch to 18 cents, a saving of two cents per meal.

The increase represents only a 33 1-3 per cent raise, the superintendent said, while the cost of food shows a 40 per cent increase.

Quality To Be Maintained

Despite the prices of food, Kopp said, the school lunches will continue to be produced with the ob-

Court Testimony On Vet's Mental Status Conflicts

Judge Continues Hearing On Shipe's Appeal For Release From Jail

A young war veteran, a prisoner in the County Jail awaiting action of the October grand jury on two serious charges against him, sat in the Circuit Court room yesterday afternoon and heard himself called insane and a lunatic and not insane but a constitutional psychopathic with an inadequate personality before the hearing was continued by Chief Judge William A. Huster for further investigation.

The veteran, Robert L. Shipe, is accused of statutory rape and bigamy, but his mother, Mrs. Helen Shipe, instituted habeas corpus proceedings through Attorney Julius E. Schindler to have him freed from jail and sent to the Veterans Hospital at Perry Point on grounds that he is "mentally unable to care for himself."

Dr. Eugene Kester, who testified that he has known Shipe for two years, said he found him to be irrational. "I would call him not sane," Dr. Kester said, adding that in his opinion Shipe should "be taken care of immediately."

Inadequate Personality

Dr. Richard Williams, deputy county physician who served as a physician in the Navy for five years, said he saw Shipe at the jail a number of times and believes him to be a constitutional psychopathic with an inadequate personality.

Dr. Williams said this is not insanity and is quite different from a major psychosis or a luunatic. It is, he said, a case where the victim is unable to learn by his own experience and is unable to adapt himself to his environment.

Dr. Williams told the court that constitutional psychopathics with inadequate personalities "can sell themselves to anybody" and he predicted that Shipe would be released from a mental hospital within three or four weeks after he was admitted.

Near the end of the hearing, some evidence was introduced to indicate that Shipe might be an epileptic, and his mother testified he had a "spell" at one time when he was undergoing treatment at Allegany Hospital after being discharged from the Navy in August 1945.

Will Obtain Records

Chief Judge William A. Huster, who presided, continued the hearing to a future date after telling Schindler to obtain records on Shipe from Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., Perry Point, Veterans Hospital, and the Navy Hospital at Chelsea, Mass., all of which treated Shipe while he was in the service.

In the meantime, Shipe, who served two years in the Navy and from December 11, 1945, to April 18 this year in the Army, was remanded to jail.

3,113 Students Enroll In City's 3 High Schools

Fort Hill Reports 43 Veterans Will Resume Studies Monday

Cumberland's three public high schools opened yesterday with "routine occurrances," according to principals, who reported slight increases over last year with a total of 3,113 already enrolled and more expected before the full schedule begins Monday morning.

Fort Hill reported the largest enrollment of any city high school with 1,620, including 43 ex-servicemen who are returning after receiving discharges. Principal Victor D. Heisey, said the former soldiers and sailors range from 19 to 28 years in age. About 10 of the men are more than 25, he said, but the majority are between 20 and 24.

Fewer At Allegany

At Allegany the ex-GI enrollment fell far short of Fort Hill's with "about 20," being included in the 1,396 pupils enrolled Ralph R. Webster, principal said. The age too was greatly reduced, Webster said with the oldest student being 23, and an average of 19 years of age.

Webster said the most surprising incident in Allegany's enrollment was the number of out-of-state transfers. The first pupil registering yesterday, Webster said, was transferring from the Canal Zone. He is Wylie Faw, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wylie Faw, who has returned to Cumberland after living in the Canal Zone for the past 15 years.

Other states represented in the Allegany registration are Texas, Alabama, and Louisiana.

At Carver High, Earle L. Bracey, principal said 97 students were registered, with no ex-servicemen included in the enrollment. He said the figures were the same as last year.

All principals said the ex-servicemen would be entitled to some credits for their time in the service. The one credit that all will be eligible for is in physical education, the principals said. The credit is given for the basic training that ex-GIs took upon entering the service. One principal said "it was rough enough to equal anything that high schools can give in physical education."

Claim Credits

Other soldier-students are claiming credits in mathematic, physics and numerous subjects because of their experiences while in service. Such training as gunnery, and signal work will entitle some of them to credits, one of the principals said. Explaining that gunnery required a great knowledge of advance math and if any of the students have the required number of hours they will be given a credit.

In general the principals said the veteran enrollment represents young men who either enlisted or were called out of school, after completing one or two years and are now returning to finish. Most of the boys are in the junior and senior classes, they said.

Some of the ex-GIs will have enough credits to jump a grade, since they continued their studies while in services, either by correspondence in the army schools or in the special education program set up after the war, the principals explained.

In other county high schools, the results of first day registration were not available, since the principals are waiting for Monday's classes to report before totalling the student bodies.

Classes will begin full schedules Monday, Charles L. Kopp, school superintendent reported. Teachers and principals will meet Saturday morning at Fort Hill high for an all day session with Dr. Willis Sutton, former superintendent of Atlanta, Ga., scheduled to speak.

Schine Theaters To Mark Silver Jubilee Sunday

Schine's Strand and Liberty Theaters will celebrate their silver jubilee in Cumberland on September 8, marking the first time in motion picture history that stars and producers in Hollwood have joined hands with an exhibitor to celebrate a birthday.

Schine's theaters have always taken an active part in civic projects and have for many years brought to Cumberland wholesome entertainment, carrying out the policy inaugurated 25 years ago with the construction of the first Schine theater here.

In the pursuit of entertainment, the average theatergoers seldom thinks of the truly important part the theater plays in modern life Within its portals, one can escape from worries and vicissitudes of every day affairs, forget troubles in the romance and laughter of others, enjoy experiences in many lands, and through the glamour of entertainment, gain new courage to take up life's problems. Schine's Theaters have contributed generously to the culture and educational affairs of the nation and the local communities. They have lent their aid to charitable affairs and many gatherings to promote the good will of the community. Each Schine Theater is a local institution.

While celebrating their silver jubilee, Schine theaters, with the cooperation of Hollywood, will show their appreciation to the patrons for making this celebration possible . . . by presenting an array of unprecedented entertainment.

Schine's anniversary celebration will bring to the Strand and Liberty a solid month of the biggest hits ever, in addition to their special anniversary attraction. # Maj. Elmer Wall, New Salvation Army Commander, Arrives Here

Family Escapes Injury In Auto Accident During 1,500-Mile Trip

Maj. Elmer Wall, new commanding officer of the Salvation Army in Cumberland, arrived here yesterday afternoon with his wife and three children after making the 1,500 mile trip from Shreveport, La., by automobile.

Their arrival was delayed several days because of a minor automobile accident Saturday afternoon near Anderson, S. C., when another machine came out of a side road and struck the car in which the Walls were riding, Maj. Wall said last night. No one was injured, but because of the Labor Day holiday it was necessary to wait until Tuesday before their car could be repaired.

Maj. Wall, who has been stationed in Shreveport for over three years, succeeds Adjt. Robert S. Ball, who with Mrs. Ball left here August 26 to assume his new duties as commanding officer of the Salvation Army Corps at Fort Smith, Ark.

The new commanding officer is a veteran of over 25 years' unbroken service as a Salvation Army officer. A native of Tamaqua, Pa., he has spent most of his career in the South, serving seven and a half years at Meridian, Miss., and nine years at Durham, N. C., before going to Shreveport.

Mrs. Wall is also active in Salvation Army work. She is a native of Alexandria, Va.

The couple's three children are Miss Florence Wall, 21, who plans to leave for the Salvation Army Training College in Atlanta, Ga., next week, where she will begin a special year's course prior to becoming a probationary Salvation Army officer; Miss Anna Wall, 19, and Elmer Wall, Jr., 15, who will enter his senior year in high school this fall. The two daughters were students at Centenary College in Shreveport.

Slaying Victim's Brothers Walked On Death March

One Perished; Survivor Attends Funeral Of Mrs. Hazel Cosner

BRUSHY RUN, W. Va., Sept. 5—One of Hazel Evelyn Cosner's brothers didn't attend her funeral near here this afternoon. He is buried somewhere in the far reaches of the Pacific where he died of malaria contacted on the infamous Bataan death march, but another brother, one who also walked the march of death was there, witness to the burial of the second member of his family who died as a result of violence.

Mrs. Cosner, battered and beaten to death Tuesday morning by a baseball bat wielded by her husband, Oscar Cosner, was buried in the family cemetery at the top of a steep hill near the one-room building where she went to school.

Earlier, Rev. A. R. Showalter, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren, Keyser, conducted services for her in the one-room Brushy Run school house. Numerous relatives and friends sat silently as the minister read the service.

Grave Under Trees

Then the hearse and two automobiles began the hard pull up the steep hillside — so steep that other attendants stayed behind — to the grave under the trees in the small family cemetery in Pendleton County.

Oscar Cosner wasn't there. He made no request to attend his wife's funeral and Vernon E. Rankin, prosecuting attorney, said he would have denied the request if it had been made.

The Cosner children, Vance, 8, Vince, 7, and Theodore, 1½, also were absent. Relatives said authorities at the orphanage at Burlington wouldn't permit them to attend.

But Sgt. Russell S. Alt came from Fort George G. Meade to be present at his sister's funeral.

Captured By Japs

Russell and another brother, Titus L. Alt, enlisted in the Army and were serving in the Pacific when war broke out December 7, 1941.

Both were captured by the Japs. Russell endured the march of death, but Titus couldn't make it after he was felled by malaria. The War Department sent his Purple Heart to his father, Scott R. Alt, when Titus was declared dead in July 1945. He had died July 19 three years earlier.

Death missed Russell by 15 minutes. Although he had survived the march from Bataan, his death was ordered for 8 o'clock one morning by the Japs.

Fifteen minutes before the fatal hour, another order came down requiring Russell to take a rigid test as a chauffeur. If he failed it still meant death. He passed, however, and became chauffeur for Tojo, Japan's war leader. Thereafter he was treated well.

Two Survivors

In January of this year Russell and 29 other men were on a plane flying back to the United States when the big ship crashed in the Pacific. Russell and another man were the only survivors.

After a few months in a West Coast military hospital to recuperate, Russell came back home and in the spring he was discharged, only to re-enlist again.

Besides Russell, Mrs. Cosner is

Republicans Make Plans For Coming Election Campaign

Beall Urges Systematic Organization, Support Of Entire Ticket

Systematic organization of each precinct and district in Allegany county is needed for a Republican victory in the November general election, Rep J Glenn Beall of the Sixth District said last night at a meeting of Republican candidates for county offices.

Paul M. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County, presided at the meeting, held in the Knights of Malta Hall, Prospect Square.

Rep. Beall, a candidate for reelection to the House of Representatives, said that all candidates should co-operate with the committee by working in their home precincts to get out the vote and to support the state as well as the county Republican ticket.

"We do carry weight up here," Rep. Beall said. "We must work on getting out the vote, because it will be a strong Republican vote."

Sounds Keynote

Sounding the keynote of the meeting, called to lay plans for the campaign, Fletcher said that the committee's job is to plan widespread support for county and state tickets, because the Allegany county Republican vote may decide the election.

The chairman announced that Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin of Baltimore, Republican candidate for governor, will visit Allegany county September 19 and 20 for community tours, and that a series of county-wide meetings is planned toward the close of the campaign.

George Henderson, candidate for associate judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit expressed his opinion that it is the duty of every Republican candidate to go on a caravan tour of the county, whether the candidate is unopposed or not.

Morgan C. Harris, unopposed in his bid for re-election as state's attorney and therefore automatically returned to office, stated that the Republican party is solid throughout the state and has no disagreeing factions, so that if the necessary work is put into the campaign, McKeldin will be "our next governor."

He reported that McKeldin, in a recent speech, referred to Western Maryland as the "battleground" of the coming election and said that he expected to carry Eastern Shore counties and Baltimore.

Harris concluded by endorsing Rep. Beall's plea for a strong precinct and district campaign organization.

State Sen. Robert B. Kimble, candidate for re-election, urged all Republican candidates to co-operate with the State Central Committee in their home precincts and to support their fellow candidates.

Local Vote Important

Delegate Charles M. See, beginning his fourth campaign for the House of Delegates, said that party workers should concentrate on getting out the Republican vote in Cumberland, and that "we must do the hardest work we have ever done" in the coming campaign.

Others who gave brief talks were Judge J. French VanMeter, unopposed for judge of Orphans' Court; Robert Jackson, renominated without opposition for clerk of the Circuit Court; County Commissioner James Holmes, a candidate for re-election; William H. Lemmert, candidate for County Commissioner; William C. Abbott, candidate for judge of Orphans' Court; Edward R. Muir, candidate for sheriff; three candidates for the House of Delegates, Noel Speir Cook, John T Fey and William H. Geppert; County Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson, Jr., running for re-election; and A. Charles Stewart, candidate for register of wills.

The meeting opened with an invocation by Rev. James A. Richards, S. T. M., pastor of First Methodist Church.

Teamsters Union Requests Contract For Garage Unit

Officials of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, AFL, will meet this morning with Frederick A. Puderbaugh, attorney for 17 local garages, in connection with a contract for some 65 members of the local, C. E. Stutzman, union business manager, said yesterday.

Stutzman said the garage unit of Local 453, formed several months ago, has been unable to reach an understanding with the operators on a working agreement. The union, he said, wants to know whether garages will bargain individually, as a group or at all.

In spite of a conference with the attorney for seven local trucking firms, strikebound since Tuesday morning, union officials reported no progress yesterday toward the settlement of the work stoppage.

Puderbaugh, attorney for the companies, said there is little likelihood of a joint meeting of Cumberland and Hagerstown freight operators since the points of issue are somewhat different in the two cities.

Conciliation Commissioner John Murray, Philadelphia, informed Stutzman by phone yesterday that he had been unable to arrange the joint meeting since Hagerstown operators declined the bid.

Stutzman said he did not expect any developments here until negotiations in New York and Baltimore are settled.

Operators here have presented a solid front since one of their number settled with the union Tuesday afternoon but Stutzman said Local 453 has a two-year contract with the Novick Transfer Company in the Winchester, Va. area and threatened that unless the local has some success soon with the company here the Novick Winchester operations will be stopped.

One Birth Reported

Mr. and Mrs. James Frantz, Sang Run, announce the birth of a son in Memorial Hospital Thursday night.

Recipe Books To Be Distributed At Times-News Cooking School

Real Treat Is In Store For Cumberland Area Women Next Week

A real treat is in store for housewives of the Cumberland area who take pride in collecting recipes, so they will have them handy when they want to prepare something new and delicious for the family and guests.

One of the features of the Times-News Symphony of Foods Cooking School which will be held at the Strand Theater Sept. 10-12 will be presentation of attractive and practical recipe books at each session. These books, will be filled with taste-temping recipes, for all foods, and should be a welcome addition to everyone's recipe collection.

Timely information on meat will be included in each recipe book. Each will contain information on the selection and buying of meat, the identification of meat cuts, planning meals around the meat dish and the nutritive value of this food product.

Each recipe appearing in the books will be demonstated on the programs in such a way that it will be easy for the homemaker to follow every step as Miss Edalene Stohr, noted home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, conducts the school. Each book is entirely different from the others and will tie in with each day's program.

The school, which is being sponsored by the Cumberland Times, the Cumberland News and the Sunday Times, will begin each morning at 9:30 o'clock with the doors opening at 8:50 for early arrivals.

In addition to the educational value of good things to eat, there will be entertainment for all who attend. Valuable gifts will be awarded at the conclusion of each program and will help to make the school a profitable one from start to finish.

Miss Stohr is recognized as a master in her profession. Not only is she a recognized authority on her subject, but as an entertaining and interesting lecturer, she holds the attention of her audiences.

There will be no admission charge for the school and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Reserve Army Officers Discuss Organization Of National Guard

Announcement Regarding Enlistments Will Be Made In Near Future

Nine reserve army officers met last night at the Maryland State Armory, evidencing their interest in the organization of Maryland National Guard.

The meeting was called by Lt. Col. Oliver H. Bruce, III, recently appointed commander of the first battalion of the 115th Infantry, units of which are to be organized in Cumberland.

Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, executive officer of the 115th Infantry Regiment, 29th Division, also attended the meeting.

Col. Bruce said he has no definite information about the formation and activation dates of local guard units, but has been informed officially that Headquarters Company of the battalion and Company C, a rifle unit, will be organized here.

The rifle unit has a normal strength of 235 men and the Headquarters company has a strength of 84 men.

Col. Millholland said at least 15 officers will be assigned to the National Guard here, and probably more than that number may eventually be appointed.

Those who attended the meeting last night and expressed their personal interest in the formation of local National Guard units included, Major Howard Dickey, already named executive officer to Col. Bruce; Capt. John M. McAlpine, Capt. Ace H. Humbertson, Capt. Robert C. Mattlick, Capt. Robert W. Fink, First Lt. Norman E. Goldblatt and First Lt. James C. McGee.

All of the officers except Goldblatt and McAlpine have former National Guard experience in Company G which was mobolized prior to World War II, and left here under the command of Millholland, then a captain. Fink later served in the Maryland State Guard as did McAlpine, but they entered the army during the war and earned commissions.

Col. Bruce indicated last night that an announcement regarding enlistments in the guard should be forthcoming within a few weeks, together with appointment of company officers.

Shop Federation Objects To Anti Smoke Ordinance

Union Heads Say Measure Discriminates Against Railroads Here

Federation No. 7, representing seven shop crafts at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops here, yesterday pledged to the Mayor and City Council their full support in preventing unnecessary noise in this city but demanded, in the name of some 2,500 railroad employes, that the body reject a proposed smoke control ordinance.

The group, headed by Henry A. Dayton, president of the federation met with the city fathers yesterday at 1 p. m. to protest the passage of the anti-smoke ordinance.

Dayton said the group requested the protest hearing in behalf of their employer. If pressure is put upon the railroads, he said, they will do away with steam locomotives and purchase Diesels.

Since the oil burning locomotive is used on a 24-hour basis and requires less maintenance, Dayton asserted work in the shops here would be cut to one-third of the present figure. He also pointed out that the B. and O. is "up to its neck" in smoke elimination.

Angelo Muscatell, of Machinists Local 212, Bolt and Forge shop, pointed out that the railroads are not the only industries in this city which are causing smoke and said the ordinance, as it stands, would hurt the railroads and so injure everyone in Cumberland since all depend to a great extent upon the revenue from railroads here.

All Want Progress

We all want progress, Muscatell asserted, but we believe the railroads should have some say in the matter.

W. J. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the Boilermakers union, took sharp exception to the assertion that 70 per cent of smoke here is caused by locomotives and declared that other business firms and homes are the chief offenders.

Jones also took exception to words in the preamble saying smoke has affected the health of the citizens of this city, declaring he has lived to a ripe old age in spite of the fact he has eaten smoke all his life.

The boilermaker official also objected to the expense the railroads would have to incur in installing jets in all locomotives and said the estimated $300 for each installation would prove an unnecessary burden on the roads.

R. J. Beck, Boilermakers, asked if he were correct in assuming that the ordinance singles out steam locomotives alone for control and was assured by Charles Z. Heskett, city solicitor, that his assumption was correct. Beck insisted that voters should have a voice in the matter and called for a referendum on the ordinance.

Declaring the ordinance would eventually eliminate 25 to 30 yard engines here, C. J. McKay, a Machinists local official, said the measure would eliminate hundreds of jobs here.

Objects To River

McKay said the council wants to force the railroads to place steam jets on locomotives. We who live in the South End, he said, want some smoke jets put on the river which, he declared, is taking paint from people's homes.

He also asked why a railroad engineer was not consulted when the ordinance was drawn up. Heskett explained that the Celanese engineer was consulted because of his special training as a combustion engineer.

Another veteran worker, J. R. Graise, Blacksmiths Union, said he had eaten smoke for 29 years and did not consider his health impaired. Anyway, he said, if you want to protect health do it everywhere and not just on the railroads.

McKay came into the discussion later to point out that most of the residents of South Cumberland would rather have the smoke than lose their livelihood.

Earl W. Conn, a pipefitter who has worked for the B. and O. here to eliminate smoke, said various methods have been tried to light fires in engines without smoke but declared he doubted if 100 pounds of steam could be raised on a locomotive without some smoke.

He admitted some of the dense smoke can be eliminated but said it was unfair to single out the railroads.

All of us are opposed to unnecessary smoke, S. M. Goggin, Boilermakers Union, said, but declared the ordinance, as written, seems to be only against the railroads and called for wise consideration before any ordinance which would put men out of work were passed.

The lone voice for the ordinance was that of Sirbaugh, a retired B. and O. machinist, but his remarks were ruled out of order since the meeting was called to allow the shop crafts to protest the passage of the measure.

Meeting Is Planned

Members of the City Council, most of whom are former railroad employes, all said it was not the intention of the body to do anything which might be detrimental to the railroads.

Mayor Thomas S. Post, at the conclusion of the meeting, said that if the council thought the ordinance would throw one worker out of a job it would not pass the ordinance

County 4-H Team Wins First Place At Timonium Fair

Robert Heavener And Harry Johnson Win $20 For Dairy Demonstration

The dairy demonstration team of the Allegany County 4-H Dairy Calf Club defeated all comers to win first place in dairy demonstrations at the Timonium Fair, Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent, said yesterday.

The team, composed of Robert Heavener, Union Grove, and Harry Johnson, Cumberland, won $20 in prize money.

Steger said the team's topic, "Growing Out Healthy Dairy Calves," was a demonstration of how a calf's growth is measured in the Allegany County 4-H Dairy Calf Club.

Second prize in the farm safety and mechanics demonstration class went to William Heavener and Floyd Ryan, both of Union Grove, whose subject was "What Kind of Electric Motor Should You Buy."

They won second place against statewide competition and received $18 in prize money.

The county dairy judging team was less successful, however, placing eleventh in the state. Members of the team were Robert Miller, Midland, Fred Miltenberger, Cumberland, and Clyde Warnick, Rawlings.

Judging and announcement of winners took place Wednesday, Steger said.

Harry Johnson also is represented at Timonium with three Ayrshire cattle, two heifers and a bull, according to Steger. Judging will take place today.

Weicht Files Petition For A New Trial

WESTMINSTER, Md., Sept. 5 (AP) —Attorneys for James E. Weicht, of Westernport, former Springfield State Hospital attendant convicted of manslaughter in the death of an elderly patient, filed a petition in the Carroll County Circuit Court today for a new trial.

Chief Judge James E. Boylan, Jr., scheduled a hearing on the petition for (10 a. m.) September 11.

Judge Boylan, in ruling Weicht guilty Tuesday, said the 24-year-old ex-serviceman "had exercised more force than was necessary," in subduing the patient, J. Franklin Miller, Sr., 88, of Hagerstown.

He ruled that "the use of such force mounts up to criminal negligence."

Weicht testified he hit Miller with his open hand in a scuffle over a safety pin.

Terminal To Be Discussed

Discussion of the location of a proposed new bus terminal here will be held today at 3 p. m. at City Hall. The Mayor and Council, the Municipal Planning Commission, City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, Chief of Police Oscar A. Eyerman and bus company representatives will attend.

Labor Unity Group Opposes Smoke Law

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference last night voted unanimously to oppose the proposed smoke control ordinance now under consideration by the Mayor and City Council, Paul Burley, secretary, announced.

Burley said the group, representing all labor groups of Allegany County, agreed to go along 100 per cent with Federation No. 7, representing Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shop crafts here, and the Allegany Trades Council in eliminating all unnecessary smoke but opposes the ordinance since it discriminates against the railroads but does not mention other industries.

The legislative committee of the group will meet Thursday, September 12, at Textile hall, to prepare for the coming election, Burley said. The group will select candidates to be recommended for support of organized labor of this county and will present their recommendations for action of the next meeting of the conference, September 19.

School Cafeterias Will Increase Cost Of Hot Lunches

Pupils Will Pay 20 Cents For Meals, Beginning Monday, Kopp Says

Allegany County school cafeterias will increase the price of lunches five cents, effective Monday, raising the cost to 20 cents, Charles L. Kopp, superintendent, said yesterday.

The increase, according to Kopp, is necessary because of the rapidly increasing prices of staple foods such as meat and milk. He estimated that meat has increased about 40 per cent and milk about 39 per cent since the close of school in June.

Use 5,000 Pounds of Meat Per Week

Kopp explained that the county cafeterias use approximately 5,000 pounds of meat a week, and 10,000 half-pint bottles of milk per day. Other commodities used in preparing the school lunches have shown a big increase also, Kopp said.

Adding to the increase of items used, the superintendent said, the nine-cent subsidy that the school has been receiving in recent years, has also been "greatly reduced." Last year the pupils paid 15 cents for the lunches and the federal government paid a nine cent subsidy, Kopp asserted. Now that the program has been placed under state control the subsidy has taken a sizeable drop.

Usually the students purchase weekly meal tickets, Kopp said. Last year they sold for 75 cents but with the increase they will sell for 90 cents, he said. The meal ticket will reduce the cost of each lunch to 18 cents, a saving of two cents per meal.

The increase represents only a 33 1-3 per cent raise, the superintendent said, while the cost of food shows a 40 per cent increase.

Quality To Be Maintained

Despite the prices of food, Kopp said, the school lunches will continue to be produced with the ob-

Court Testimony On Vet's Mental Status Conflicts

Judge Continues Hearing On Shipe's Appeal For Release From Jail

A young war veteran, a prisoner in the County Jail awaiting action of the October grand jury on two serious charges against him, sat in the Circuit Court room yesterday afternoon and heard himself called insane and a lunatic and not insane but a constitutional psychopathic with an inadequate personality before the hearing was continued by Chief Judge William A. Huster for further investigation.

The veteran, Robert L. Shipe, is accused of statutory rape and bigamy, but his mother, Mrs. Helen Shipe, instituted habeas corpus proceedings through Attorney Julius E. Schindler to have him freed from jail and sent to the Veterans Hospital at Perry Point on grounds that he is "mentally unable to care for himself."

Dr. Eugene Kester, who testified that he has known Shipe for two years, said he found him to be irrational. "I would call him not sane," Dr. Kester said, adding that in his opinion Shipe should "be taken care of immediately."

Inadequate Personality

Dr. Richard Williams, deputy county physician who served as a physician in the Navy for five years, said he saw Shipe at the jail a number of times and believes him to be a constitutional psychopathic with an inadequate personality.

Dr. Williams said this is not insanity and is quite different from a major psychosis or a luunatic. It is, he said, a case where the victim is unable to learn by his own experience and is unable to adapt himself to his environment.

Dr. Williams told the court that constitutional psychopathics with inadequate personalities "can sell themselves to anybody" and he predicted that Shipe would be released from a mental hospital within three or four weeks after he was admitted.

Near the end of the hearing, some evidence was introduced to indicate that Shipe might be an epileptic, and his mother testified he had a "spell" at one time when he was undergoing treatment at Allegany Hospital after being discharged from the Navy in August 1945.

Will Obtain Records

Chief Judge William A. Huster, who presided, continued the hearing to a future date after telling Schindler to obtain records on Shipe from Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., Perry Point, Veterans Hospital, and the Navy Hospital at Chelsea, Mass., all of which treated Shipe while he was in the service.

In the meantime, Shipe, who served two years in the Navy and from December 11, 1945, to April 18 this year in the Army, was remanded to jail.

3,113 Students Enroll In City's 3 High Schools

Fort Hill Reports 43 Veterans Will Resume Studies Monday

Cumberland's three public high schools opened yesterday with "routine occurrances," according to principals, who reported slight increases over last year with a total of 3,113 already enrolled and more expected before the full schedule begins Monday morning.

Fort Hill reported the largest enrollment of any city high school with 1,620, including 43 ex-servicemen who are returning after receiving discharges. Principal Victor D. Heisey, said the former soldiers and sailors range from 19 to 28 years in age. About 10 of the men are more than 25, he said, but the majority are between 20 and 24.

Fewer At Allegany

At Allegany the ex-GI enrollment fell far short of Fort Hill's with "about 20," being included in the 1,396 pupils enrolled Ralph R. Webster, principal said. The age too was greatly reduced, Webster said with the oldest student being 23, and an average of 19 years of age.

Webster said the most surprising incident in Allegany's enrollment was the number of out-of-state transfers. The first pupil registering yesterday, Webster said, was transferring from the Canal Zone. He is Wylie Faw, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wylie Faw, who has returned to Cumberland after living in the Canal Zone for the past 15 years.

Other states represented in the Allegany registration are Texas, Alabama, and Louisiana.

At Carver High, Earle L. Bracey, principal said 97 students were registered, with no ex-servicemen included in the enrollment. He said the figures were the same as last year.

All principals said the ex-servicemen would be entitled to some credits for their time in the service. The one credit that all will be eligible for is in physical education, the principals said. The credit is given for the basic training that ex-GIs took upon entering the service. One principal said "it was rough enough to equal anything that high schools can give in physical education."

Claim Credits

Other soldier-students are claiming credits in mathematic, physics and numerous subjects because of their experiences while in service. Such training as gunnery, and signal work will entitle some of them to credits, one of the principals said. Explaining that gunnery required a great knowledge of advance math and if any of the students have the required number of hours they will be given a credit.

In general the principals said the veteran enrollment represents young men who either enlisted or were called out of school, after completing one or two years and are now returning to finish. Most of the boys are in the junior and senior classes, they said.

Some of the ex-GIs will have enough credits to jump a grade, since they continued their studies while in services, either by correspondence in the army schools or in the special education program set up after the war, the principals explained.

In other county high schools, the results of first day registration were not available, since the principals are waiting for Monday's classes to report before totalling the student bodies.

Classes will begin full schedules Monday, Charles L. Kopp, school superintendent reported. Teachers and principals will meet Saturday morning at Fort Hill high for an all day session with Dr. Willis Sutton, former superintendent of Atlanta, Ga., scheduled to speak.

Schine Theaters To Mark Silver Jubilee Sunday

Schine's Strand and Liberty Theaters will celebrate their silver jubilee in Cumberland on September 8, marking the first time in motion picture history that stars and producers in Hollwood have joined hands with an exhibitor to celebrate a birthday.

Schine's theaters have always taken an active part in civic projects and have for many years brought to Cumberland wholesome entertainment, carrying out the policy inaugurated 25 years ago with the construction of the first Schine theater here.

In the pursuit of entertainment, the average theatergoers seldom thinks of the truly important part the theater plays in modern life. Within its portals, one can escape from worries and vicissitudes of every day affairs, forget troubles in the romance and laughter of others, enjoy experiences in many lands, and through the glamour of entertainment, gain new courage to take up life's problems. Schine's Theaters have contributed generously to the culture and educational affairs of the nation and the local communities. They have lent their aid to charitable affairs and many gatherings to promote the good will of the community. Each Schine Theater is a local institution.

While celebrating their silver jubilee, Schine theaters, with the cooperation of Hollywood, will show their appreciation to the patrons for making this celebration possible . . . by presenting an array of unprecedented entertainment.

Schine's anniversary celebration will bring to the Strand and Liberty a solid month of the biggest hits ever, in addition to their special anniversary attraction. Some of the attractions that will be shown are: Without Reservations" with Claudette Colbert; "Canyon Passage" in technicolor, starring Dana Andrews, Brian Donlevy and Susan Hayward; Danny Kaye in "The Kid From Brooklyn" in technicolor; "The Time of Their Lives" featuring Abbott and Costello; "Swamp Fire," with Johnny Weissmuller; "The Big Sleep," with Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall; "Lover Come Back," with George Brent and Lucille Ball; "The Seventh Veil," "Of Human Bondage," "Notorious," Walt Disnay's "Make Mine Music"

Family Escapes Injury In Auto Accident During 1,500-Mile Trip

Maj. Elmer Wall, new commanding officer of the Salvation Army in Cumberland, arrived here yesterday afternoon with his wife and three children after making the 1,500 mile trip from Shreveport, La., by automobile.

Their arrival was delayed several days because of a minor automobile accident Saturday afternoon near Anderson, S. C., when another machine came out of a side road and struck the car in which the Walls were riding, Maj. Wall said last night. No one was injured, but because of the Labor Day holiday it was necessary to wait until Tuesday before their car could be repaired.

Maj. Wall, who has been stationed in Shreveport for over three years, succeeds Adjt. Robert S. Ball, who with Mrs. Ball left here August 26 to assume his new duties as commanding officer of the Salvation Army Corps at Fort Smith, Ark.

The new commanding officer is a veteran of over 25 years' unbroken service as a Salvation Army officer. A native of Tamaqua, Pa., he has spent most of his career in the South, serving seven and a half years at Meridian, Miss., and nine years at Durham, N. C., before going to Shreveport.

Mrs. Wall is also active in Salvation Army work. She is a native of Alexandria, Va.

The couple's three children are Miss Florence Wall, 21, who plans to leave for the Salvation Army Training College in Atlanta, Ga., next week, where she will begin a special year's course prior to becoming a probationary Salvation Army officer; Miss Anna Wall, 19, and Elmer Wall, Jr., 15, who will enter his senior year in high school this fall. The two daughters were students at Centenary College in Shreveport.

One Perished; Survivor Attends Funeral Of Mrs. Hazel Cosner

BRUSHY RUN, W. Va., Sept. 5—One of Hazel Evelyn Cosner's brothers didn't attend her funeral near here this afternoon. He is buried somewhere in the far reaches of the Pacific where he died of malaria contacted on the infamous Bataan death march, but another brother, one who also walked the march of death was there, witness to the burial of the second member of his family who died as a result of violence.

Mrs. Cosner, battered and beaten to death Tuesday morning by a baseball bat wielded by her husband, Oscar Cosner, was buried in the family cemetery at the top of a steep hill near the one-room building where she went to school.

Earlier, Rev. A. R. Showalter, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren, Keyser, conducted services for her in the one-room Brushy Run school house. Numerous relatives and friends sat silently as the minister read the service.

Grave Under Trees

Then the hearse and two automobiles began the hard pull up the steep hillside — so steep that other attendants stayed behind — to the grave under the trees in the small family cemetery in Pendleton County.

Oscar Cosner wasn't there. He made no request to attend his wife's funeral and Vernon E. Rankin, prosecuting attorney, said he would have denied the request if it had been made.

The Cosner children, Vance, 8, Vince, 7, and Theodore, 1½, also were absent. Relatives said authorities at the orphanage at Burlington wouldn't permit them to attend.

But Sgt. Russell S. Alt came from Fort George G. Meade to be present at his sister's funeral.

Captured By Japs

Russell and another brother, Titus L. Alt, enlisted in the Army and were serving in the Pacific when war broke out December 7, 1941.

Both were captured by the Japs. Russell endured the march of death, but Titus couldn't make it after he was felled by malaria. The War Department sent his Purple Heart to his father, Scott R. Alt, when Titus was declared dead in July 1945. He had died July 19 three years earlier.

Death missed Russell by 15 minutes. Although he had survived the march from Bataan, his death was ordered for 8 o'clock one morning by the Japs.

Fifteen minutes before the fatal hour, another order came down requiring Russell to take a rigid test as a chauffeur. If he failed it still meant death. He passed, however, and became chauffeur for Tojo, Japan's war leader. Thereafter he was treated well.

Two Survivors

In January of this year Russell and 29 other men were on a plane flying back to the United States when the big ship crashed in the Pacific. Russell and another man were the only survivors.

After a few months in a West Coast military hospital to recuperate, Russell came back home and in the spring he was discharged, only to re-enlist again.

Besides Russell, Mrs. Cosner is

Republicans Make Plans For Coming Election Campaign

Beall Urges Systematic Organization, Support Of Entire Ticket

Systematic organization of each precinct and district in Allegany county is needed for a Republican victory in the November general election, Rep J Glenn Beall of the Sixth District said last night at a meeting of Republican candidates for county offices.

Paul M. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County, presided at the meeting, held in the Knights of Malta Hall, Prospect Square.

Rep. Beall, a candidate for re-election to the House of Representatives, said that all candidates should co-operate with the committee by working in their home precincts to get out the vote and to support the state as well as the county Republican ticket.

"We do carry weight up here," Rep. Beall said. "We must work on getting out the vote, because it will be a strong Republican vote."

Sounds Keynote

Sounding the keynote of the meeting, called to lay plans for the campaign, Fletcher said that the committee's job is to plan widespread support for county and state tickets, because the Allegany county Republican vote may decide the election.

The chairman announced that Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin of Baltimore, Republican candidate for governor, will visit Allegany county September 19 and 20 for community tours, and that a series of county-wide meetings is planned toward the close of the campaign.

George Henderson, candidate for associate judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit expressed his opinion that it is the duty of every Republican candidate to go on a caravan tour of the county, whether the candidate is unopposed or not.

Morgan C. Harris, unopposed in his bid for re-election as state's attorney and therefore automatically returned to office, stated that the Republican party is solid throughout the state and has no disagreeing factions, so that if the necessary work is put into the campaign, McKeldin will be "our next governor."

He reported that McKeldin, in a recent speech, referred to Western Maryland as the "battleground" of the coming election and said that he expected to carry Eastern Shore counties and Baltimore.

Harris concluded by endorsing Rep. Beall's plea for a strong precinct and district campaign organization.

State Sen. Robert B. Kimble, candidate for re-election, urged all Republican candidates to co-operate with the State Central Committee in their home precincts and to support their fellow candidates.

Local Vote Important

Delegate Charles M. See, beginning his fourth campaign for the House of Delegates, said that party workers should concentrate on getting out the Republican vote in Cumberland, and that "we must do the hardest work we have ever done" in the coming campaign.

Others who gave brief talks were Judge J. French VanMeter, unopposed for judge of Orphans' Court; Robert Jackson, renominated without opposition for clerk of the Circuit Court; County Commissioner James Holmes, a candidate for re-election; William H. Lemmert, candidate for County Commissioner; William C. Abbott, candidate for judge of Orphans' Court; Edward R. Muir, candidate for sheriff; three candidates for the House of Delegates, Noel Speir Cook, John T Fey and William H. Geppert; County Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson, Jr., running for re-election; and A. Charles Stewart, candidate for register of wills.

Teamsters Union Requests Contract For Garage Unit

Officials of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, AFL, will meet this morning with Frederick A. Puderbaugh, attorney for 17 local garages, in connection with a contract for some 65 members of the local, C. E. Stutzman, union business manager, said yesterday.

Stutzman said the garage unit of Local 453, formed several months ago, has been unable to reach an understanding with the operators on a working agreement. The union, he said, wants to know whether garages will bargain individually, as a group or at all.

In spite of a conference with the attorney for seven local trucking firms, strikebound since Tuesday morning, union officials reported no progress yesterday toward the settlement of the work stoppage.

Puderbaugh, attorney for the companies, said there is little likelihood of a joint meeting of Cumberland and Hagerstown freight operators since the points of issue are somewhat different in the two cities.

Conciliation Commissioner John Murray, Philadelphia, informed Stutzman by phone yesterday that he had been unable to arrange the joint meeting since Hagerstown operators declined the bid.

Stutzman said he did not expect any developments here until negotiations in New York and Baltimore are settled.

Operators here have presented a solid front since one of their number settled with the union Tuesday afternoon but Stutzman said Local 453 has a two-year contract with the Novick Transfer Company in the Winchester, Va. area and threatened that unless the local has some success soon with the company here the Novick Winchester operations will be stopped.

Recipe Books To Be Distributed At Times-News Cooking School

Real Treat Is In Store For Cumberland Area Women Next Week

A real treat is in store for housewives of the Cumberland area who take pride in collecting recipes, so they will have them handy when they want to prepare something new and delicious for the family and guests.

One of the features of the Times-News Symphony of Foods Cooking School which will be held at the Strand Theater Sept. 10-12 will be presentation of attractive and practical recipe books at each session. These books, will be filled with taste-temping recipes, for all foods, and should be a welcome addition to everyone's recipe collection.

Timely information on meat will be included in each recipe book. Each will contain information on the selection and buying of meat, the identification of meat cuts, planning meals around the meat dish and the nutritive value of this food product.

Each recipe appearing in the books will be demonstated on the programs in such a way that it will be easy for the homemaker to follow every step as Miss Edalene Stohr, noted home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, conducts the school. Each book is entirely different from the others and will tie in with each day's program.

The school, which is being sponsored by the Cumberland Times, the Cumberland News and the Sunday Times, will begin each morning at 9:30 o'clock with the doors opening at 8:50 for early arrivals.

In addition to the educational value of good things to eat, there will be entertainment for all who attend. Valuable gifts will be awarded at the conclusion of each program and will help to make the school a profitable one from start to finish.

Miss Stohr is recognized as a master in her profession. Not only is she a recognized authority on her subject, but as an entertaining and interesting lecturer, she holds the attention of her audiences.

There will be no admission charge for the school and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Announcement Regarding Enlistments Will Be Made In Near Future

Nine reserve army officers met last night at the Maryland State Armory, evidencing their interest in the organization of Maryland National Guard.

The meeting was called by Lt. Col. Oliver H. Bruce, III, recently appointed commander of the first battalion of the 115th Infantry, units of which are to be organized in Cumberland.

Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, executive officer of the 115th Infantry Regiment, 29th Division, also attended the meeting.

Col. Bruce said he has no definite information about the formation and activation dates of local guard units, but has been informed officially that Headquarters Company of the battalion and Company C, a rifle unit, will be organized here.

The rifle unit has a normal strength of 235 men and the Headquarters company has a strength of 84 men.

Col. Millholland said at least 15 officers will be assigned to the National Guard here, and probably more than that number may eventually be appointed.

Those who attended the meeting last night and expressed their personal interest in the formation of local National Guard units included, Major Howard Dickey, already named executive officer to Col. Bruce; Capt. John M. McAlpine, Capt. Ace H. Humbertson, Capt. Robert C. Matilick, Capt. Robert W. Fink, First Lt. Norman E. Goldblatt and First Lt. James C. McGee.

All of the officers except Goldblatt and McAlpine have former National Guard experience in Company G which was mobolized prior to World War II, and left here under the command of Millholland, then a captain. Fink later served in the Maryland State Guard as did McAlpine, but they entered the army during the war and earned commissions.

Col. Bruce indicated last night that an announcement regarding enlistments in the guard should be forthcoming within a few weeks, together with appointment of company officers.
